

CONTENTS.

xxi

COUNTY JAILS—Continued.

Page.

Statement of a New Jersey lawyer, relative to the jails of that state	314
Statement of Mr. Mendenhall, concerning the jails in Ohio	315
Statement of Mr. Mullen and the Philadelphia Prison Society, on the jails of Pennsylvania	315
The jail at Chicago, Illinois	317
The jails at St. Louis and Jefferson City, Missouri	318
The jail at Indianapolis, Indiana	320
The jail at Louisville, Kentucky	320
The jail system in Kentucky	320
The jail at Cincinnati, Ohio	321
Condition of the jails in New York	321
The jails of Illinois, as described by sheriff Wm. P. Crafton	321
The jails of Maryland, as described by warden Thos. C. James	323
The jail system of Massachusetts, as described by secretary Sanborn	325
The jail system of Connecticut	329
An act in Connecticut to take the jails out of the custody of sheriffs	330
The principle of this act incorporated into the legislation of New Jersey	331
Philadelphia Prison Society in favor of its adoption for Pennsylvania	331
Tenure of office of jail-keepers should be permanent	331
Another Howard needed to explore the jails of our country, and a new "State of Prisons" to bring these abuses to light	332
"Legion" is the name of the reforms needed here	332
The system must be replaced by a better	333
What shall it be?	333
1. Prisoners must not be made worse in jail	333
2. Jails must be made simply houses of detention	334
3. Separate imprisonment must be enforced in them	334
4. Religious instruction must be imparted to all, and secular to those who need it	335
5. A central authority must be created, to regulate and supervise the whole system	335

CHAPTER III.

PRISONS INTERMEDIATE BETWEEN THE JAIL AND THE STATE PRISON	337-352
Massachusetts the only state that has a complete system of such prisons	337
Some other states have a few	337
Board of prison inspectors in Canada urging their establishment	337
The system of houses of correction in Massachusetts, as described by Mr. Sanborn	338
Detroit house of correction, a model of its class	339
Notice of its superintendent, Mr. Z. R. Brookway	339
Description of this prison, by Mr. Brookway	340
The bridewell at Chicago, Illinois	344
City workhouse at St. Louis, Missouri	346
City workhouse at Louisville, Kentucky	349
City prison at Cincinnati, Ohio	349
Male and female departments of same in sharp contrast with each other	350
Wretched condition of the male department	350
Female department admirably managed	350
The county penitentiaries of New York the best penal institutions in the state	351
Importance of this class of prisons to complete an adequate prison system	352