Fighting Market.

Big concentrated offerings proved altogether too much of a burden for the nearly exhausted wheat bulls. There was a fighting market early and many shorts were forced to coverbut eventually the bears ruled the pit. The remarkably confident opinions that Kansas, notwithstanding the Hessian fly, would raise a bumper cropformed the chief news development, with which the friends of higher prices had to strucgle. It was asserted also that Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma would harvest nearly 4,000,000 acres more than in 1913.

Enlarged receipts here cut some figure as an element of depression in wheat. As many as 242 carloads came into Chicago today, and deliveries on May contracts have amounted in the last three days to 600,000 bushels. ue has many ne balance on ided, provides ient and does osit to begin

Corn Climbed High.

Corn climbed to within easy hailing do. do Beaver g do. do Beaver g nark. Continued wet weather in Argentina was mainly responsible, but there was in addition a prospect that the Chicago stock would show a reduction for the week. So far there have been no such shipments as expected to this market.
