Hundreds of Toronto's Citizen-Soldiers Are Eager to Join the Transvaal Contingent.

GALLANT O.O.R. HEADS THE LIST

But Now That Something Definite is Known, There Will Be Friendly Rivalry.

Now that it is known for sure that a Canadian contingent is to be sent by the Government to the Transvaal, Toronto's citizen-soldiers are rapidly coming forward and offering their services. The number of men that this city is to send will necessarlly be limited, and, acordingly, only a few clearly shows that, as far as Toronto is concerned, all the talk about the colonies standing by the Mother Country when the Empire is threatened is not mere jingoism. Below will be found the names of those who have already expressed their willingness to go, and before next Friday, which is the day upon which the recruiting begins, it is safe to say hundreds more will have sent in their applications.

London, Oct. 14.—War, so often predicted in these despatches as being the inevitable climax to hopeless negotiations, has come at last, and is now in full swing for the subjection of the little republic whose military sun sets and rises at Majuba Hill. Great Britain has set going machinery more powerful than that which crushed Napoleon, and twice as strong as that which gave her Egypt and the Soudan. General Sir Redvers Buller has gone; and already the Boer bullets have sung a song of desperate defiance.

That the next few weeks will be marked by sharp fighting can almost be taken for granted. That the result will probably be for a time not too favorable to the British is also to be admitted. The main question will be fave that they have staying power sufficient to prolong operations for any length of time.

Ambush Fighting.

"We do not intend to allow the Boers to close with our infantry, although cavalry patrol skirmishes will be unavoidable. The Transvall forces prefer ambuscades, and our difficulty will be to get into contact with them. It is to be hoped that the British India troops will be detailed as an advance guard, for they are well trained in ambush work."

If Buller de allowed to have his way, the number of correspondents at the front may be restricted to a baker's dozen; for, as Kipling says, he does not like the preed. There are now known to be no fewer than 70 special correspondents and artists on the scene of war, and Buller's method of dealing with them is awaited with the keen curlosity of self-interest in London newspaper offices. Equality in South Africa,

Equality in South Africa
The Outlook quotes a member of the Cabinet, whose name is not given, but who is evidently Mr. Char.berlain, as saying in private conversation: "Absolutely equality
-nothing more and nothing less—is what we intend to secure in South Africa. There can be but one fate for the Boer oligarchy, and there can be left no doubt regading
British sovereignty over all South Africa.
When those ends have been attained, the policy of magnanimity and conisderation, such as has made the French-Canadians loyal British subjects, will, I have no doubt, be applied with equal success in South Africa. To destroy ruthlessly the best traditions and amour propre of the Boers would be an act of the supremest folly."
