WANTS "MORE HEROES"

Sir Sam Confirms Report That He Will Tour Quebec.

Montreal, Nov. 3.—Following a review here this afternoon, Sir Sam Hughes confirmed the report that he would make a tour later on in this province in the interests of recruiting...

"Recruiting is going well," he said. "The 65th, here in Montreal, the 9th at Quebec, and other regiments, will form officers during the coming winter..."

Later Sir Sam said that it was most interesting to know that 470,000 men in the house were working for overseas work and nearly 400,000 are in khaki at different points of action.

As soon as the minister of militia begins his military tour of the Province of Quebec, it is understood that the minister will hold one of his first meetings in one of the most populous sections of the province...

The third and closing day of the tractor demonstration at R. J. Fleming's country home, Meadowbrook Farm, was spent yesterday under conditions even more ideal for outdoor work than the two preceding days...

Down around Whitby and Pickering, it was freely stated yesterday that the world's optimistic estimate of the arrival of motor cars approaching the Fleming homestead and a close estimate gives the number north and south of the Kingston road at 1800...

A moderate estimate places the number in each at four persons. In addition there were two rows of carriages each more than three-quarters of a mile long, while the C.P.R. and Grand Trunk Railway carried large crowds to the scene of activity.

In view of the tremendous interest manifested by the farmers and Toronto in the big event, there was some shrewd criticism yesterday among the provincial officers at the fact that not a member of the Ontario Agricultural College staff, Ontario or federal cabinet, was on the ground.

ROUMANIANS FIGHT FOE TO STALEMATE

Throw Teutons Across Frontier in Battle at Table Butzi.

CAPTURE TWO PEAKS

Allies Elsewhere Hold Enemy Without Permitting Him to Pass.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. London, Nov. 3.—Events at places where the Roumanians have pushed back the Germans, and at one place where the Germans say they took 350 prisoners, the fighting on the Transylvanian front has degenerated into a stalemate, with the Teutons lodged part way in several passes. Other passes have been completely cleared of them.

Table Butzi is one of the exceptions to the stalemate. In this region the Germans had been held for two or three weeks, when the Roumanians suddenly fell on them and drove them across the border.

The Roumanians are also progressing in the Buzau Valley. They are engaged in forcing the Germans across this frontier, and they report today the occupation of Mounts Sirial and Taturum in their advance. This success gives them a good vantage point for re-advancing Transylvania.

The Germans assert that southwest of Frested and southeast of Red Tower Pass they made an advance in which they took 350 prisoners. The Germans launched violent attacks on the Roumanian line west of the Prshova Valley, but they made no progress. The Roumanian troops standing firm and repelling the enemy's onsets.

The battle has degenerated into a stalemate and a slightly reduced artillery bombardment about Dragoslavele, in the district north of Kimpolung.

Fighting East of Alt. Violent fighting continues on the whole Roumanian front east of the Alt River and Red Tower Pass, according to Roumanian reports. The river the Roumanians are continuing their pursuit of the foe north of the Vulcan Pass. In this advance they have captured four additional German guns and a quantity of war material.

It is now announced that the Roumanians have completed the regrouping of their armies, and the mobilization of their reserves, and that all commanders have taken over control of certain sections of the front.

The severe Transylvanian winter setting in with its customary rigors, and it is soon expected to make fighting impossible in the Carpathians and the Transylvanian Alps, serving to protect the Roumanian western and northern frontiers.

Prize Crew on Oldsmat Wrecked Vengeance on Steamer.

London, Nov. 3.—Reuter's correspondent at The Hague says an official enquiry will be made regarding the Dutch steamer Oldsmat, which was captured by a German submarine on Wednesday, and later recaptured by a British destroyer, but afterwards capsized when she reached the Hook of Holland, probably from the effect of bombs exploded on her by the German prize crew before the British recaptured her.

The correspondent says that an inquiry into the matter is being conducted by three other Dutch vessels—the steamers Randwyk, Brinswyk and Nerdwyk—which were held up by the German submarine on Wednesday. The vessels were taken into Zeebrugge and subsequently released.

BORDEN MINISTRY SEEKS EXTENSION

United in a common resolve to put forth every effort and to make every sacrifice necessary to ensure the integrity and maintain the honor of our Empire.

He said he could not guarantee all the things Canada had done since the war, not even the headlines, but gave an outline of a few of the things. The total enrollment was 870,000, of whom 233,000 were now overseas and 160,000 are at the front. Since the beginning of the year 141,000 troops had gone over with the portable sawmills and all equipment to cut timber off the British parks and reserves and the forestry battalion was ready to follow the first two. These corps have been of great assistance to the Canadian Medical Service.

Amid applause, he told of the work of the Canadian Army Service Corps, which has twenty convalescent hospitals in Canada and sanitariums for troops who had contracted tuberculosis. One thousand men had been returned, and the majority of them were now in civil life. He said that the Government will place a rule in the civil service by which, wherever possible, returned men were placed in vacancies in the service.

The Canadian Army Service Corps was of great service to the Canadian Government, doing work that was equal to any Canada had in field ambulances. In France, seven general hospitals, with 1040 beds, overseas; eight stationary hospitals of 400 beds, and 37 casualty clearing stations.

These facts he gave because it was said the present position of the Government was not one of publicity, but at the proper time it would have a great story to tell. He said he would be glad to give definite information regarding an election. He was afraid in this regard he could not give any definite information.

Mayor Church spoke at some length regarding the loyal and patriotic citizens of Toronto, and stated that the compilation he desired was one that would make the people of Quebec proud of their duty. No government had ever given better aid and assistance than that in Ottawa and Queen's Park. He wanted the federal government to appoint commissioners in the cities to regulate the sale of food products during war time.

The treasurer's report showed that the association had raised and expended $800 in patriotic projects. The meeting was enthusiastic and as harmonious as an evening song. On the platform with President Wm. Fenwick, who is a retired doctor, were E. V. Owens, K.C., M.L.A.; A. E. Birmingham, C. J. Doughty, A. E. Brown, and Zetlow, Mayor Church, Controller Foster and two returned soldiers.

In the scuffle the revolver was discharged and Helmbolt ran into the next room. Hearing his wife in the room with Whiteside he got a sawed-off shotgun and came back. Whiteside again pointed the revolver and Helmbolt fired twice and then called a doctor. Helmbolt and his wife both contradicted Whiteside's ante-mortem statement.

PLAN TO BREAK THRU

Berlin Seer Contends Presence of Cavalry Betrays Designs.

Berlin, Nov. 3, via London.—Estimates of the Franco-British losses during the four months' offensive on the Somme front emanating from German headquarters in the west give the losses in round numbers at 400,000. The survey places the British losses at 400,000 and those of the French at 150,000. These estimates, the survey says, are regarded as moderate in view of the fact that British casualty lists admit losses of 872,000 to the end of September. That the original purpose was to get thru into the German lines, by the prodigious scale of the preparation and the huge masses of cavalry held in readiness to begin the pursuit of the broken German troops, the writer contends that the claim of the entente allies that the plan of the offensive was not to breach the German lines, but merely to relieve the pressure elsewhere by holding fast a large part of the German forces is only an after-thought invented to cover the evidence in case the offensive fails to reach its objective.
