

MCCURDY'S LATE REPENTANCE

Why Did He Not Speak Sooner and in His Place in Parliament?

Speaking in Truro on Saturday, Hon. B. F. McCurdy said of the government railways— "Let me say further that I always favored intelligent decentralization, and if in the working out of that governing the old intercolonial can be erected with headquarters at a central point within that unit that would seem to me to offer the best and most reasonable solution of present conditions unsatisfactory to many."

Why did not Mr. McCurdy when he had power to fight for the interests of the maritime provinces in this respect do so, when his government was all powerful, instead of waiting until it was on the verge of collapse and defeat? It looks very much like a modern rendering of the old adage, "When the devil is sick the devil a saint will be."

The Times decries a three-column heading announcing this great discovery by Mr. McCurdy; but it admits thereby that the main attack being struck at the government is correct. That blow is the charge that it has deliberately betrayed the interests of the maritime provinces in this respect. Mr. Mackenzie King, in speaking to some of his friends in Moncton on Saturday, said that it was an outrage that we should have to go a thousand miles or so to transact a little business on the Intercolonial Railway.

A FALLING OFF ON BOTH SIDES

Assets and Liabilities of Canadian Banks Both Show a Decrease for August.

Ottawa, Sept. 27.—(Canadian Press)—A further decline in total assets and total liabilities of Canadian banks is shown by the statement covering the month of August, which was issued by the department of finance today. Total assets at the end of August amounted to $2,766,843,321. At the close of the previous month they totalled $2,768,843,321. This is a decrease of $2,000,000 during August. Total liabilities fell from $2,699,238,755 at the end of July to $2,674,747,460 at the close of last month or a falling off of $31,488,275.

MOVE TO EXTEND TARIFF RATES

Washington, Sept. 27.—(Canadian Press)—Leaders on the house ways and means committee today agreed to move to take early steps to extend the emergency agricultural tariff rates after November 27, when they expire. They will do this on the theory that the passage of a permanent tariff revision bill will be delayed indefinitely. They say the permanent bill will not pass until winter is far advanced and they have no assurance it will pass then.

NOTICES OF BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS, 50 CENTS.

BIRTHS. LAWLOR—On Sept. 25, 1921, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Lawlor, 80 Stanley street, a daughter.

DEATHS. HALL—At Somerville, Mass., on Sept. 26, 1921, Dr. Irving C. Hall, leaving his wife and the son and father to mourn. Interment at Somerville, Mass.

MEAHAN—At the Mater Misericordiae Home, Sydney street, on September 16, 1921, Catherine, widow of John Meahan, leaving one son and two sisters to mourn.

FUNERAL—On Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home. Friends invited.

PURDY—In this city on September 23, 1921, George S. Purdy, son of the late John D. Purdy, in the seventeenth year of his age, leaving two brothers to mourn his loss.

YON RICHTER—Suddenly, in New York, on Sunday, Sept. 25th, 1921, Capt. Von Richter, leaving his wife in infant children. Notice of funeral later.

IN MEMORIAM. FINNEGAN—In loving memory of Ruth C. Finnegan, who died Sept. 27, 1917.

MOTHER, FATHER, AND SISTER. CARD OF THANKS. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cummins and family wish to thank their many friends for their kindness in their recent bereavement, also for the beautiful floral tributes.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pickle wish to thank their friends and relatives, the nurses and especially Dr. Bassett at the General Public Hospital, and Prudential Life Insurance Co. for kindness in their recent bereavement.

GRAIN FREIGHT RATES DOWN IN EASTERN STATES

Washington, Sept. 27.—(Special to Times)—Reductions in railroad freight rates on grain, amounting to 12 1/2 per cent will become effective about October 10th, throughout the eastern trunk line and New England territory under an order issued yesterday by the interstate commerce commission.

G. P. R. SUED BY N. B. GOVERNMENT

Loss of Alcohol Out of Seven Casks Shipped at St. Leonard's. (Special to Times) Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 27.—Mr. Justice Chandler presided at the York sittings, court King's Bench, opening here this morning. No grand jury was summoned, as the docket, although large, contained no criminal cases. The provincial government is suing the C. P. R. for the loss of seven casks out of a consignment of eight casks of alcohol shipped at St. Leonard's, the chief inspector at Fredericton. All except one of the casks and contents abstracted, and were found later empty. In this action, the venue was set for York county; McLean and Hughes are for the government, and H. H. MacLean, K.C., and P. R. Taylor, K. C., for the railway. At the request of the defence, which wants more time to prepare, the case goes on till next term. Two suits were entered by the Town of Marysville, against the New Brunswick Pulp and Paper Company, for taxes. One is in the name of the town, and the other in the name of the school board. Hanson and Dougherty filed suit in the former, and McLean and Hughes in the latter. The defendant company, was represented by Winslow and McWalter. Settlement was effected and the cases withdrawn.

REAL ESTATE NEWS. The following property transfers have been recorded: Margaret L. Bishop to T. E. Bishop, property in King street east. Mrs. Jennie Peterson, property in Ward street. R. D. Coldbrook Company to Haley Bros., Ltd., property in Simonds. W. E. A. Lawton, et al., to Charlotte A. Hildey, property in Simonds. H. Irvine, et al., to Mary E. Irvine, property in Simonds. W. E. A. Lawton to Maria S. Lawton, property in Pih street. T. F. Mooney, et al., to E. A. Farren, property in Simonds. W. G. Mills, et al., to A. G. McMillan, property in Lancaster. Helen Parks et al., to C. E. Brown, property in Rockland road. R. W. Queen et al., to A. B. MacKinney, property in Lancaster. R. W. Queen, et al., to D. F. Brown, property in Lancaster. Hilda S. Tait, et al., vir to Melita L. Martin, property in Fairmont. Kings County. B. R. Armstrong to Catherine Crawford, property in Westfield. W. W. Currie to C. W. Osborne, property in Cardwell. W. W. Crawford to G. R. Ewing, property in Westfield. W. P. Flewelling, per extra, to Edith P. Wetmore, property in Kingston. Heirs of Gertrude A. and Hannah Holly to B. R. Armstrong, property in Westfield. Beragh MacKenzie, per extra, to Mary MacKenzie, property in Sussex. W. H. Paget to Joseph Paget, et al., property in Sussex. Joseph Robinson to Clarence Robinson, property in Cardwell.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bostwick, of New York, are at the York. Rev. Francis J. Healey, C.S.S.R., arrived in the city today from Devon where he conducted a mission. He is a guest at St. Peter's rectory today and tomorrow will leave for Montreal. Father Healey was formerly stationed at St. Peter's and has many friends in this city. J. R. Wood and Miss Alliea Wood returned to the city today after a visit to Montreal and Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. John T. MacGowan arrived home today after spending a vacation in Boston and other cities in Massachusetts. Fred J. McDonald left today to attend the exhibition in Charlottetown, P. E. I.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Leary of this city and Mrs. Charles Dowd of Dorchester, Mass., made a hurried trip through the provinces last week, visiting at the home of James Carroll, Melrose, N. B. From there they crossed the Straits to Prince Edward Island and on their way back went to Halifax, where they spent a couple of days with Mrs. William Carroll. Mr. O'Leary is one of the C. P. R. conductors.

Mr. John J. Driscoll and nephew, Fred J. Travers, have returned home from Brooklyn, New York, where they have been visiting for the last three weeks.

Fredericton Gleazer: Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Jaffrey, who have been spending their honeymoon with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Jaffrey, North Devon, left this morning for St. John, where they will spend a few days before returning to Montreal to reside.

Moncton Transcript: Miss Nan Gallagher, who spent some time in Moncton, the guest of Mrs. M. D. Gaudet, returned to St. John on Sunday.

ON JOURNEY HERE BY AUTO SAW SEVEN DEER

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert M. Edgett arrived in the city at noon today by automobile from New York en route to Moncton. They report game very plentiful, having seen seven deer on the journey and between St. George and St. Andrews ran into a flock of partridges. The automobile wheel hit one and killed it.

MOORS ATTACK REPULSED

Melilla, Sept. 27.—(Special to Times)—A vigorous attack upon a Spanish convoy proceeding into the eastern zone of hostilities from this city, it is announced officially. The attack, however, was repulsed, and the Moors were driven off with heavy losses.

WILSON'S BLUE LYE EMWILGILLET COMPANY LIMITED TORONTO, CANADA

LOCAL NEWS. "Studio." Regular dance tonight. Your men's and boys' suits, overcoats and macinknaws for less money. At Bassett's, 14, 16, 18 Charlotte St. 9-28

LOCAL NEWS

POLITICAL. The gossip today is that F. L. Potts is making a bid for the nomination with Hon. J. B. M. Baxter here. Garden party, Provincial Memorial Home for Children, Wright street, Thursday, Sept. 29. 12203-9-29

Thousands and thousands yards of shaker flannel, mill ends, for 14 cents a yard. Get some at Bassett's, 14, 16, 18 Charlotte street. 9-28

Furs efficiently repaired and remodelled. 94 St. James' street. SAVE YOUR OLD BOOTS. Don't throw away your old boots; we dye them and make them good as new Imperial Clear Shoe, corner King and Charlotte streets. 12159-9-30

Men! A solid leather pair of boots for you or your boys for less money. At Bassett's, 14, 16, 18 Charlotte street. 9-28

Garden party, Provincial Memorial Home for Children, Wright street, Thursday, Sept. 29. 12203-9-29

TEMPERANCE MEETING. It will be of interest to all to hear that J. D. O'Connell, who has merited the title of the "Orphan's Friend," will address a temperance meeting in the Knights of Pythias hall on Friday evening. Rev. H. A. Goodwin will also speak.

POWER CLUB DANCE. St. John Power Boat Club will hold a dance for members and their friends at the club house Wednesday, 28th, dancing 8 to 12.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES. In the Reformed Baptist church, Carleton street, Evangelist Archibald is conducting revival meetings every night this week at 8:30, except Saturday. Come and hear him. Everybody welcome.

WEST END FAIR. Fair in aid of building fund and orphans opens in Carleton Curling Ring Thursday, 29th inst. Door prizes every night. Country store a specialty. 12210-4-30

OFF TONIGHT IN HOUSE LEAGUE IN Y. M. C. I. ALLEYS

The Y. M. C. I. House Bowling League will open its season of 1921-22 this evening at 8 o'clock when the Robins will clash with the Hawks. His Worship Mayor Schofield will roll the first ball and declare the league officially opened. The league this year consists of the Sparrows, the Robins, Gulls, Swans, Eagles, Falcons and Hawks. There has been a good deal of shifting around of players and as much interest has been already rolled, it is probable that last year's record of having twenty players with an average about ninety for the season, will be broken.

IN IRELAND

Belfast, Sept. 27.—Two men were wounded during scattered shooting affairs here last night, but in the eastern section of the city, where serious riots occurred yesterday, the night passed quietly. Crown troops today occupied strategic points in the disturbed area. Murty McStocker, who was shot in street fighting here on Saturday night, was made the occasion for a demonstration by his friends in the coffin, wrapped in the republican tricolor, was taken from East Belfast to Falls Road. Street car traffic in both halves was suspended during the funeral.

EAST ST. JOHN MAKES MOVE TO HAVE POLICEMAN

A meeting of the Community Club of East St. John was held last evening in Edith Avenue hall. It was decided to organize a campaign to increase the membership and endeavor to have every family in the community represented, also to take steps to secure police protection. The latter was left with the executive to take necessary steps to arrange for an appointment. A discussion also took place regarding fitting up a room in the new school house for public meetings.

NEWS NOTES UNDER STOCK BROKERS' WIRES

(Special wire to McDougall & Cowans) New York, Sept. 27.—Vote so far taken shows railroad workers favor strike against wage cut, but leaders may not sanction action. General Electric Co. again cuts wages and salaries of all employees ten per cent. Commerce commission authorizes carriers in Eastern trunk line and New England territory to reduce rates on grain and grain products. Vice-President Atterbury of Pennsylvania railway says railroad's wages must be reduced or government operation or bankruptcy will result. Liberty or victory bonds touched highest price of the year on unusually heavy trading.

GOING WELL

The Wise Will Get C. C. Band Prize Tickets Early.

Just a word of caution. A good many people, by the late big drawing of the City Cornet Band around the world prizes, lost opportunity to win $500, $250 or other amounts by delaying purchase of tickets until everyone had been sold. The wise people will not put themselves in that position this year. Tickets are going well, and there is fear that the late-comers may find themselves disappointed. Two reasons are making the tickets go fast—first, the big opportunity they give to win a large sum and, second, the universal desire to show practical appreciation of the splendid service given the community. The band now needs new instruments and uniforms and it looks as if the people have decided that they shall have them. All the bandsmen have tickets for sale and they will be sold rapidly during the fair, the grand opening of which will take place in St. Andrew's rink tomorrow evening. Plan to be there and help to fund the band the big send off it deserves.

HIGH ANGLICAN VIEW OF UNION

Church Times Fears Canadian Churchmen May be Drawn Into the Scheme. London, Sept. 10.—(By mail).—Canadian may be interested in the British High Anglican view of the union of the churches movement as it is presented from Canada. The Church Times, the English journal of the High Church party, devotes a long editorial to the subject. It regards the future union of Presbyterians, Methodists and Independents to constitute "the United Church of Canada" as a scheme to which the three communities are too deeply committed to draw back, and it evidently rather fears that the efforts being made to bring in a fourth partner, the Anglican Church, may be successful. "High churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going on, and the Rev. W. G. Wood, minister of the Presbyterian assembly preached the other day in St. Paul's, Toronto, by invitation of Dr. Cody, who had the assistance of a minister of the Methodist church of Melbourne. The event, it seems, had been well advertised beforehand, and brisk journalists stated next morning that 'history' had been made. The moderator preached what is called a simple and old-fashioned sermon on sin and salvation, which is good to hear, "high churchmen in Canada," it says, "are few and weak; if necessary, they can be eliminated or ignored. Interchange of pulpits is already going