"I tell you, gentlemen," said the great explorer to the crowd in the hotel smok- ing room, who were listening breathless- ly to his recital, "you can't imagine what things are like out in the Arctic re- gions."

"O, I don't know," said one. "Even if we haven't seen it, we can imagine what it feels like."

"I doubt it. It's impossible until you've really seen it; until you've stood there, a small, insignificant atom, sur- rounded by vast stretches of white."

"O, yes, I know! I've been like that."

"Really! And where was that, may I ask?"

"First time I appeared in public in a dress shirt!"
