BAY ROBERTS, FRIDAY, SEPT. 10, 1913.

Bond Should Be Driven from Public Life

So Says Coaker

When the announcement was made some few weeks ago that Sir Robert Bond had decided to associate himself with Coaker and conclude an amalgamation with him to secure the support of the Fishermen's Union, some of the supporters of Sir Robert Bond in this district threw up their hats in jubilation, while others shook their heads and predicted disaster to the party.

The cool, level-headed supporters of Sir Robert publicly regretted that he should have allied himself with "that fellow Coaker" who had so roundly blackguarded him and the Liberals for four or five years and had helped somewhat to bring about their defeat in 1908. They predicted the alliance would prove disadvantageous to the party, and that Sir Robert Bond would lose more than he could gain by associating himself with Coaker. Their prediction is already verified in this district. Scores of old-time supporters of the Liberal Party are openly disclaiming connection with the amalgamated party. They make no secret of their resentment to Sir Robert's action in taking into partnership their recent bitter enemy and traducer, and assert that a meeting of the party's supporters, representative of every district in the country, should have been called and their opinions obtained before such a radical step was taken. We have heard representative men from every settlement in Conception Bay express their opinions of the alliance, and they are practically unanimous in their condemnation of the political chique in St. John's for their arrogant proceedings in connection with the Coaker-Bond alliance. It makes it impossible for self-respecting and independent supporters of the party to continue their allegiance or to recognize the present party as the Liberal Party to which they formerly gave their support.

Speaking to one of the best known Liberals in Conception Bay a few days ago he denounced in unmeasured terms the coterie at St. John's that was responsible for cajoling Bond into an alliance with his bitter traducer, and the rabid and relentless enemy of every man in the country who by industry has built up a business into which he has put his capital and a lifetime's labor. He said that by this action Sir Robert has confirmed Coaker's opinion of him that he is unfit to be a leader of any party.

We believe that the generality of the electors of this country will

Pains Have Vanished

Neuralgia Completely Cured. The cure of Mrs. H. L. Barrett, Oakville, P. Q., is another victory by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mrs. Barrett says: "I suffered intensely from neuralgia in the head, face and shoulders. I had used various medicines without relief. I heard of Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it, and I bless the day I did. I took it several months and now feel well. All my pains have vanished." Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

Alleged Ill-Treatment

A 14-year-old boy of Sandy Cove, Port de Grave, was, it is alleged, very badly handled by a man of the same place about two weeks ago. It appears that several boys, including a son of the owner of the boat, took the boat to go for a short row. The owner appeared on the scene and requested them to return, which they did. All escaped him but one, and it is alleged that he took this boy and threw him into the water and subsequently handled him so badly that a doctor had to be sent for. The case came before Judge Oke for hearing on Thursday, but at the defendant's request it was transferred to Epiguon.

People's Party Strong North

From reliable information we learn that the People's Party in the northern districts are as strong if not stronger today than they were in the spring of 1909, notwithstanding Coaker's statements to the contrary. It is true that Coaker has a certain following, composed mainly of old-time Liberals and a few disgruntled individuals who like to be against a government, anyway. But the electors who supported the People's Party in the last election are, in the main, remaining loyal and true, while others have been added to the ranks. Coaker, no doubt, would have got some support had he stuck to his guns and went before the electorate with a Union Party, having no connection with Bond or Morris. But now that he has enslaved himself with the old Liberal Party, stores of his would-be supporters will have nothing to do with him. The same is true of large numbers in this section.

Coaker has not yet told the public who offered him $250,000.

Next Tuesday's Gazette will likely name the day for nomination and polling.

The family of Mr. Edward Sparkes, French's Cove, returned home from Bell Island on Saturday night last.

Mr. Andrew Wood returned from South Sydney, C. B., by Saturday night's express.

Mr. Herbert Sparkes, who was fishery warden at Isle au Bois, returned home recently.

Look out for an article on 'Socialism or New Testament Christianity,' which will appear in next week's Guardian. It is written by a Bay Roberts boy who is gradually climbing to the top and making a name for himself in his chosen profession—the Ministry.

and blush. He won't blush, Mr. Editor, because 'Where ignorance is bliss,' etc. Mr. Editor, none of us know as much of the English language as will hurt us, but we do know this, that a boy in the third form of a Bay Roberts school could not take four from five. If 'Teacher' will explain this deficiency on the part of a school-boy we will forgive him for wrapping himself round with a garment of singular and plural verbs where a statement is made which is of far more importance than the method of making it.
