The fact is that printers, like everybody else, require a holiday occasionally. They cannot be expected to do much work Christmas times, "ours being no exception to the rule. If the Advance, therefore, is not as full as usual, we beg our patrons will, no doubt, readily overlook any omissions and assist in lieu thereof the compliments of the season.

York County is to have an election to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the death of the late Mr. John Richard. York has always been a Liberal constituency and whoever may be the Candidate in the interest of that party will, no doubt, be handsomely returned. The late Mr. Richard was so generally known throughout the County and his personal popularity was so great that it is probable to be expected—should the Tories put up a man—that his successor in the Liberal interest will be returned by a majority so large as his, but it is gratifying to know that there are unmistakable indications of an increasing Liberal sentiment among the men of York which is strong enough to "hold the fort" in any case. The names of several gentlemen are mentioned as probable candidates on the Liberal side. The Liberals appear to look generally to Mr. Geo. F. Gregory, while the names of Messrs. Alex. Gibson, Jr., and Sheriff Sterling have also been mentioned. We understand that Mr. Sterling—though a very popular man, who would doubtless be acceptable to the party—does not wish to go to Ottawa just now, while Mr. Gibson is probably of the same mind. In any case the party will centre on the man finally selected as the best and, then, the managers on the other side will have their hands full of candidates of their own and will be obliged to make the best arrangements possible to render their defeat as light as possible. Among the aspirants on the Government side we hear of Sheriff Temple, whose claims are those of a political master; Mr. Fisher, who has been so often defeated that he has learned to like it; and Mr. Wetmore, M. P. E., who would like to run, just to try his luck, but for the fact that it would involve the resignation of his seat in the local House and, like a sensible man, he thinks the latter—rather than the drawback of the leadership of the opposition—better than no legislative honor at all. Mr. Wetmore knows York too well, now, to face her electors, so it is probable that he will keep what he has, and be thankful. On the whole, this is not a very good time in which to present Tory candidates, and our friends of that political stripe will exercise a wise discretion if they keep quiet in York for the present.

Rogersville. "The Rogersville Matter" is the subject of another letter in the World with reference to the Rogersville case. It is gratifying to see that the "responsibility" and "respectability" of our correspondents at Rogersville, charges the ADVANCE and its correspondents with "outrageous, shame, or fear," and proceeds to a metaphorical disquisition on a rotten egg. Then comes this choice sentence: "In the meantime the assassin, still hidden and protected in the Miramichi defence office, shielded by brass, continues to fire his arrows on the poor settlers of Rogersville. Let the ADVANCE, if it be gratifying to it, continue to encourage such promoters of discord at the expense of the dignity and honor of the press and public honesty." When our irate friend cools off a little he will, with the aid of logical mind, like the equilibrium, realize that while the above may seem to him very powerful in its way, it is really both ridiculous and vulgarly impertinent. And while we have no wish to irritate Father Richard, it might further irritate Father Richard, if he might not be amiss to suggest that the dignity and honor of the press are quite as jealously guarded by the ADVANCE as are the dignity and good taste, which should always characterize the clergy, by himself. After the figure he has cut in this whole matter his attempt to pose as a professor of dignity is a joke that will be enjoyed by all his friends at this festive season of the year. In his closing paragraph our rev. friend seems, like Gloucester, immortalized by Shakspeare, to cast away his unsavory metaphors, abandon his temporary taste for calling hard names, and, in a few words, say: "Richard is himself again."

For my part I will continue to encourage our correspondents to defend the rights due to the rights and private privilege of others, to promote good will, good feeling, good citizenship, so that the rights of all being equally and equally respected, the portion of all the citizens of our new and prosperous country. We know Father Richard would come around all right in the end, and as it is Christmas time we will forgive all the nasty little things he has been pleased to write about us, and say that he will always, as in the past, find us ready to assist him in the programme he thus outlines; only, let him bear with us in

The two Temperance Acts. Those of our temperance friends who favor the retention of the present Temperance Act sometimes object the discouraging experience of the past three years with the hope that the new Liquor License Act, by providing inspectors specially charged with the duty of enforcing the Canada Temperance Act, will render that law more effective. They also argue that the Liquor License Act should not be adopted because its validity is disputed and must be settled by the Courts before the Act will be efficient. The two ideas are somewhat inconsistent and it may be well to mention the fact in order to prevent misapprehension. If the Liquor License Act is unconstitutional there can be no Commissioner or Inspector clothed by it with authority to prosecute offenders against the Scott Act, because the whole Act must fall if the grounds on which its validity is challenged be sustained. This fact, which we presume needs only to be stated to be accepted, will show that it is hardly sound to argue that the Scott Act should be maintained because the Liquor License Act may be unconstitutional. Further, it is worthy of mention and consideration that other sections of the Liquor License Act, besides those relating to the duties of inspectors, are so connected with the Scott Act that any attempt to operate the latter will inevitably raise the question of the validity of the former. This, at least, is our opinion and, if correct, it is a strong reason why there is no force in the argument that we ought to retain the Scott Act because the acceptance of the other will involve the settlement through the courts of its validity. It seems evident to us that we shall

a closing suggestion—all "the poor settlers" of Rogersville and the other little colonies he has done so much towards establishing are equally entitled to his sympathy and good offices, and he should especially guard himself against being imposed upon by designing men who may be quite indifferent as to whether good feeling prevails in the community or not, so long as they can secure his assistance in promoting their pet interests.

Over-Valuation. If further argument against the present high protective policy of our tariff laws were necessary it is found in the special report of the chief of the special agents of the custom service just transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury. In his annual report Special Agent Martin is charged that the undervaluation of invoices was of common occurrence, and that by this means importers defrauded the Government of many thousands of dollars annually. This statement is denied by several importers, and to substantiate his charge he prepared this supplementary report, which shows that it is the common among European merchants to undervalue their goods in some cases as much as 80 per cent. in order to avoid the duty imposed on them on this side. This system of undervaluation was carried on through the firm composed of European exporters and American importers, and is carried to the greatest lengths by dealers in silks, gloves, aniline dyes and carpet wools, but is not confined to the above named articles. The American States, incapable of paying the duties on the goods imported from Europe, had no other recourse but to undervalue their goods. He had no other recourse but to undervalue their goods. He had no other recourse but to undervalue their goods.

A Dreadful Murder. A shocking illustration of the effect of lawlessness comes from Carleton Place, Ontario, which seems to maintain a most unfortunate reputation in this respect. On Monday 17th inst., Gustave Lantime proceeded to the residence of his cousin, Phillis Lantime, to assist in the construction of a house. The house was situated a short distance from the village of Carleton and is only a small place. The house was situated a short distance from the village of Carleton and is only a small place. One-half a Million of Dollars for Postage. George Stanton & Co., the calculating Art Publishers, of Portland, Maine, undoubtedly pay more money for postage stamps than any other firm in the world; for the last five years their postage bill has averaged over two thousand dollars per week, making a grand aggregate of five hundred and twenty thousand dollars; this is about the three-hundredth part of all postage of every description collected by the United States Government during that time, and in this connection it may be borne in mind that the country now has over fifty million souls, and fifty thousand post-offices. The enormous sum paid for stamps only the cost of sending the light packages, letters and circulars, for large heavy packages are sent by express and freight. Messrs. Stanton & Co. publish every description of pictures of the better class, and their trade now extends over the entire world. As an illustration of the fact that their business has reached the furthest parts of the earth, the following may be interesting: A short time since, an order for an assortment of over three thousand large and expensive pictures was received from the friends of the most glorious of the world, the Emperor of South Pole. Not many years ago Tasmania was a penal colony of England, and its population was entirely of convicts and their keepers. Since the removal of the convicts, it has become a thriving colony; this place is remote, that months are required for an answer to letters, tons of pictures are sent to America by Messrs. Stanton & Co., and West Africa sends to Portland for v of any where trade in every quarter of the globe where civilization has gained a footing. Commencing at the bottom, they have worked their way up to the top, step by step, and thereby, added to the great push and enterprise, they have taken solid practical experience and skill necessary to the best results, in all things. They carry in stock millions of pictures, and are at a moment's notice ready to fill a five cent order, or one for a hundred dollars, they employ some five hundred artists, clerks, and workmen; their machinery and appointments are on a magnificent scale, and a trade of ten thousand dollars a day, on an average, is regularly done. After the battle of 1857, their assortment of steel plates is especially fine, and ranks very high in artistic merit; many thousands of dollars are often spent on a single plate. They appreciate the value of a printer's work, and therefore they advertise largely and liberally in the newspapers—newspaper advertising an important factor in laying the foundation of a business, and, without it, they state that it would have been utterly impossible for them to have reached their present position.

General Notes and News. Henri Martin, the well known French historian, is dead. The Tories seem to have abandoned all idea of opposing Sir Richard Cartwright in South Huron. Mr. West, Liberal, has been elected to the Bath Parliament to represent the Cobbold, Conservative, deceased. Hon. Senator McMillan has purchased the Albert County Maple Leaf, paying therefor, it is said about $3,000.—Jus. The Board of Education of Brooklyn has decided that colored children shall be received in the public schools on the same terms as white children. The organization of a secret society to protect her roots in Camden County, N. J., was followed last week, by the shooting of a negro chicken-bird. It is reported that the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. has applied to the Government to allow them to withdraw their deposit, while continuing the guarantee. An election to decide upon a petition for the repeal of the Scott Act now in force, there will be held in Prince County, P. E. I., on the 7th of February. A young man near Belleville, Ill., after attempting on Wednesday 19th, to murder a girl, tried to kill the officer who arrested him, and in doing so shot himself dead. The Dominion Government have offered Hon. Mr. Mowbray a judgeship in consideration of his resignation of the Quebec judgeship. Mr. Mowbray has accepted. Ex-police officer Wm. Corry, of New York, who killed Peter Keenan with his club and pistol, and was convicted of murder in the first degree, has been sentenced to be hanged on the 8th of next February. Patrick Moyley, who recently returned from America and rented a farm near Galway, from which he had been ejected, was shot dead by known assassins. Republican National Committee, Kingston, has selected Chicago and held the place and date for holding the next national convention, to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President, and adopt a platform and trans-act business. The annual meeting of Plymouth, N. B., took place last week, the assistant pastor, Mr. Holliday, took a dismal view of the condition of the church. He said it was difficult to discover the names of members, the Sunday school was a standstill and the Bethel was decreased. Year by year the contributions are going off until they have reached a miserable condition. Sir Leonard Tilley at an interview in Toronto the other day with the promoters of an iron smelting scheme, gave them very little encouragement. They want the duty on pig iron raised to six dollars a ton. The Finance Minister was more favorable to admitting books for public libraries duty free. At a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council in Toronto recently, the legislative committee report protests against the granting of assisted passages to immigrants and the condition of the Canada, to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President, and adopt a platform and trans-act business. A short time ago a little girl at Spout's Falls, Digby Co., died very suddenly. As the cause of death was unknown a post mortem examination was made and resulted in it being discovered that the girl had swallowed a snuff-bowl, which stuck in her throat without forming an impediment serious enough to be much inconvenience, but the warmth of the girl's blood had caused the bowl to burst and spread, eventually resulting in her death.—Yarmouth Times. A London despatch of 20th says:—A meeting was held last evening in Exeter Hall at which Lord Lorne delivered a lecture upon Canada. Sir Alexander T. Gait introduced Lord Lorne, and the assembly, in doing so he disapproved of the Catholic Irishmen of Canada, any sympathy with the atrocious sentiments in the Penins of New York. He declared that the Irishmen of Canada were a pest and contented as the natives of England. Paris despatch says:—Sarah Bard, a satirical biography on Sarah Bard, written by a former friend, Colombar, has been the cause of a storm among the friends of the most glorious of the world, the Emperor of South Pole. Not many years ago Tasmania was a penal colony of England, and its population was entirely of convicts and their keepers. Since the removal of the convicts, it has become a thriving colony; this place is remote, that months are required for an answer to letters, tons of pictures are sent to America by Messrs. perused by Sarah, who smashed everything in the way. Meanwhile the friends of the woman indulged in a free fight in another part of the house. It is stated that the affair will lead to a number of deaths. One has gone from home to hear news. "Max Muller," we learn from a recent telegram, "writes to the Athenaeum that Charles Leland is doing a useful work among the Red Indians of New Brunswick; that he has induced them to communicate to him the traditional national songs, and superstitions, and also the art, which they once possessed, of making wampum strings." The next thing Charles had better do is to inform the public whether Indians are to be found, as some of the existing inhabitants of the Province know of any such beings nor yet of their "strings of wampum."

A despatch to the London Times, from Kharthoum, 18th inst., says that a well known native, who was with Hicks Pasha's army, has returned here from El Ghail; whence he reports the news because of his black color and because he was no uniform. He says that Hicks Pasha fought like a lion and was the last officer to fall. The members of his staff all died. After the battle 1500 British soldiers were found wounded. El Mahdi gave orders that none of the wounded should be ill-treated. The bodies of European and Egyptian officers were deposited in the British hospital, and the bodies of El Mahdi were buried over the gate of El Obeid.
