BY THE WAY

Go!

Glorious weather!

"He smiles while he sleeps." Who?

Emblematic of "purity"---Tomatoes.

You can deliver only one vote, and that is your own.

Some members of the human family should be muzzled.

Now is the time for weddings, and other social rinktams.

The whim of resuming prosperity rounds throughout the town.

Be guided by conditions as they really exist. Never mind sentiment.

We will soon have the days that be-taken the break up of the season.

Three to one on Laurier may not be argument, but its a pretty good symptom.

What you know isn't what other men ell you, but what you dig out of your-elf for others.

Speaking of hypnotism, what we want is the hypnotic power to make other people think our clothes are new.

Talk, talk, talk cadaverous friend, our opposition only strengthens us with he people as a whole. No one takes you seriously.

The head of the information bureau has been very busy for the last week. If some little domestic affairs have escaped his notice, it was owing to pressure of other matters.

He (at the end of the fishing story)---My word it was a monster. Pun my soul, I never saw such a fish in my life.

She---No, I don't believe you ever did.

---Punch.

"I want to do some shopping today, dear," said a fond wife---"that is, if the weather is favorable. What is the fore-cast?"

At the other end of the table her hus-band, consulting his paper, read aloud: "Rain, hail, snow, thunder, lightning and floods."---The Pathfinder.

"John," said the candidate's wife, you promised me to quit chewing tobacco.

"So I did."

"Then what are those stains around your mouth?"

"That's molasses, dear. I've been kissing babies."---Louisville Courier Journal.

The Tory M. P.'s, at Ottawa, placed a bouquet on Mr. George E. Foster's desk on his return from the bye-election in Colchester last fall. We wonder if they provided George Eulas with the "Choice Tomato" can to preserve them in.---Hal-fax Chronicle.

Admix mixed with gravel make ex-celent roads with little expense. The material is spread thickly over the road, then rolled and soaked with water. The hot summer sun bakes it until it becomes as hard and smooth as a macadamized road. Respectfully submitted for next season.

REPRESENTATION AT OTTAWA

The parliamentary representation at Ottawa will be larger after the next Dominion election than at present. The last general elections for the House of Commons were held on November 3rd, 1904 and 214 members were elected. The representation now is as follows:

Ontario	86
Quebec	65
Nova Scotia	18
New Brunswick	13
Manitoba	10
Saskatchewan	6
Alberta	6
British Columbia	6
Prince Edward Island	2
Yukon Territory	1

Under the act passed during the session of the Dominion parliament of 1906-7 to read just the representation of the two western provinces in the House of Commons, Saskatchewan upon the dis-solution of the present parliament will be divided into ten constituencies and Alberta into seven. The representation will, therefore be increased from 214 to 221 in the next parliament.

In connection with the increased representation it is interesting to note that the representation of the extreme eastern and the extreme western part of the Dominion is equally divided. The Maritime provinces have a representa-tion of 35 in the House while the pro-vinces west of Lake Superior (including the Yukon Territory) have also a representation of 35.

The Liberals of Vancouver have nominated as their candidate for the Commons; Mr. W. W. B. McInnes, Ex-Governor of the Yukon. Mr. McInnes was elected to the Com-mons at the general elections of 1896, and was given the honor of moving the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.
