

LOVE THE UNDOING OF TWO SPIES OF CONFEDERATE ARMY

It was in June, 1862, that two men, who had been in the uniform of the United States Army, entered the lines of the Union army near Franklin, Tenn., and introduced themselves as Colonel Auton, of the Army of the Potomac, and Major Dunlop, assistant in the inspection of the Western troops. They said they had been assigned to make a report of conditions in that part of the country, but had been lost in coming from Murfreesboro and were now anxious to make their way, as soon as possible, to Nashville. It was imperative that they proceed on their mission that night, and they asked that the necessary passes be made out at once. Colonel Baird, who was in charge at the moment, was very much impressed with the personality of the two men. They had an air of distinction that was not to be denied. He was still further impressed when Colonel Auton informed him, confidentially, that they were financially embarrassed, and solicited the loan of $100 until they reached Nashville. He explained that they had started out with ample funds, but that they had been attacked by Confederates, who had captured their servants and robbed them in the bargain. They had escaped with difficulty, and now threw themselves upon the generosity of Colonel Baird.

He would have given them the money at once, but it happened that he did not have that amount in his possession, and he called upon a fellow officer to loan it to him. This officer was sceptical and hinted that the men might not be what they represented themselves to be. Then the Colonel asked the strangers for their credentials. They at once produced an official envelope which contained a paper signed by General Garfield, stating that they had shown the same to his rank and mission. Everything was in regular order, so the good hearted officer gave them their passes and part of the money they had asked.

After they had left Colonel Baird, for the first time, felt misgivings about them. It may just be possible, he mused, that they had deceived him with papers forged for the occasion. A terrible thought flashed through his mind: Could they be spies? Acting upon the suspicion, he summoned one of his officers and instructed him to follow the strangers, and as soon as he had overtaken them to bring them back upon any pretense which might come to mind. The man followed instructions and taking one of the swiftest horses in camp, started in pursuit of the handsomely attired strangers. In less than half an hour he found them, quietly proceeding on their way, and informed them that Colonel Baird wished them to return in order to carry some papers for him to Nashville. They obligingly returned and were shown to a tent that had been set up for their benefit. Presently Colonel Auton peered out into the darkness of the night, and found that the tent was surrounded by armed guards. He realized the meaning of this at once. They were prisoners.

In the meanwhile Colonel Baird had not permitted the grass to grow under his feet. He telegraphed to General Garfield asking him if there were two men in the Union army named Colonel Auton and Major Dunlop, and if so to telegraph a description of them. Presently came an angry report from Garfield saying that there were no such men in the army and asking why he had been queried. Baird sent full details at once, and then came the reply:

"The two men are no doubt spies. Call a drumhead court martial to-night, and if they are spies hang them before morning without fail."

They were tried by the grim method which has been prescribed for such cases, and they were found guilty and condemned to death. At the conclusion of the trial the supposed Colonel Auton admitted that he was Colonel L. O. Williams, and his companion said that he was Lieutenant Walter G. Peters, and that both of them were connected with the Confederate army. But both united in protesting that they had not come to the camp to gain information, and insisted that they were not spies—as the term is understood in military parlance.

Colonel Baird was impressed with their sincerity, even though he could not get them to admit why they had come into the camp in disguise and bearing false names. He must have been impressed with the manners of the handsome strangers. He was reluctant to believe they were ordinary spies, and he consented to listen to their plea for mercy. But time was passing. It was near the break of dawn. He sent a pathetic plea to Garfield: "Must I hang them?"

Garfield never answered that telegram, but just before the first rays of dawn streaked the sides he received a message from a member of the General Staff. It read:—"The general commanding directs that the two spies, if found guilty, be hanged at once."

So the word was passed to the prisoners and they prepared to enter eternity. They admitted the justice of their sentence, but to the last protested that they were not spies. Colonel Williams wrote a message to the girl to whom he was betrothed and sent to his sister. Lieutenant Peters wrote a letter to his parents, and then the two daring men were taken out by a squad and hanged to a tree.

WHEN THE STOMACH IS WRONG LIFE SEEMS TO BE A BURDEN

Indigestion Comes With a Debilitated and Run-Down Condition of the System and Can Be Cured Through Enriching the Blood.

There are many symptoms of indigestion, such as acute pain after eating, belching of wind, nausea and vomiting, bloating and pains in the region of the heart, a dread of food for the misery it causes. Dieting and the use of pre-digested foods may give ease, but can't cure—they only further weaken the stomach. The work of digestion depends upon the blood and the nerves and the only way to cure indigestion is to tone up the stomach through the blood to do the work nature intended it should do. The very best way to cure indigestion is through a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renew the blood, strengthen the nerves and enable the stomach to do its work with ease and comfort. Neglected indigestion means prolonged misery, and a more difficult cure. If you have any of the symptoms of this trouble try the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once, and you will be gratified with the results.

APPETITE FAILED.

Mr. Daniel Dexter, Liverpool, N. S., says: "For years I was a great sufferer from indigestion. I was troubled with gas on the stomach which caused disagreeable sensations. I was also frequently troubled with nausea and vomiting, which were very distressing. As a result of my trouble my appetite almost completely failed, and what I did eat caused me constant pain. I was continually doctoring, but did not get any benefit, and had about made up my mind that I would suffer for life. One day a friend asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and while I had not much hope of a cure I decided to do so. I had only taken a few boxes, however, when I found they were helping me. Very gradually then I continued the use of the pills, and in less than three months I was as well as ever I had been, able to eat a hearty meal, and to feel that life was again worth living. I had also ment from the use of the pills, and I had been troubled from time to time with attacks of rheumatism, and the use of the pills cured this as well as the indigestion. It is now over a year since I took the pills, and in that time I have had no return of the trouble."

FOOD TURNED SOUR.

Mrs. J. Harris, Gerrard street, Toronto, says: "About three years ago I was seized with a severe attack of indigestion and vomiting. My food seemed to turn sour as soon as I ate it, and I would turn so deathly sick that sometimes I would fall on the floor after vomiting. I tried home remedies, but they did not help me. Then I went to a doctor who gave me some powders, but they seemed to make me worse. This went on for nearly two months and by that time my stomach was in such a state that I could not keep down a drink of water and I was wasted to a skeleton and felt that life was not worth living. I was not married at this time and one Sunday evening on the way to church with my intended husband I was taken with a bad spell on the street. He took me to a drug store where the clerk fixed up something to take, and my intended got me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By the end of the first week I could feel some improvement from the use of the pills, and I gladly continued taking them until every symptom of the trouble was gone, and I was again enjoying the best of health. These pills are now my standby and I tell all my friends what they did for me."

SUFFERED GREAT DISTRESS.

Mrs. Albert Hall, Sonya, Ont., says: "I have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with wonderful results. For two years I was a great sufferer from indigestion which almost made me a physical wreck. At times my sufferings were so great that I was unable to attend to my household duties. I had smothering spells at times and was afraid to lie down to rest. After every meal, no matter how sparingly I ate, I suffered great distress. I tried several doctors but their medicine did not seem to help me in the least. I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised to cure this trouble and decided to try them. I had not been taking them long when I felt somewhat improved. This improvement continued and after taking ten boxes I could eat and digest all kinds of food and felt better than I had done for years. You may be sure I am again grateful for the wonderful relief these pills have given me. I know they are also a cure for anemic sufferers, as an intimate friend of mine was badly affected with this trouble and after taking several boxes she was entirely cured."

If you are suffering from any form of stomach trouble, or any of the other ailments due to weak, watery blood, do not waste time and money experimenting with other remedies, but begin Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once. These Pills have proved a cure in thousands of cases, and should do so in yours. Sold by all dealers in medicines or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Send Nuxated Iron to your Boy in Camp

General Gibson Says He Feels that every Soldier Who Goes to the Front Should Take Nuxated Iron

Dr. Francis Sullivan Explains Why It Helps to Increase Strength and Endurance and Build Up Weak, Nervous, Run-Down Folks.

What every soldier most needs is tremendous "stay power," strength, power and endurance, with nerves of steel and blood of iron. To help produce this result there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron, says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept., New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "I believe if General Gibson's advice were followed many of our fighting men would find it of great benefit. In my opinion there is nothing better than organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for enriching the blood and helping increase strength, energy and endurance."

General Horatio Gates Gibson says Nuxated Iron has brought back to him in good measure that old buoyancy and energy that filled his veins in 1847 when he made his triumphant entry with General Scott into the City of Mexico and he feels that every soldier should take Nuxated Iron.

Another remarkable case is that of General David Stuart Gordon, noted Indian fighter and hero of the battle of Gettysburg. General Gordon says: "When I became badly run-down this year, I found myself totally without the physical power to come back as I had done in my younger days. I tried different so-called 'tonics' without feeling any better, but finally I heard of how physicians were so widely recommending organic iron to renew red blood and rebuild strength in worn-out bodies. As a result I started taking Nuxated Iron and within a month I had risen again to my former vitality and made me feel strong again, giving me endurance such as I never hoped to again possess."

Another interesting case is that of General John Lincoln Clem, who at the early age of 12 years was Sergeant in the U. S. Army and the last veteran of the Civil War to remain on the U. S. Army active list. General Clem says: "I find in Nuxated Iron the one and only tonic that I can take without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Manufacturers' note: Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed by Dr. Sullivan and which has been used by Generals Gibson, Gordon, Clem, Judge Yates and others with such surprising results, is not a secret remedy, but on which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older, iron-rancid products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee success full and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by Watson's Drug Store and all other druggists."

This is Dr. Sullivan's prescription for enriching the blood and helping to make strong, red-blooded American men and women who dare and do.

men in his community, simply because he radiates that marvellous magnetic influence which only an abundant vigor and rugged manly health can radiate. I believe any man can hope to completely develop or restore this same vigor of manly strength, no matter what his past follies may have been, provided he is willing to REALLY MAKE THE EFFORT; and provided, of course, he is not weighed down by extreme old age or is incurably diseased. To my mind, the road of the one who wants more vigor is perfectly plain, but it is a road that any man MUST travel if he attains the highest ideals in respect to his own manhood. See information in my free book.

As to the SANDEN Vitalizer, previously mentioned, will say it is a little mechanical appliance, weighing but a few ounces, which you wear at night. This Vitalizer generates and sends forth a certain soft, penetrating force which I call "Vitality." It apparently drives this "Vitality" into your nerves, blood, muscles and organs as you sleep. It is quieting to the nervous system—or, at least, so users say. Men write that it takes the pain out of the back and restores vitality in 60 days. Remember the general information of the free book is independent of this Vitalizer, and you are not expected to get one of these little appliances unless you want it. You can write me later as to that if you so desire. With special attachments, my Vitalizer is used by women as well as men for rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc. If you live in or near this city I should be most pleased to have you call in person at my office, where you may see and test the Vitalizer free of charge. Satisfaction guaranteed in every case. Or if inconvenient to call, do not fail to write for the free booklet.

Can You Solve This Great War Puzzle?

Four Things That Will Win The War

WHAT ARE THEY?
THE 16 circles above can be made to spell out the names of the four chief things that are going to win the war. Every boy and girl should know all of them. Write them out as neatly as you can, and send them to us. We will reply to every telling you if your solutions are correct and sending you the complete illustrated list of grand prizes that you can win. Use one side of the paper only, putting your name and address in the upper right hand corner. If you want to write anything besides your answer to the puzzle use a separate sheet of paper. Be neat and careful because in case of a tie the prize will go to the boy and girl whose answers are neatest and best written. Proper spelling and punctuation will also count.

How to solve it.—Each circle represents a letter of the word spelled top. The number of dots in the circle represents the position of that letter in the alphabet. For instance, "A" would be represented by a circle with one dot because it is the first letter of the alphabet. "B" would be represented by a circle with two dots because it is the second letter. "C" would be represented by three dots. "D" by four dots and so on. You must correctly count the dots in each circle, figure out the letter represented by its position in the alphabet and when you have them all figured out put them into proper position to spell the name wanted. It's not an easy puzzle but if you solve it correctly you may win this lovely shetland pony or one of the grand cash prizes above.

As gentle and playful as a dog, providing beautiful fun for the whole family.
