

The War-time Days of "Easy Money" Are Over

Stagnant falling over each other in their readiness to buy—they are gone and not likely to come back.

"Today we've all got to dig in and work for all we're worth to keep up sales. Many of the biggest businesses in Canada made their start when the going was hard, and this store was among them.

"Difficulties show the stuff a man is made of—whether he's a manufacturer, merchant, farmer or ordinary citizen. We're making good, keeping up our sales under difficult conditions, because we have had experience in reverse conditions and know how to turn stocks quickly to be always open to buy for cash where cash can buy cheapest.

"We can help our customers when our customers work with us. We've got the right goods, a complete selling system and an unlimited capacity to be of service to our customers.

"We're glad to announce a much better quality in every line for Fall and Winter. The satisfactory kind of merchandise, the kind we like to sell because most people appreciate above everything else that "good quality."

OUR GUARANTEE MAKES BUYING HERE EASY AND SAFE.

"We guarantee 'value' in every article we sell. 'Value' means both 'quality' and 'price' considered. If you see a thing advertised as a special bargain elsewhere, drop in and see what we are doing. You will find in many cases our 'regular prices' below others' 'sacrifice bargain prices,' and you have the certainty of 'quality' when buying at this store."

The new system of insurance on parcels sent through the mails is now in effect. For the sum of three cents, in addition to the regular postage, the persons sending a parcel may insure it to the value of $5. There is a graduating scale for persons wishing to insure for more than this amount. There will be no registration for such parcels. The plan is much cheaper, and will probably be just as effective. If a person living on a rural route wishes to insure a parcel he will hand it to the courier, and if the necessary stamps are attached will be given a receipt. The courier will also get a receipt from the postmaster, which will be delivered to the person sending the parcel.

We read "that a donation of three bushels of grain, preferably wheat, will be asked from each farmer of Canada by the Armenian Relief Association of Canada to help avert the death by starvation of hundreds of thousands of people in the famine-stricken Russian Caucasus and Armenian lands." Always the farmer! Not a word as to a donation from the profiteer, the middleman or the manufacturer.

It is announced by the citizen's Liberty League for moderation that they have received a total of 186,000 signatures to their petition to the premier of the province asking the Ontario Act be amended to embrace a system of Government control for the sale of spirituous liquors and for permission to purchase beers and wines under a system to be devised by the Government, and that a referendum be held on the direct question of Government control. The petition will be kept in circulation month by month until 500,000 signatures have been received.

The attention of the drivers of motor vehicles is called to an amendment of the statute law which affects their rights. At the last session of the Legislature the Municipal Act was amended to provide that no action should lie against a county or township municipality for damages resulting from non-repair of the highway, unless notice in writing of the claim and injury complained of is served or sent by registered post to the head clerk of the municipality within ten days after the happening of the injury. Where the accident happens within a city, town or village, a similar notice must be given within seven days. In this respect there has been no change in the law.

The Oxford County School Inspector protests that students are more interested in dairy cows than they are in poems. The average dairy cow is more beautiful than the average poem one sees about these days—there is more meat in it, so to speak.

Vancouver Sun:—The world is divided pretty sharply into two classes—workers and drones. Because the drones are sometimes able to give a fair imitation of work, they do not appear so vicious as they actually are. It is bad enough that they should waste their own time. That they should waste the time of real workers is unpardonable. Practically all the trouble in the world is caused by the people who will not work, or others who think they have solved the riddle of a workless world. It will be many hundreds of years from now when the human race will attain sufficient moral balance to get along without work.

Just Going To

"He was just going to help a neighbor when he died. He was just going to pay a note when it went to protest. He meant to insure his house but it burned before he got around to it. He was just going to reduce his debt when his creditors 'shut down' on him. He was just going to stop drinking and dissipating when his health became wrecked. He was just going to introduce a better system into his business when it went to smash. He was just going to quit work awhile and take a vacation when nervous prostration came. He was just going to provide proper protection for his wife and family when his fortune was swept away. He was just going to send out some good advertising when he found his competitor had got there first and secured the orders."—Exchange.

We were just going to write the above lines ourselves but somebody else beat us to it.

A detour is the roughest possible distance between two points. It bids Pain Begone.—When neuralgia racks the nerves or lumbago cripples the back is the time to test the virtues of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Well rubbed in it will still the pain and produce a sensation of ease and rest. A trial of it will establish faith in it.

A COLUMN ABOUT PIGS

Hints as to Both Summer and Winter Treatment.

How to Protect Them From Sun Scald—A Little Grease on the Body Is Helpful—Keeping Brood Sows Cheaply in Winter—Unnecessary Loss Among Young Pigs.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture Toronto.)

During midsummer owners of light colored pigs frequently complain of sunburn or sunscald. This condition of the hide of the animal is similar to that of people; it gives the same degree of uncomfortableness to the pig and is caused in the same manner. Consequently, the same method of prevention and treatment may be carried out.

Shelter Is Most Desirable.

In the first place, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and the prevention is shelter. No matter what kind of stock is in the pasture, shade is essential, and much more so is it for pigs on account of the thin coating of hair on their bodies. If the pasture for pigs is so situated that there are no trees to afford shade to the animals it would be just as well to keep them shut up during the hottest parts of the day and allow them to run out during the evening, night and early morning hours. By keeping them in a pen that is somewhat darkened, they miss both the hot rays of the sun and the flies that are always so bad around a stable of any kind, during the hot weather.

Give Them a "Hog Wallow."

Some people provide a "hog wallow" in their pasture which is a very good thing, but the location should be some place in the shade, as it is a well-known fact that the hide will blister far quicker when wet than when dry. A pig seems to think that a wallow is an essential thing, and if he persuades the farmer into thinking the same, the farmer should lead him to believe that during the heat of the day is the best time to keep out of it.

Vaseline Good for Sunburn.

If the pigs have become sunburned at all, it is well to keep them inside for a few days and thoroughly grease their bodies with some nice smooth grease such as vaseline. The grease tends to keep the air from the irritated skin and ease the uncomfortableness of the animal. Vaseline also has a wonderful healing and curative property which makes it preferable in such cases.—J. C. McBeath, O. A. College, Guelph.

Keep Brood Cows in Winter as Cheaply as Possible.

During the winter the brood sows should be maintained as cheaply as possible, but at the same time they must be properly fed in order to farrow a large number of healthy, well-grown pigs in the spring. Best results are obtained when sufficient food is given to produce daily gains on the sows of one-half or three-fourths of a pound. To do this the grain feed must be limited, and diluted with some roughage, for unless the ration has sufficient bulk, the sows will become constipated and hungry, due to the indistinct condition of the digestive tract. Legume hays are the chief roughages available at this season, and their use will cheapen the cost of feeding.

Alfalfa Excellent for Feed.

Either alfalfa, clover, soy-bean, or cow-pea hay makes an excellent roughage, and when fed in little or no high-priced protein concentrate is needed to balance the corn. Bright, leafy alfalfa hay gives the best results of any of these roughages. Alfalfa meal is simply the best grade of alfalfa hay chopped into a meal. Clover hay contains almost as much nourishment as alfalfa hay, and soy-bean hay, cut and cured when the beans are almost ripe, is a very nutritious feed. Cow-pea hay should be cut when the first peas are ripening and consequently does not have as high food value as soy-bean hay. Great care must be exercised in curing soy-bean and cow-pea hay, for the stalks are very heavy and succulent and unless thoroughly dried are apt to mold. Under no condition should a brood sow be fed upon any roughage which is not bright, nutritious, and free from smut or mold. She does not relish or thrive on such inferior feed. It is very apt to cause severe digestive troubles and may lead to the loss of her litter.

Unnecessary Loss Among Young Pigs.

On 75 Minnesota farms a total of 5,286 pigs were farrowed with an average of 8.31 per litter. Of this number 9.21 per cent. were farrowed dead, 18.72 per cent. died before weaning, 68.30 per cent. were raised, and 31.70 per cent. of the original pig crop was lost. Improper feeding and lack of exercise by the brood sows during the winter were responsible for most of the trouble (unnecessary trouble) at farrowing time. Brood sows should be encouraged to get out and work every day. The droppings should be watched. If the sows are constipated, oilmeal or bran should be introduced into their ration until satisfactory condition results. For immediate action a reasonable dose of epsom salts should be given.

Arsenate of lead or paris green are good remedies to use against chewing insects. When paris green is used it is well to add an equal quantity of lime to prevent injury to the foliage.

The Many-purpose Oil.—Both in the house and stable there are scores of uses for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil.

Use it for cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, the pains of rheumatism and sciatica, sore throat and chest. Horses are liable very largely to similar ailments and mishaps as afflict mankind and are equally amenable to the healing influence of this fine old remedy which has made thousands of firm friends during the past fifty years.
