Monopoly creates profit maximization

Dear Editor:

Unlike some who have addressed this issue, I remember living on our campus. I had to leave campus every time I ran out of any of the following commodities: Detergent; toothpaste; shampoo; deodorant or even soap.

Why? I and most of my campus acquaintances thought the prices were too high or the needed commodities were not sold in economy sizes. We thus refused to buy them in the SUB.

There are 14 men's and women's residences on the UNB/STU campus. More than 1500 persons. They are the people who need a convenience store most. Most of us, including myself may purchase our necessities on the way home. Can they?

There are rumours about the "sinister" plans of C.S.L. to take over the other SUB businesses. There is an element of discretion in the timing of clothing or haircutting purchases. They can wait a couple of weeks. Not so with personal hygiene, thus the other SUB stores offer a good service at reasonable prices.

Opponents of the store question the ability of students to run a store. They may not have noticed that students effectively run the bar which happens to sit on top of the store. Anyone, of sufficient means, may own a store and hire a manager to run it. I am told that this is a common practice.

I do not wish to participate in a political debate, nor do I care who owns the store. The store is in a near monopoly situation. The the prices reflect profit maximization. If a student body can run the store they may operate as a revenue maximizer. This would reflect an overall increase in service, which is the desired result. They may even remove the porno books and the strange little pipes which we don't need on our campus.

A letter of recommendation

Dear Editor:

Although I have only been on council a short time, I have learned the necessity of electing dedicated people.

I have known engineering candidate Mike Laaper for several years and believe him to be a conscientious and responsible individual.

Mike is a hard worker, who doesn't hesitate to speak out when he feels that it is necessary. I feel that he could make a positive contribution to the Student Union Council through his strong personal interest and initiative concerning student affairs.

Sincerely,
Ron Spurles

Just for the record

Dear Editor:

As a graduate in Business Administration from U.N.B. I still have affiliations through the alumni and cause to read the old faithful Brunswickan on Fridays.

Every time I turn the pages, I read articles and outrageous comments by John Bosnitch. Having been a student, I can appreciate the concerns of students but this guy is a complete socialist with a big mouth for trouble. He is to the point of being dangerous and harmful to anything he touches.

Bosnitch ran for mayor of Fredericton while the results speak for themselves. Now he is trying to run the university busines with a few crazed worshippers.

Bosnitch now plans to take over the entire SUB from private rent paying tenants. Did anyone think if the rent in the SUB wasn't so outrageous the prices for goods and services could be lower? Any dipstick can run a Bosnitch non-profit enterprise and when you screw up you can go run and hide again behind the students for support. You cannot run a business by committee because when a decision is finally implemented the decision makers are long gone without responsibility.

Bosnitch is using the students for his own stepping stone to socialist politics.

They need you in Poland, Bosnitch.

Letter of thanks

Dear Editor:
OPEN LETTER OF THANKS TO McLEOD HOUSE
MEMBERS

On Thursday, March 22nd, seventeen ladies who are presently residents of McLeod House were kind enough to take time from what we are sure are busy schedules to help us prepare approximately 1,200 letters for mailing to former residents of McLeod. We cannot adequately express our gratitude for their assistance. Their display of house spirit will long be remembered.

Once again, we, on behalf of the McLeod House Alumnae Association, thank you. Your generosity makes us proud to have been part of your residence.
