"I will put enmities between thee and the woman, and thy seed and her seed ; she shail crush thy head, etc " (Genesis iii 15)

Was the dogma of the Immaculate Conception founded on a mispelat ? The Right Reverend Doctor Kingdon, Coad-jutor (Anglicae) Bishop of Fredericton, Conception founded on a misplat? The Right Reverand Doctor Kingdon, Coad-jator (Anglicae) Bishop of Fredericton, lecturing before the Church of England Institute, St John, N. B. said that by a misplat of the letter "a" for "e," in the shore text from Genesis was made to read "Sae (for He), shall creak thy head," and there immenably reculted that the R. man Catbohe Church was led to promulgate the dogma of the Immson late Conception. To this, and its unfair inference, Mr. Richard F Quigley, bar that the R man Canonic Courted was ted to promarigate the degma of the Immson late Oonception. To this, and its unfair inference, Mr. Richard F Quigley, bar inference, Mr. Richard F Quigley, bar rister, of that city, took exception in the columns of the St John Globe; pointed Quigley's irrefragable arguments and out that if, as a matter of biblical c iticism, there was any question at ali it was not merely batween Ipse and Ipsa, but between merely between Ipse and Ipse, but between Ipse (He) Ipse (Sie), and Ipseum (I;) — port charges Pins 1X. with idolary to at the dogma was not founded on the Latin Valgate as reserted, — that, as a matter of fact, that part of the Prot Protect is not even quoted in the Buil Now, if this was worth answering at all, Now, if this was worth answering at all, Now, if this was worth answering at all, Evangel is not even quoted in the Bull Innefablis -- that to Catholics it makes no difference whether you read Hs (Carlat), She (through her seed), or L (the seed of the womap) shill bruiss the heal,—and that the authority for the reading "She"

on can vas two hundred and ten years ago ; hut he goes further and shows that both is as good as the authority for either of the other readings. To this the Bishop, deigning no answer, confessed judgment by default; but the Rev. Mr. Davenport, Ritualist minister, interview a state of the state of t truthfully described in the controversy as "the new keeper-in-ordinary in this city of the types and blocks and chromo pro-cess from and by which Popery is here after to be printed off; the traditional fictions, sophisms, calumnies, mockeries, sarcasms, and invectives with which Catholics are to be assailed," blindly rushed to the rescue of the impugaed cholarship of his ecclesiastical superior and there followed a long series of public letters from the disputents The preliminary letters on both sides, together with all Mr. Quigley's replies have been brought together, and are now published in a book of five hundred pages by Fr. Pastet & Co., of Now York.

Two questions are discussed; or, batter still, thrashed out until there is not a vestige of doubt remaining : the academic or critical various readings of the text, embracing authorities for He. She, and It, and the weight to which each is entitled ; and a full exposition and defence of the Catholic's "love for and veneration of the holdst creature that ever came from more or less unsatisfactory ! For myself, the hands of the Creator, creation's mass I do not hesitate to express my belief the hands of the Creator, creation's mas-terplece, its crown and glory-Mary of Nagreth."

and Astor of New York have been visited and forced to yield up their treasures of knowledge so that every statement might be verified and the most incredu-lous have the name and page of author-ity. To prove his case the author has run the samut of writes from the in decrees to furnish material for some "Public Worship Act," like that of 1876, passed on purpose to put down Riusal-ism. Now, by what will these decrees be ruled i By the 'Vincentian Canon i' Oh, no, but purely and simply by acts of Parliament, pass ed by Henry VIII., Eizabeth, and that 'young tiger-cub, Etward VI., 'as Lutledale calls him. These are the corporations of the in decrees to furnish material for so ity. To prove his case the author has run the gamut of writers from the Apostles to the preachers of the present day. With a confidence, begotten of a marvelous acquaintance, he calls upon the Doctors of the Western and Oriental These are the corner-stones of the National Establishment,' and no stream Oburches to testify on his behalf, amid can rise higher than its source. What has the Judicial Committee of the Privy their glorious tomes he seems fairly to revel ; while, with an equal readiness, he summons to his assistance Protestant Council decided and what will they decide ? This is the crucible in which the results of the labors of this Pan writers of all ages to confound a Proteswhites of an ages to contourn a Protec-tant of the present one. And in this respect Mr. Quigley appears to surpass the ordinary writer on such themes in as much as his studies, amid antique sheathes, have still left him time to Anglican Synod must be tried.
