THE
HOME BANK OF CANADA

A Chartered Bank of Canada is a safe and convenient repository for those special accounts people term "nest eggs." Some institutions, borrowing money from the public, may pay a rate of interest that is fractionally higher, but a depositor with a Chartered Bank enjoys the protection of the Canadian Banking System and the money is subject to immediate withdrawal on demand.

The Rev. L. C. Wood, vicar of Singleton, in Lancashire, recently celebrated his 90th birthday.

Mr. A. C. Pigou, M.A., of King's College, has been elected to the Professorship of Political Economy at Cambridge.

The Rev. Canon A. J. Mason, D.D., Master of Pembroke College, has been elected Vice-Chancellor of Cambridge University.

Two brass eucharistic candlesticks have been given to St. Paul's, Grand Rapids, Mich., within the past few weeks by Mrs. Ryan in memory of her parents.

The oldest communicant of the Church in the Diocese of Milwaukee, and probably the oldest in the United States, died recently in Beloit, namely, Mrs. Wadham Hunt. She had reached the very advanced age of 107.

The Rev. W. B. Stoskopf, on leaving the Church of the Advent, Boston, for Bridgeport, Conn., to take up new work there, was presented by the parishioners of his old church with a prie-dieu which bore a suitable inscription.

A memorial tablet has been placed in Trinity Church, Newark, N.J., to the late Bishop Phillips Brooks, sixth Bishop of Massachusetts, by Mr. W. Clark Noble, of Newark, who is a well-known sculptor.

An interesting discovery has been made at Overton, near Whitchurch, Hants, where in the course of renovations to the tower of the church a number of beautiful 13th century specimens of carved stones have been found.

The Cathedral of Christ at Salina, Kan., was duly consecrated on Ascension Day by the Lord Bishop of the Diocese. The Bishops of Nebraska and Kansas, also took part in the service. There were a large number of clergy and laity present.

The first sod in connection with the building of the new Cathedral of St. Paul at Detroit took place in that city on Monday, June 22nd, in the presence of a large concourse of people. The new cathedral will cost a quarter of million dollars.

Mrs. Lunn recently presented St. James', Rockford, Mich., with a silver chalice and paten both suitably inscribed. The former is given in memory of her husband and the latter is a thank-offering to God for past mercies received by her from Him.

On Trinity Sunday last the Rev. J. K. Lewis celebrated his golden jubilee as a priest of the Church and on the same date the Rev. T. J. Taylor, rector of the Church of the Advent, Philadelphia, did the same thing. He is 83 years old and is still in harness.

The Bishop-Coadjutor of New York, Dr. Greer, has gone to England to attend the Lambeth Conference. Bishop Potter has been prevented from going across the Atlantic on account of his recent severe illness. The Ven. Archdeacon Nelson accompanied Bishop Greer in the capacity of Chaplain.

Old St. John's Church, Philadelphia, recently observed its 93rd anniversary. At a special service a large window of unique design was unveiled in memory of the late lay reader, Mr. J. McCullen, Jr. The subject of the window is St. Charles the Martyr, King Charles I. of England.

The whole of the crews of the lifeboats on the Anglesey coast attended the ceremony of installing the Rev. O. Lloyd Williams, rector of Llanrhydldad, as Chancellor of Bangor Cathedral on Saturday. The new Chancellor is an ardent lifeboatman, and has assisted in saving many lives on the Anglesey coast.

A somewhat remarkable fact regarding the burial of the late Archbishop of Capetown the other day at Oxford is that the only two Archbishops whose bodies were previously buried at Oxford—Laud and Juxon—were, like Dr. Jones, members of St. John's College. Eight out of the ten Bishops of the South African Province were present at the funeral, and they acted as pall-bearers.

The Rev. Prebendary Dalton, who for the past twelve years has been rector and rural dean of Stepney, was lately presented by the parishioners, on leaving to take up his new and important work as rector of Clapham, with a service of silver plate and a cheque, and the Misses Dalton, his sisters, were also presented with pieces of jewelry. Mr. Laverton Harris, M.P., made the presentations. There were 700 subscribers to the fund.

An International Clericus was held lately at Portland, Oregon, when the clergy of the Dioceses of Calgary and the British Columbia Dioceses met their brethren from the Dioceses and districts west of the Rockies across the American border. The session was held in the Cathedral and a very profitable and pleasant time was spent by all who took part therein.

Through the generosity of Mr. Richard Creed, F.R.I.B.A., the beautiful carved oak rood designed by him, and erected in the church at the partial restoration in 1899, is according to his original design completed in colours and gold. The rood itself is nine feet high, the figures of the Blessed Virgin and St. John about five feet. The work has been executed by Mr. J. I. Pace, of Hounslow. There is still a great deal to be done to the fabric of the church, for which funds are needed. There is a daily celebration of the Blessed Sacrament in this church.

QUEEN'S VISIT TO SICK GIRL.

"Kind hearts are more than coronets," and Queen Alexandra has one of the kindest. On many occasions Her Majesty has proved this, but never more conclusively than when, accompanied by Princess Victoria, she paid a surprise visit to St. Luke's House, 14 Pembroke-Square, Bayswater, and spent half an hour with the patients. Her Majesty was attended by the Hon. Charlotte Knollys and the Hon. Sydney Greville. The visit was an absolute surprise to all the officials of the institution, of which Her Majesty is the patroness, and also to the poor unfortunate girl for whose benefit Her Majesty specially made the call. It appears that some days ago Martha Massey, one of the patients in the house, the existence of which is for the reception of cases of mortal illness in their latest phases, surreptitiously wrote a letter to the Queen, saying how much she would like to see her before Her Majesty took a long trip abroad. The unfortunate girl, in respectful terms and delightfully simple phraseology, explained that she had always been unable to see the Queen when she was

HOW TO BUILD AND SAVE MONEY. With proper plans it is an easy matter to build a satisfactory building, and will repay the amount of the fees many times in the sense of security given to the client as well as the builders as both will know just what is to be done before commencing and the owner will receive what he pays for. All drawings must be plain and explicit on all points. Let me send you particulars of my sketch plan offer, also a copy of my booklet on "Homes." I am in a position to serve you with the best Architectural work attainable. I merit your patronage—give me your next work. Results will please.
