

You Can't Overwork this Horse!

MADE IN CANADA

Farm Journals all over the country are now printing such advice as the following:—

"Springtime is a season of hustling for the farmer, but don't carry it too far. For instance, when you feel like working fourteen hours a day, your horses may not. A horse, after passing through a long winter without working is not in shape when spring arrives to pull steadily on a heavy drill or plow for long periods. You tire yourself and the horses out, and work an extra hour each night trying to patch up raw shoulders. On top of all this you can't get the work done because your horses are not able to do it."

Pulls like a Locomotive!*

The Fairbanks-Morse Oil Tractor

The strongest argument for a Tractor is this:—Flesh-and-blood fails, where properly built machinery goes right ahead. The Fairbanks-Morse Oil Tractor is capable of tasks impossible to the horse and is untiring. Weight is well distributed, so that full power of engine is converted into tractive effort. Strong, rugged construction free from vibration, and every part get-at-able; steel gears running at low speeds; burns oil or gasoline—and though the oil be poor and the load variable, the Fairbanks-Morse will plug away steadily, with a remarkable absence of noise and smoke—a built-for-business tractor, long on endurance. Let Us Send You Our Tractor Catalogue.

Co-operative People's Banks

By Alphonse Desjardins

Mr. Desjardins is the founder of Co-operative Banking on the American Continent. He has established over 150 co-operative credit banks, most of them in the Province of Quebec, and in ten years' experience there has not been a single cent of loss and the benefit accruing to the shareholders has been remarkable. In this book Mr. Desjardins describes the benefits of several systems of co-operative banking, and describes how his own system has been developed. He tells how they are managed, how deposits are received, the functions of the board of administration, the credit committee, the board of supervision and the various officers. He also gives facts and figures in regard to a number of the largest of the co-operative banks which he has established not only in the cities and towns, but also in the agricultural districts, in the mining districts and among the settlers in the colonization districts. Any person interested in co-operative credit will find this a very valuable work. Bound in paper covers. Postpaid. 25c
