abroad that some sterling qualities of "manhood" which have made themselves known to the public in some sphere of usefulness should be possessed by the Honourable President of our Legislative Council or local House of Lords. The public should be impressed with the probity of the man. Such a man should not be a "rabid" partizan but a noble representative of our race, whom we should delight to honour.

This individual of Chicago letter fame, P. T. McGrath, is leaving his impress everywhere and it is time to call "halt!" with no uncertain sound
