-Mr. Henry Neyland, late principal of the Art School in this city, is not the only distinguished personage in the Dominion; for instance, when Mr. Percival Garratt dons his naval uniform and spends his summer vacation in Muskoka he is saluted as "Sir Thomas Lipton."

The honors sit lightly on his shoulders.

The sergeants of the 91st Regiment a moonlight excursion last night he Modjeska. Over 800 took part on the Modjeska. Over 800 took part, and a very pleasant time was spent. Music was furnished by the 91st Band. The excursion was one of the most successful events held this season. Credit is due to the Hamilton Steamboat Company for the excellent arrangements they made.

AGED 90.

Former Hamilton Railway Man Dying at Port Stanley.

Mr. William Bowman, an aged citizen of London, formerly of Hamilton, is critically ill at Port Stanley. He will be 90 next March, and his vitality has been a surprise and pleasure to all who occasion to come down town would never take the street car, preferring to never take the street car, preferring to walk.

Mr. Bowman has been actively identified with the life of London for over half a century. He went there from Hamilton in 1853 as mechanical superintendent of the Great Western Railway, and in October of that year brought the first locomotive into London. Since that time he has witnessed some marvellous changes and played no unimportant part in bringing many of them about. He was for years manager of the Port Stanley Railway; carried on a large coal business for some years, and was manager of the Northwestern Transportation Company, which owned three large steamers plying between Montreal and Chicago.

A RUMOR.

T. L. Kinrade Has Left City Not to Return.

It is believed that T. L. Kinrade principal of the Cannon street school, who has been off duty since the murder of his daughter Ethel, has solved the problem of whether he will resume his duties by leaving the city. It is reported that Mr. Kinrade has left Hamilton for good and will not apply to be re-engaged as principal of his old school.

Great August Furniture Sale.

Great August Furniture Sale.

With the coming of August the season of summer has passed its meridian, and the shadow of September and fall will soon be here. The J. Hoodless Furniture Co. have been busy as every up-to-date furniture store should be, in examining the newest and latest designs for next season, and will have a display that will be second to none in Canada but they must make room for the great stock coming and the annual August sale relieves the warerooms and gives customers goods at prices which they could not be sold at in the regular way. The wary buver looks over the goods and buys at reduced prices, therefore no shopworn goods in the J. Hoodless furniture stock and it will be kept that way, no matter what price the goods are disposed of at. On Tuesday they will be ready; everything marked in plain figures and the first to buy will have the greatest choice.

CHICAGO MAN'S

Skull Fractured in a Fight on Train at This City

"Pray For Me, Sister; My Head Hurts; I Am Dying."

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Toronto, July 31 .- When the Chicago train pulled into the Union Station at o'clock this morning a young man in an unconscious condition was found lying in the smoking compartment. He was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he lay for two hours without regaining consciousness. Later, when he opened his eyes, his vocal cords were paralyzed and information had to be secured from him by writing on a pad.

information had to be secured from him by writing on a pad.

He said that his name was Ernest Gonia, of 1427 North Halstead street, Chicago, a chauffeur. He and a friend had left Chicago yesterday morning, and at Hamilton had begun to fight. The other man struck him, smashing him back on a seat. When he came to his senses he had been robbed.

"Pray for me, sister; my head hurts; I am going to die," wrote the injured man, who has a fractured skull. His information was so meagre that the police can do little to identify his assailant.

ON MOUNTAIN.

Strong Attraction at the Popular Theatre Next Week.

Comedy will hold the boards at the Mountain Theatre next week-high class comedy presented by a high class com-pany.
