A SALLOON HOME.—The saloon home on St. James street, St. John, was formally opened on Monday by Lady Tilly. The institution owes its existence to the energy and benevolence of Miss Hutchison.

MILITIA CAMP.—Efforts will be made to secure the militia camp for Moncton this year. A similar attempt two years ago on Moncton's part was unsuccessful. Smart people think they have secured it this year.

LESSONS OF A CHRISTIAN.—Rev. I. J. Skinner is very ill at his home in P. E. Island. On Monday, the 14th inst., while retiring for the night, he became unconscious, and also suffered from the loss of speech and a partial loss of sight. He is understood to be slowly recovering.

A CHANGE IN THE SECRETARY.—TREASURER OF VICTORIA.—A special meeting of the Victoria county council has been in session during the week. Some crookedness in the secretary-treasurer's accounts rendered a change necessary, and Sheriff Tibbits was appointed.

TESTING THE FIRE ENGINES.—Mr. Wesel of the Seneca Falls steam fire engine works, has made a thorough examination and test of the Seneca Falls engines. A PROPOSED TRANSFER.—It is stated that arrangement is being contemplated whereby all the cotton mills in Canada will pass into the hands of an English syndicate. Mr. Galt of Montreal is now on his way to England to close the bargain. The Montreal Transcript says it is understood that the Marysville mill is to be included in the sale.

CHANGE OF OFFICERS.—Alexander Sinclair, station master at St. Mary's, who has been in that position for several years, but nevertheless has provided a very accommodating official, has been obliged to go to the Victoria Hospital for treatment. He will be succeeded by John Martin, who has been in the employ of the road for some time. Mr. Martin had his hand badly injured on Monday while coupling cars.

A HORSE AND BOOBY MISSING.—A young lad, son of Charles Wallace, the regular street barber, hired a horse and buggy from I. R. Golding's livery stable on Wednesday evening, and says he gave it to a man named Kelly who has been staying at Lifford's at government house. The horse and carriage has not returned up to date, and Mr. Golding is making inquiries in every direction. The animal was a small roan horse and the buggy a side bar Whitecap open one with side springs.

MUST TAKE THEIR MEDICINE.

The Supreme Court Says the Sentences Are Legal.

SCOTT ACT VIOLATORS AT THE END OF THEIR TETHER.

The Scott Act convictions form the all absorbing topic of conversation in the city just now. While it cannot be said that the decision of the supreme court was unlooked for, yet the victims and their friends had a right to expect that the order would be an unforeseen emergency, the sentences would lose all their sting.

ALL OF ITS EFFECT, before the matter could be brought to a focus. The prompt action of the court, which gave judgment without any delay as soon as the cases were argued, removed all these vain hopes, and brought the violators somewhat suddenly face to face with their situation, and there can be little doubt from subsequent events, that the matter assumed a more serious aspect in the minds of the offenders, than their previous free and easy manner would have excused.

VACATION IN THE COUNTY JAIL. In the balmy spring time. It was no doubt the opinion as well as the hope of a great many citizens, now that the magistrates were convinced that they were at the mercy of the law, and that the Scott Act no longer violated with impunity, or with hope of delay, that some Sort of a compromise might be effected with the liquor dealers, which while relieving the offenders of the two months imprisonment, which no one personally wishes them to undergo, would at the same time put a final and complete extinguisher upon the liquor traffic in this city.

Had the managers of the prosecution intended the best treatment with the offenders, there is no doubt that the latter, being sensible men, and seeing that all hopes of successfully evading the law were over, would have readily agreed to have voluntarily closed up their bars and sold no more liquor in consideration of their sentences not being enforced, while at the same time the convictions could have remained hanging over their heads, like the faded sword, as a condition for the strict observance of the law.

As far as accomplishing the ends of temperance is concerned, pure and simple, there is no doubt that some such arrangement as this would have had the desired effect. The temperance party, however have thought it best to let the LAW TAKE ITS COURSE, believing that by this means they will not only have accomplished the spirit of the law, but enforced its letter as well, and thus have vindicated the Scott Act in all its bearings.

Indeed one of the prominent temperance men of the city has said that Fredericton, which was the first city to adopt the Scott Act, would be the first to show the Dominion that it was sufficient for the purposes for which it was enacted. The Scott Act advocates have certainly had hard sledding since the law was first adopted in the capital of the province, and they are to be admired for their adherence to their principles, and their faith in the virtue of the act, and the justice of their cause, and they are also to be congratulated that in the long and uncertain fight along the line, they have come out victorious; and in the hour of triumph they will not forget to remember that a true justice is tempered with mercy, and that the object of the act, like the object of all other laws, is not so much to punish the offender as to prevent his offense. In other words, a week's confinement in goal will have the same effect, and accomplish the end of justice as fully and completely as a confinement of two months.

During the week police magistrate Marsh has had a number of cases coming before him, and has been engaged since in getting his commitments ready to place in the hands of the police for execution. The commitments, it is understood, are all ready and awaiting the return of Mr. Grieve from Hamilton and Mr. Coleman from Calais, so that they may be all executed at once. If the police magistrate intends to wait until all these gentlemen return, it may be some time before any one goes to chocky, and if so the other victims should happen to step away for a few days, when the others returned, and the P. M. should deem it advisable to await his return, this CHECKER BOARD GAME might become very interesting. In the meantime the actions of the offenders are watched with interest. There are various stories afloat as to their intentions, but little reliable information can be obtained. It is said that the Queen Hotel and Barker House will be closed up by their respective proprietors until their sentences have been served out. It is also stated on pretty good authority, that Mr. Coleman has decided to shake the dust off his feet as far as Fredericton jail is concerned. There are two other convictions against him, and four months in Hawthorn's Hotel would be a rather monotonous routine for Fred, in his present state of health.

When the whole thing is summoned up, we must deem to be the best thing for the boys to TAKE THEIR MEDICINE without kicking. Law is law, let them face the music, and let the best of them bargain, and resolve to do naughty things no more.

THE SEMINARY.—Dr. J. E. Hopper writes to the Intelligencer that there are now 101 pupils at the seminary, an increase of 41 since September. Continuing he says this makes it absolutely necessary, in order to prepare for similar growth next year, to take steps to enlarge the building. This will, with some other matters that ought to be attended to, necessitate an expenditure this summer of $5,000. Then we could provide for 140 or 150 students. The indications now are, that we shall need provision for that number.

THE KENT ELECTION.—Political excitement is running high in Kent, and there seems to be no lack of candidates to take the place vacated by Judge Landry. Among the aspirants for political honors are mentioned Hon. O. LeBlanc, Gordon Livingstone, John Jardine, J. D. Phinney, M. P. and Geo. V. McLennan. There is also a rumor that Senator Poirer will resign to contest Kent; that Josiah Wood, M. P., will be elevated to the seat vacated by Judge Landry, and that W. W. Wells, of Dorchester will contest Westmorland for Mr. Wood's seat.

DISMEMBERED.—During the illness of the late Miss Maggie S. Swetka a normal school student who died here, it was found necessary to administer anesthetic to relieve the pain, and a knowledge of this fact, coupled with her life-like appearance in death, caused many of her friends to doubt that she was really dead. To place the minds of all at rest the body was disinterred Monday at St. John when an examination was made by Dr. Holden, who found the body in the position in which it was placed at the time of interment.

LOCATED.—Dr. H. D. McManus has decided to locate his office on the N. E. corner of Carleton county, and has left for that place to begin the practice of his profession. Dr. McManus is a graduate of the university of New Brunswick and of McGill medical college, and his many friends wish him success.

Rev. C. H. Hatheway, the rector of Cambridge, Queen's Co., was in the city during the week for a variety of reasons. While in Albany Bishop Doane offered him a charge in his diocese. The parish church at St. Mary's would also like to secure the reverend gentleman's services.

Orange Blossoms in the Spring Time. The marriage of Miss Amanda Babbitt, organist of the Baptist church at Gibson, and daughter of Thos. E. Babbitt, to Chesley B. Moore, Queensbury, took place at the residence of the bride's father, at Gibson, on Wednesday night. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. D. Crawley, pastor of the Fredericton Baptist church. The bride was a very popular young lady well as evinced by the large number of handsome bridal presents which she received. There was a large number of wedding guests who set down to a sumptuous wedding supper after the ceremony.

George Wilkes and Miss Maud Dougherty were united in marriage at the Cathedral on Tuesday last. The Rev. Mr. Alexander officiated. They have gone to Calais on their bridal tour.

Base Ball Prospects. The committee on base ball matters are meeting with every encouragement from the citizens in the way of subscriptions, and it is an assured fact that a first-class team will be in the field again this summer. Indeed the city could not begin to get along without a nine.

The base ball season will open in St. John on the 18th inst, with a match between the Association nine and a picked team. The Y. M. C. A. club expect to play against a local team in this city on the 24th.

C. H. B. Fisher is contemplating a trip across the Atlantic at a very early day. Mr. Fisher has been troubled with his eyes for some time past, and hopes that a sea voyage will do him good, in which hope his many friends will join.

It Sounds Too Fresh. An hazy city publication has recently vouchsafed the information, that during the closing days of the late session of the legislature Mr. Melanson rose in his place and said that he could not support the election bill because the government had not introduced a railway subsidy act. It is probably unnecessary to inform the intelligent public that no such thing ever occurred, as it is to tell them that Mr. Melanson is not a fool.

A Fatal Mistake. By a fatal mistake in putting op morphine in place of Peruvian bark, Mrs. Connor of New Mills, Restigouche county, met her death a few days ago. The medicine had been ordered by Dr. Barker & Sons, St. John, and by mistake a package of morphine intended for a person in Fredericton was sent in its place. The contents of the package was put in some wine and taken by Mrs. Connor with the above result.

THE SHORT LINE IS COMING.—His Worship Mayor Allen has received a letter from a prominent and well-informed official at Ottawa, informing him that the prospect for the short line being built by the government are looking up, and that there is fair reason for believing that the line may be built this way after all.

HOME AGAIN.—Thomas F. Barker, recently manager of the Provincial Stock Farm in home again at his farm in St. Mary's after an absence of nearly nine years. He came up by the Steamer Clifton, arriving early on Friday morning. He expected to have reached here on Thursday but a heavy fog prevented.

GERMANY'S NEW RIFLE.

A Rapid Firing Gun with Great Penetration.

The manufacture of the new small calibre repeating gun of the model of 1888 for the German standing army has just been completed. Within a year and a half the gun factories of Spandau, Danzig and Erfurt have produced a sufficient number of guns to arm almost 500,000 soldiers.

German military authorities declare that this rapidity of manufacture is unprecedented, and direct attention to the fact that the German army will have been provided with its new arms in much less time than the French required to introduce the Lebel gun.

Technically and mechanically the new repeating gun is declared to be vastly superior to any repeating gun heretofore placed in soldier's hands. It is exclusively a repeating gun and cannot be utilized as a single loader. Its calibre is only eight millimetres, considerably less than the calibre of the gun it supplants. Its range is 12,500 feet; that is about 2,500 feet greater than the range of the old gun. It possesses unequal power of penetration and sureness of aim. It is very light, and is constructed for the use of smokeless powder. It is supplied with cartridges, five at a time, by means of a tin frame of the Manlicher pattern. After the tin is shot the frame falls to the ground. The bullet is of the form of a small cross section of a lead pencil, has a lead kernel under a coating of steel, and a nickel outer shell. The barrel of the gun is provided with a mechanical device to keep it cool during firing.

At a distance of 325 feet the bullet penetrates well-seasoned, close-grained firwood to the depth of thirty-two inches; at a distance of 1,300 feet, to the depth of eighteen inches; at a distance of 2,700 feet to a depth of ten inches. A bullet, unless unusually thick, affords no protection against shot from the new gun. Earth breastworks less than two and a half feet thick are also penetrable. In freshly piled sand, at a distance of 325 feet, the bullet would pass through a board 1,500 feet away, or at two men side by side 2,000 feet away.

To illustrate the wonderful efficiency of the new gun," says a military writer in the Munich Allgemeine Zeitung, "I will give a few characteristic examples of what its effect on warfare will be. From now on even the stoutest trees will give the foot soldier in battle little protection, for the balls from the new gun will simply pass right through the trunks. Six men in a column, such as the Germans were before the war, could be shot through with one bullet, provided that it comes in contact with no metallic substance on the persons of any of them. The advantage that the bullet of the new gun leaves only a small hole behind it is comparatively insignificant. Moreover, should an enemy, as has often happened, defend himself behind a village or court-yard wall, he will be protected only in case the wall is remarkably stout, for balls from these new guns have repeatedly penetrated with ease walls a brick and a half thick. The present rearming of the German infantry, together with the introduction of the smokeless powder, is of all the re-arrangements of infantry in this century, the most important. A gun has been introduced which, in every respect, is superior to all other guns.

This fact is of great importance and cannot fail of a considerable effect on infantry tactics, especially in the direction of the more frequent formations in line, as compared with formations in columns."

Quebec is about to be supplied with a new hospital to contain 400 beds and to cost $110,000. It will be under the control of the ladies of the Hotel Diez, and will occupy a new building to be erected immediately between Prince Hill and Esplanade street, and to measure 500 by 50 feet with separate departments for incurable epidemic diseased subjects, victims of accidents, operating rooms and halls for clinics.
