Sunday Services.

Rev. Mr. Matthews preached at George Street Church on Sunday morning, and was followed in the evening by the Pastor of the Church, Rev. Mr. Bartlett, with a practical address to young women, from the following text taken from the Book of Ruth: "So she gleaned in the field until even." The whole address was delivered in very forceful language and it was singularly striking and interesting. Mr. Bartlett first applied his subject to the many young women coming to this city in quest of employment. These young persons deserved great respect. They should glean not only with fidelity and industry but with due respect for the loved ones they had left at home. The young woman who employed all her leisure time in reading love stories was not gleaming what was really essential to virtuous womanhood nor was she following an ideal that would make her future life what it otherwise might be.

It had been estimated that the pulsation of the heart was sufficiently powerful, if it could be concentrated upon the hardest stone, to break it after a certain lapse of time, and the pulse of womanhood, if properly directed would be sufficiently strong to break the forces of evil and bring about the greatest moral reform that had ever yet been witnessed. Mr. B. showed that good women were usually behind great men and this was perhaps more than anything else the secret of their success. Ruth did not go out to look for a husband, but she went out to glean and in doing so she obtained a husband. Gleaning was perhaps the best way to a success of this nature. The idea that domestic service was mere drudgery and that it was humiliating was most absurd, it was ennobling and dignifying to be engaged in domestic duties. Home duties were sometimes very light

HOW OFTEN ACCIDENTS HAPPEN AND NO RELIEF IS AT HAND!

As a remedy for this state of affairs, every family should always keep ready for use a box of Dr. Bove's Gum Salve, Nature's Healer for Burns, Cuts, Scalds, Chapped Hands, Pimples, Piles, Corns, Sores, etc. Read the following case.

Dear Sir,—Having received your medicine, I take great pleasure in recommending it to all concerned. Your Gum Salve is worth its weight in gold. Recently I burnt myself badly with grease catching fire, which caused most excruciating pain. Only one application of your Gum Salve was necessary to render immediate relief. Trusting that someone may read this and give your Gum Salve a test, the way I did, and wishing you every success.

Respectfully yours,
F. F. TAYLOR,

Uncle Walt

THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

When I am groaning with the grip—an ill that sorely tries me—my neighbors, in good fellowship, come over to advise me. One says I ought to take some pills to stop my coughs and sneezes; another THE LIMIT thinks a dose of squills would cure all such diseases. One tells me I should go to bed, and drink some warm molasses. Another says: "Go, soak your head, that will dispel the gases." And every man who's sick endures this brand of mortal anguish, beneath a thousand kinds of "cures" he has to undergo. But patience still abides with him until he meets the duffer, who cries, with loud and brutal vim: "You only think you suffer! Get up, get up and cease your groans, abandon this confusion! You have no aching head or bones—it's all a cheap delusion! Why have the doctor make a trip, and bring his train of cures. There are no things like colds or grip, or sneezes, coughs, or cures. Don't sit around and weep and sigh, and say things wild and woolly; swear you are well, though it's a lie, and you'll be feeling better!" Such language jars me to the quick, when I am weak and ailing; what fun is there in being sick, if one must quit his wallowing?

treated. There were young ladies who would not stay at home for one hour to play their pianos for their own brothers, but they would stay home as long as possible to play for some other person's brothers.

The idea seemed to be growing that young ladies should engage in the professions and take lessons in first aid, but it would perhaps be fitter for them to take lessons in the first principles of cooking. Speaking of temperance Mr. B. said: If women would be as diligent, and earnest about it as they were about social and kindred matters the needed reforms would speedily be accomplished.

The address was heard by a crowd and a most appreciative congregation. The singing was simply excellent. Mr. Gordon Christian presided at the organ.—Com.

T. A. & B. Society.

After the Early Closing Bill had passed the Legislature last night the members of the T. A. & B. Society met in their hall to discuss the great reform. It was the first time in the history of the Society that members took a working part in inaugurating legislation for temperance reform. The Society did most effective work in securing signatures, and regard the legislation as a great victory. Some of the members worked both night and day in getting names on the petition and they felt satisfied with the outcome. The Secretary's report showed that they had obtained 2,800 signatures. At the next monthly meeting of the Society it is likely that the event will be celebrated in a suitable manner.

TAKEN ILL IN CHURCH.—A well-known young man, who resides in the West End of the city, became very ill while attending service at the R. C. Cathedral last night. During prayers he was seized with some internal trouble and bled profusely from the mouth. Temporary assistance was given him, and he was afterwards taken to a doctor, who drove the man home to his residence. His illness was not a serious one, and we are glad to learn that the man is much better in health to-day.

A Bad Accident.

Mr. Wm. Snow adopted son of Mr. Edward Snow, who went to Lunenburg last fall, met with an accident a few weeks ago by which he lost his right hand. He was working in a factory around some machinery when his hand got caught, resulting in it being completely crushed. We learn that a second operation on the wrist was necessary—Mr. Roberts Guardian.

Questions About Canadian Baiting.

In the Legislative Council Mr. Harvey asked the following questions and received the answers appended:

The Hon. Mr. Harvey.—To ask the Hon. Representative of the Government in this House if the Government has any information corroborating the statement published in the Halifax Herald to the effect that on March 10th the schooner Ronald G. Smith, from this Colony, had arrived at Lunenburg with frozen herring and was baiting the following schooners: Carrie L. Hertie, Clertonia, Henry L. Montague.

(2) Also if the Government has any information as to whether the frozen herring caught by the schooner Juanita, reported in the same paper to have arrived at Lunenburg from this Colony, was as to all or any part of it used to bait Lunenburg bankers.

(3) Also if the masters of these two vessels, and of the Canadian registered schooner Coronation, which loaded in this Colony with frozen herring for Lunenburg and put into St. Pierre in distress (subsequently leaving there for Lunenburg), signed bonds undertaking that their cargoes were to be used for food purposes only.

ANSWERS.

(1) The schooner Ronald G. Smith, a British registered vessel of Lunenburg, took a cargo of herring from Placentia Bay, consisting of 250 barrels of frozen and 50 barrels of pickled herring, clearing at Burin for Halifax on the 2nd March. The Government has no information as to what use the herring were put to.

(2) The Government are not aware that the cargo of the Juanita was used to bait bankers at Lunenburg.

(3) The masters of the Coronation, Juanita and Ronald G. Smith signed the usual bonds.

Ladies of Culture and Refinement Use Salvia Hair Tonic. It Makes the Hair Beautiful.

At last a remedy has been discovered that will positively destroy this pest.

That Dandruff is caused by germs is accepted by every sensible person. Dandruff is the root of all hair evils.

SALVIA will kill the Dandruff germs and remove Dandruff in ten days, or money back.

McMurdo & Co. guarantee it. It will grow hair, stop itching scalp, falling hair, and make the hair thick and abundant. It prevents hair from turning gray, and adds life and lustre.

SALVIA is a hair dressing that has become the favorite with women of taste and culture, who know the social value of beautiful hair. A large, generous bottle costs only 50c., at leading druggists everywhere, and in St. John's by McMurdo & Co. The word "SALVIA" (Latin for sage) is on every bottle, and sold at all first-class Drug Stores.
