

The 'Leader' Grafonola!

The "Leader" is a veritable triumph of the Columbia Company's. It is a beautiful instrument and possesses all the charm of the Grafonola at its very best. It has full, rich, melodic tones that can be heard at will, so as to make it suitable for a parlour, or again can be made to produce a magnificent volume of sound that just as easily fills a large hall. The name—forms a handloom. Come and hear

A Great Mistake.

By RUTH CAMERON.

One of the greatest mistakes of my life is not to have kept a scrap book.
 What we read means a great deal to most of us. We find our own d u m b thoughts expressed as we should have liked to express them had we the gift of speech. We find new vistas of thought; we find scraps of philosophy that influence our lives, and bits of poetry that feed our souls.
 Now some of these things we find in books, either books that are fortunate enough to own, or books that we have borrowed from a friend or a library and cannot afford to possess.
 But I do not think I should exaggerate if I said that at least half of the printed words that strike fire from our hearts we find in the magazines and newspapers. And these we may have to keep without any expense if we will only take the trouble to wield a pair of shears for half a minute.
 How strange that so few people will take that much pains.
 Something about South America came up in a conversation the other day and the other party said, "There, that reminds me of a story about South America that I saw while ago in a magazine. Did you read it? I tell you it was great. It illustrates just what we were saying. 'I'll try and find it for you.'"
 But of course he forgot to hunt it up and when he remembered the magazine was not to be found.

The echo of a bit of poetry I read in a magazine has been haunting me for months, but I can't remember which publication it was in, and as our old magazines were given away during my absence on a journey I have no way to locate it. When I saw it I meant to save it, but no scrap book was waiting for it and so I didn't. And now I'd gladly pay the price of a whole volume of poems for that one. Incidentally perhaps some of my reader friends can tell me where to find it. The last and only line I can remember was "if you were kneeling at my feet, I'd neither stay nor care."
 A friend of mine has kept scrap books since her childhood. She has perhaps twenty or thirty of them. They are not so large as the old-fashioned scrap books and hence can stand up in her book case like ordinary books. Some contain poems and scraps of philosophy. One particularly interesting book is filled with likenesses.

We frequently see pictures in newspapers and magazines that remind us of some friend, but when we come to show the likeness to that friend we can't find it. This woman has kept all these likenesses and they make a most interesting volume in her set of scrap books.
 I notice that she consults the two bookcases that hold her scrap books much more often than she does the other ten which are filled with ordinary books.
 Several times I have started scrap books and grown weary in well doing. But it is never too late to mend. Tomorrow I'm going to start a new one. Will you join me?

CATARRH NEVER STOPS IN SAME PLACE REACHES THE LUNGS—DEVELOPES CONSUMPTION

TO STOP A COLD QUICKLY AND PREVENT CATARRH, USE "CATARRHOZONE."

Nothing more serious than the common cold.

If it gains headway you can't stop it from running into Catarrh, deafness, or serious throat trouble.

Catarrh spreads very fast.

From nose to throat it goes in a day. Soon the Bronchial tubes are affected—and before you know it, unless very healthy the lungs are hit, and it's too late.

While you have the chance, drive colds and Catarrh right out of the system.

You can quickly do so by inhaling the rich piney vapor of Catarrhozone.

Right to where the living germ of Catarrh is working will the healing fumes of Catarrhozone go in ten seconds.
 No liquid medicine can penetrate to the deep recesses that Catarrhozone bathes with its soothing vapor—that's just why it proves so wonderfully effective.
 The health-laden vapor of Catarrhozone cures the worst of coughs and hoarseness. The uttermost parts of the bronchial tubes are reached. Bronchitis is cured—every cell in the head, throat and nose is treated by Catarrhozone's wonderful fumes.
 You can't beat Catarrhozone for huskiness, weak throat, sore nostrils, catarrhal and bronchial trouble of any kind. Get the complete $1.00 outfit. Smaller size 50c. Trial size 25c., at dealers everywhere.

Patagonia.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Sitwash."

Patagonia is the name given to the tail of South America which is about as useful as the "tail" of a porterhouse steak. It is a little larger than the State of Texas and is not overcrowded. Although it has been settled for almost 400 years there is still room for the newcomer to edge in and take up a valley or country or congressional district for a door yard.

The population has never been accurately counted because the census enumerators generally wore out a pair of shoes between each house and abandoned the job in disgust, but it is believed that if the Patagonians were to rally as one man they would be sufficiently numerous to make a fair-sized audience at a big league baseball game.

Patagonia is usually supposed to be the home of giant savages who eat the rash visitor in a careless and casual manner. This has given the country a bad name and nobody uses it for a summer resort though the temperature seldom goes above eighty. There are savages in Patagonia, but four hundred years of contact with civilized people has been too hard on them and they only number about 100. As the country is 1,500 miles long by 800 miles wide it would not be hard to dodge these people even if they were not so busy dodging the white man.

Patagonia was formed by nature in an extravagant and careless mood. She scattered mountains over half of it and debris over much of the remainder. Half of the country is only fit to be sold at long range to restless farmers by eloquent land agents and why American real estate men have not seized the golden opportunity to pick this stuff up at one cent an acre, payable in installments, and sell it for fine wheat and orchard land is a mystery. It is so unlike them.

 Patagonia belongs mostly to Argentina and can be reached by dropping overboard on the way to Cape Horn and swimming ashore—though there are a few railroads in the northern part. It is a dreary fizzle as a country and the hardy settlers who are trying to make it boom are as lonely as an ex-republican boss in Congress.

Situation in Mexico

Special to the Evening Telegram.
 WASHINGTON, April 22.
 The German ship Ypiranga docked at Vera Cruz to-day. American marines took charge of 2,000,000 rounds of ammunition and 250 field guns, which the ship was carrying for Huerta.

HAVANA, April 22.
 Ten thousand boxes of ammunition and 25 machine guns consigned to the Federal Commander at Vera Cruz, have been removed from the steamer Monterey, by orders from New York. This consignment will be deposited in the government powder magazines.

LAREDO, Texas, April 22.
 Garrett, the United States Consul at Nuevo Laredo, in Mexico, to-day served warnings upon all Americans remaining in the district about Nuevo Laredo to cross into the States at once. Garrett urged them to sacrifice their belongings and make speed.

WASHINGTON, April 22.
 "I am sorry, terribly sorry," were President Wilson's first words, when the news of loss of life at the taking of Vera Cruz first reached him. Today the President was sad and disheartened. As he walked to his office, his head bowed, his face was a study in deep feeling and gravity.

WASHINGTON, April 22.
 Reinforcements from Rear-Admiral Badger's fleet landed to-day at Vera Cruz under the guns of the American warships to render aid in taking the entire city of Vera Cruz, according to official advices to the Navy Department. The consul reported to-day to the State department that 150 Mexicans were killed and wounded yesterday at Vera Cruz.

VERA CRUZ, April 22.
 Landing parties from vessels of the American fleet, under Rear-Admiral Badger, were greeted with quite general firing from snipers, when the boats approached the shores at 4.30 this morning. Mexican sharpshooters occupied the roofs of houses in the central part of the city and were able to fire down upon the American marines and bluejackets as they neared land from the vessels lying off shore.

VERA CRUZ, April 22.
 General Maas, Commander of the Port, and most of his soldiers have disappeared. It is reported that they have fled to Soledad Town to the northwest of Vera Cruz, where the Mexican and Inter-oceanic railroad effect a junction. The American marines are maintaining possession without taking any further offensive action. "Fire only when you are fired upon," is the order that has been issued to the United States marines and sailors.

WASHINGTON, April 22.
 General Huerta has handed Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American Charge d'Affaires at Mexico City, his passports, and recalled Senor Algara, the Mexican Charge at Washington, according to high authority. This act breaks off diplomatic relations between the two countries. Senor Algara said at the Embassy to-day that he had received several messages from his government, which indicated that he might be recalled at any moment, but he had not been ordered to ask for his passports. He looked for such order to come at any time, he said. Secretary Bryan, denies that O'Shaughnessy has been asked by Huerta to leave Mexico.
