

Drip, Drip Fetch a Bucket!

HOW often have you caught rain drops — or melting snow—from the inside of your building, or made a mental note to fix that leaky barn?

Then there's the expense side of it all. How much do you spend yearly in the upkeep of your roofs?

A leaky roof is the equivalent of a leaky purse. Stop this unnecessary spending—stop it now. Simple with

NOLEAK—The Perfect Roof Covering

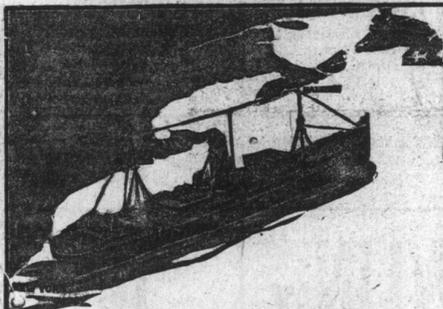

Just trowel NOLEAK 1/16 of an inch thick right over the present covering. No patching, ripping or any expensive preparation. Brush off the old roof; trowel on NOLEAK and then sit back for 15 years' freedom from all roof troubles.

It's as easy to apply NOLEAK as it is to butter bread—and your roof needs NOLEAK every bit as much as your body needs food and heat.

Call in next time you're passing. Make it soon. I'll repay you big!

Board of Trade Meeting.

Lengthy Debate---Nothing Conclusive Accomplished---Amended Resolution Accepted.

After spending more than an hour in quibbling over the wording of a resolution prepared by its Council, the largely attended meeting of the Board of Trade adjourned yesterday, without having accomplished anything worth while. The original resolution was passed in an amended form. The Prime Minister attended the meeting not in his official capacity, but as a member of the Board of Trade. Mr. C. R. Duder, Vice President of the Board of Trade was chairman.

RESOLUTION PROPOSED.

After explaining the reason for the meeting which was to consider the Prime Minister's reply to the resolutions passed by the Board and presented to him, Mr. Duder read a resolution to the effect that a committee should be appointed with a view to reducing taxation and expenditure. He read the letter which accompanied the Board's resolutions which had been submitted to the Government and also messages from the outports concurring with the stand the local Board of Trade had taken on the questions of tariff reform and reduction of the Estimates. All these messages have appeared in the press. Mr. Duder said that two days after he had interviewed the Premier in connection with the resolutions, he had received a message from Sir Richard asking for a signed petition. This was obtained and the result was known to all. As no reply was received to this, a further letter was sent to the Prime Minister, and on Thursday afternoon a reply was received and was laid before the Council of the Board of Trade. It was then decided that the reply should be laid before a general meeting of the Board.

THE PREMIER'S REPLY.

The reply sent by the Prime Minister to the Board of Trade petition was as follows:—

April 13, 1922.

E. A. Payn, Esq.,
Secretary Board of Trade.

Dear sir,—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the ninth instant forwarding four copies of printed resolutions considered at a meeting held in the Board of Trade rooms some days ago, to which are appended certain signatures.

On the 8th instant Mr. C. R. Duder, Vice-President of the Board of Trade, the Chairman of the meeting referred to, called upon me and handed me a letter of April fifth over his signature to which was annexed, unsigned, printed copy of the resolutions.

These resolutions, together with the original resolutions printed and circulated by the Board of Trade of which the printed resolutions forwarded are a modification, were then discussed by Mr. Duder and myself and I pointed out to him in brief my reply to the various recitals and paragraphs of the resolutions both original and as modified. I also pointed out to Mr.

Duder that up to the time your Council had printed and circulated the original resolutions neither the Council or anybody on behalf of the Board of Trade had approached me with respect thereto. I showed Mr. Duder copy of the Estimates for the coming year, discussed with him various Departmental votes and at his request immediately telephoned the clerk of the House of Assembly asking him to forward you copy of the Estimates, which I understand the clerk did promptly. I told Mr. Duder that I would forward him copy if a spare one could be secured, but doubted very much whether that would be possible as the number of copies printed were merely such number as were sufficient for the House of Assembly and would be reprinted with such alterations as would be made in them by the House.

I submitted both sets of resolutions together with Mr. Duder's letter of date the 8th instant, and your letter of the 11th, to the first meeting of Committee of Council held after their receipt, and have the pleasure of informing you that Committee of Council would be glad to receive for consideration and discussion with you any views which you as Secretary of the Board of Trade, Mr. Duder as Vice-President and Chairman of the meeting, or any Committee which the Board of Trade desires to appoint, may have to submit for consideration.

With respect to that portion of your resolutions in which you refer to the Income Tax in which members of the Board of Trade are deeply interested, I have to say that I have already informed you that the consideration of that matter by Committee of the House would be delayed until the Committee which you have appointed in this matter has had an opportunity of submitting its recommendations.

Very truly yours,

S(gd.) R. A. SQUIRES,
Prime Minister.

THE INCOME TAX.

Mr. Duder dwelt briefly upon some of the matters which he had discussed with the Prime Minister. With reference to the Income Tax, he said that he had been assured that this would not be applied in a discriminatory manner. So far as he could see, the only answer that the Board of Trade could make to the Government was to appoint from among its members a committee which would make suggestions as to the best methods of reducing expenditure and tariff. He then put the resolution before the meeting and asked for a mover and seconder. Mr. W. White moved that the resolution should be adopted and Mr. E. A. Bowring seconded the motion.

OBJECTS TO RESOLUTION.

Mr. A. B. Morine took exception to the wording of the resolution. His objection was that the committee might make suggestions which would not have the approval of the entire Board of Trade, and if accepted by the Government, the responsibility would be upon the Board. He suggested that the resolution should be amended so as to have the Committee refer their recommendations to a general meeting of the Board before offering them to the Government. The Board in any case should not assert to themselves the right to dictate to the Government as to what reductions ought to be made. The Government alone was in a position to take action in this connection. It would be assuming a dangerous attitude and a useless one, to attempt to dictate to the men who know all. He suggested an amendment to the resolution. Mr. W. G. Gosling did not agree with Mr. Morine. He did not suppose for an instant that the Government would turn over any of its powers to any body but it seemed to him that the Board of Trade could offer assistance. If necessary, the committee could report back to the Board. He thought that taxation should be reduced to permit producers to make a profit, and if the revenue were not sufficient to make both ends meet, then we should have to borrow again. He favoured the appointment of a committee as suggested in the original resolution.

MISUNDERSTOOD.

Mr. L. C. Outerbridge said that the first speaker was under an entire misapprehension of the plain English of the resolution. The Board of Trade would not be committing themselves in any way but merely wanted the committee to offer assistance on any point on which assistance might be necessary. The object of the appointment of the Committee was simply and solely to give any information that the Government had not got and that they were only too willing to give. Last year eight bankers of Belleoram had all bumper catches and yet each one of them lost $5000 owing to the high rate of taxation. If this were to continue the Bank Fishery would have to be wound up. There was nothing in the resolution that the wording of it did not actually say. Mr. Morine asked what other assistance could be offered beyond an expression of opinion on what should be done. He was opposed to the resolution in its original form.

Mr. Outerbridge suggested that the resolution should be reworded.

Some further discussion took place. Mr. White offering to withdraw his support of the original resolution and offering to support the amendment. Mr. Bowring held to the original form. Mr. C. Marshall seconded the amended form. Mr. Howley said that if the amended resolution were accepted capital might be made out of the fact that it was proposed by an active politician. No matter what the imperfections of the original resolution were, it would be better coming from a non-partisan body of men, anxious to help the country out of the mess which it is in. Mr. White submitted a re-worded resolution and this was seconded by Mr. Bowring. Mr. F. Bradshaw suggested that the Prime Minister should be asked to give his opinion.

PREMIER SPEAKS.

Sir Richard Squires said that he was present as a member of the Board of Trade and not as Prime Minister. He said he would be happy to submit any suggestions received from a committee of the Board to Committee of Council. Nothing would give him greater pleasure than to confer with such a committee. He quoted figures to show how difficult it would be to return to 1913-1914 conditions. He again repeated his statement that he would be delighted to confer with a Board of Trade committee.

The resolution as amended, was then put to the meeting and carried unanimously.

RESOLUTION.

This meeting being firmly convinced of the immediate necessity of a general reduction in taxation, and consequently a corresponding reduction in expenditure, hereby empowers the Council of the Board of Trade to appoint a Committee to meet the Prime Minister in accordance with his request, and to ascertain the points on which the Government require our assistance for action by the Council of the Board of Trade.

The Wrong Address Again.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—I noticed in your paper last night that occupier of 147 Leckerhart Road suggests the person having lost the three five dollar bills at the London New York Paris Store, lived at 147 Patrick Street. I wish to state that I live at the latter address and no one in my household has had the misfortune to lose any money. Would the person that has lost the money put in their advertisement the correct address and save further inconvenience.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for taking up the valuable space in your paper, I am,

Yours very truly,

SEALERS DRIFT WITH ICE IN OPEN BOATS—TUG BRINGS THEM TO PORT.

After sailing all last night and a few hours of this morning adrift in the ice in two open motor boats, eight residents of the Battery who went out sealing early yesterday, reached the city this morning. The boats were towed in by the tug "Hugh D." which left at 1 a.m. to look for the missing men. The occupants of the boats are none the worse for their unpleasant experience. The strong S.W. wind which was blowing last night took the ice off the land, but while it was a rather chilly night the boats crews made themselves as comfortable as circumstances would permit.

Star Club Dance.

The Star Club Dance held in the Star of the Sea Association Club Rooms last night was attended by over 400 people. The affair proved very enjoyable, and the music by the Empire Band was of an exceptionally pleasing character. The Club is to be congratulated on the success of their effort.

Schooner Nancy Lee is now loading at Monroes premises and sails for Brazil during the week.
