Wreck-strewn Shores

The South of Ireland Swept by a Furious Storm.
Heavy Gales and Rain Prevail in France and Spain.

A Number of Vessels Go to the Bottom and Many Lives Lost.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The steamers British and City of New York sailed from Liverpool for New York in the teeth of the gale. An immense wave boarded the British and carried overboard Quarter-master MacKenzie.

THE STEAMER HAWKLAND, engaged in the coasting trade, was wrecked at the mouth of the Mersey last night. She was blown to the full force of the gale, and exposed to her full power. The crew of 200 men were rescued from the wreck.

THE GALE IN THE SOUTH OF IRELAND with great fury. Many houses at Skibbereen and other places have been blown down. A fishing smack sailing from Bantry reached home yesterday morning. She was caught in the full force of the storm. Four of her crew were swept overboard.

Several vessels were wrecked at Fecamp in the English Channel. The rescue of the crew was attended with exciting scenes. One man was drowned. The fishermen along the coast suffered heavy losses in boats and gear. Two smacks of Cherbourg with their crews, numbering ten men, are missing. A hospital at Locort took fire during the gale, and the flames spread with such rapidity that the ordinary means of extinguishing the fire were of no avail.

A TORPEDO BOAT SUNK.
A French torpedo boat was capsized in the Bay of Biscay during the hurricane. The crew was saved.

BOULEGNE, Nov. 13.—Nothing but a rough estimate can be made of the damage done by the terrible storm which set in here Tuesday night, and which, without abatement, lasted until Wednesday night. A large number of houses in the town were unroofed and outbuildings were blown down. Up and down the coast the loss of life and property must have been very heavy. In the vicinity of Boulogne many fishing boats were caught in the gale far from port, and they have not returned.

THE STORM IN PORTUGAL.
LISBON, Nov. 13.—A great storm prevailed yesterday on the coast of Portugal. The wind blew with hurricane-like fury.

MADEIRA, Nov. 13.—Heavy gales and rains prevail throughout Spain. Telegraphic communication is everywhere interrupted. The storm is especially severe on the northern coast, where the waves are running high. A Spanish mail steamer launched yesterday at Villavieja was capsized; five of her crew were drowned.

THE SLOOP JOLLA was wrecked at Bilbao yesterday. Eight of her crew were drowned.

AN UNKNOWN BARK STRANDED OFF KINSALE, Ireland, yesterday. The sea makes a clean sweep over her, so far it is impossible to assist either by sending out the local lifeboat or by firing a line to her by means of rockets. It is feared that the whole of the crew will be drowned.

THE GALE IN FRANCE.
PARIS, Nov. 13.—Wednesday's gale caused immense amount of damage in all parts of France. Many temporary buildings devoted to panoramas, circuses and the like were destroyed. Two persons were killed at Pavilly by falling debris. A youth had his neck broken at Havre by being struck by the covering of a van which had been blown off by the gale.

CYCLONE IN PENNSYLVANIA.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 11.—The town of Kensington, twenty miles north of this place, was visited by a cyclone and heavy rain storm last night. A number of buildings in course of erection were completely wrecked and cellars were badly flooded.

NATURAL GAS AT DUNVILLE, Ont.
DUNVILLE, Ont., Nov. 11.—Today the natural gas found in the Medina rock at a depth of 780 feet. The flow of gas enables the company to furnish all the town requires for heating and manufacturing purposes.

A WAR SCARE!

Somebody Says Hostilities Cannot be Postponed Beyond Spring.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The Times says: "A letter has been received in this city within the last few days from an officer on the general staff of the German Emperor, which declares that war in Europe cannot be postponed beyond next spring. The importance of this letter is all the greater in view of the fact that it has been received by the official of the United States Government. The communication is understood to have been dictated by the Emperor himself. It declares there is no doubt about the massing of the troops of the Czar on the frontiers of Austria, Germany and Roumania. It is said that the Russian force put on the frontiers represents 90 per cent. of the effective strength of the Russian army."

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—The North German Gazette, commenting on the recent speeches of Lord Salisbury and the Marquis of Rudin, concludes that Great Britain and Italy are fully resolved to throw into the scale a weighty word to maintain an equilibrium in Europe if peace should be threatened. The Gazette warmly commends Lord Salisbury's decision not to loosen the English hold in Egypt.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 13.—The authorities of the Russian War Office have resolved to construct a line of forts along the Alcock frontier to increase the number of officers in Central Asia.

GOSSIP OF TO-DAY.
The "bang" is called "fringe" in England. Green is still the color rage of Paris for outdoor wear. Mr. Gladstone gets fifty cents a word for his magazine articles. The football season has been formally opened, and cricket and cricket are quoted firm and in demand.

Hundreds of fish are still alive in the royal aquarium in St. Petersburg that were placed there more than 150 years ago. The sea post office system recently established on ocean steamers to Europe saves fully five hours in the time of delivery of mail.

Mrs. Jeane Miller is the happy mother of a big bouncing baby daughter, and it is diamonds to diamonds that she went away with her new dress reformers around telling her how to rig it out. French watches take the form and colors of a flower. A beautifully enameled pagoda with a diamond edge has a timepiece beneath its petals. It is fastened with a diamond headed pin on the left side of the bodice.

The Polish Count Grabowski is a fireman on a Pan Handle locomotive. He is a manly and well educated young fellow, with an excellent record of service in the German army, but he is thoroughly content with his situation. A correspondent sends the following touching example of conjugal affection: "Mr. and Mrs. A. have returned to town and will celebrate their silver wedding on the 15th inst. N.B.—Intending givers of presents can be supplied with a list of suitable gifts on application to Mrs. A."

Who shall say on reading this that civilization is a failure? A Lyman man is responsible for the following: "As I went to the train one morning I saw a brown dog coming full speed with a letter in his mouth. He went straight to a letter-box. The postman had just closed the box and was about 20 or 30 yards off when the dog arrived. Seeing him the sagacious animal went after him and the letter transferred to the bag. He then walked home quietly."

CRICKET.
C. W. Alcock, the genial secretary of the Surrey County Cricket Club, has a plan on hand to bring together several chosen cricketers in a grand international contest at Chicago during the World's Fair in '93. Mr. Alcock has written Mr. Spaulding relative to the scheme, but late in October had not received an answer from three countries at least would be certain. Teams from England, Australia and the United States would gladly go in for such a contest. Then Ireland, Scotland and Cape Colony could easily select teams from their many celebrated wicket-keepers.

THE KENNEL.
CHATHAM, Nov. 12.—The trials continued today. The weather was unfavorable in the morning, but improved in the afternoon. The Derby stakes were finished to-day and prizes awarded as follows: First prize, T. G. Davey's (London) English setter Rialto. Second, Edward Gillman's (Detroit) English setter May II. Third, W. B. Wells' (Chatham) English setter Luke. Fourth, T. J. Johnson's (Winnipeg) English setter Manitoba Patti.

The all-aged stakes commenced at noon. The entries numbered eight brace drawn as follows: T. G. Davey's pointer Westminster Drake and W. B. Wells' English setter Luke. T. G. Davey's pointer Lady Patch and T. G. Davey's pointer English setter Manitoba. Thomas Johnson's English setter Manitoba. T. G. Davey's pointer Canadian Jester and Hess Milliken's pointer Count Graphic.

Mathers & Huddleston's English setter Dart and W. B. Wells' English setter Cambridge. W. B. Wells' English setter Ighitefield. Thomas Johnson's pointer Ighitefield. Upton and George Kime's English setter Roper. G. Kime's English setter Lady Spot and L. Hilsendeg's (Detroit) Irish setter Dan O'Connell. Six pairs were run off in this event to-day leaving the last two to be run off to-morrow.

The decision of the judges, Mr. L. H. Smith, of London, and Mr. J. Davidson, of Montreal, and Dr. Nicholls, Chatham, gave general satisfaction.

The bitter controversy between Panellite and McCarthyites regarding the Bolognese negotiations continues. The increasing impairment of his eyesight is causing great anxiety to Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the leader of the Liberal Unionists. He has been in bed for several days. A secret society which has been instrumental in causing the uprising in Hunan, has been captured in Soe Chow and brought to Shanghai, but he refuses to disclose anything.

At the International Peace Congress now in session at Rome, the principal speech to-day was made by Mr. Mary Frost Ormsby, of New York. Her subject was "The real cause and real cure of war." In her opinion the real cause of war is the selfishness of man. Mason, the English customs official, who made an attempt to smuggle arms into China and put himself forward as a possible leader of rebellion, has been examined before the British police court at Shanghai. The affair was merely an attempt on Mason's part to attain notoriety, and had no political significance.

SPEAKER BALLANTYNE AT LISTOWEL.
Hon. Mr. Ballantyne spoke on Judge Fife's decision re the responsibility for supplying good milk to the cheese factories, in other words, the Mathieson case decision. Mr. Ballantyne said it was an unfortunate decision, and intimated that it would necessitate action on the part of the Dairyman's Association. He declared that the intention of those who framed the law was to make the man who was paid for pure milk responsible for delivering it to the factory, and that the fact of deterioration should be taken as evidence of guilt when there was no evidence of a direct cause. Professor Ballantyne's speech was a very able and interesting one, and he was warmly received by the audience.

Looks Like a Birell Case.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—What looks like a Birell case has just come to light here. A former manager of the Hudson Bay Company at Victoria, left his wife here and went to Los Angeles seeking investment for $5,000 which he carried with him. He served several times detaining places he had visited, and then the letters suddenly stopped. From that time his wife has been unable to secure a single clue to his fate. Being a proud Englishwoman, she has been unable to believe that her husband would have been so easily deceived to some lonely canyon and murdered for his money. He has wealthy relatives in Canada.

FAITH CURED HIM!

Rev. Henry Wilson Devotes His Life to Helping Faith Cure Others.

Was a Canadian and Dr. Rainsford's Helper in New York.

Action by His Bishop Expected—A Strange Case.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The action of Rev. Henry Wilson, D.D., in resigning his position as senior assistant minister of St. George's Episcopal Church and joining the faith curists under the Rev. A. B. Simpson, is causing no small excitement in Episcopal circles. Although Dr. Wilson's withdrawal from St. George's is a matter of history, it having occurred last June, his entrance upon the work of the faith curists was more recent, and is a surprise which greatly puzzles the clergymen with whom he formerly was associated. The situation is an interesting one for the Episcopal Church, because of the discipline of the church, and the fact that Dr. Wilson, a minister in the church, is devoting all of his time to the faith cure, or doctrine of divine healing, which is contrary to his vows when he took holy orders.

Dr. Wilson was assigned to the mission on Avenue A, connected with St. George's, and the vestrymen of the church objected to his resignation. They learned that Dr. Wilson was formerly rector of St. George's Cathedral at Kingston, Canada, and was at that time an ardent supporter of the faith cure. He was suspended from office by the dean, and when he still refused to sever his connection with the faith curists, he was dismissed from the ministry in November. Coming to New York soon after, he was made assistant under the Rev. Dr. Rainsford at St. George's Church, and held the position for nearly six years. When the vestrymen of the church learned that his resignation would be acceptable to the Episcopal Church, and that he was willing to resign, they were surprised to find that he was still connected with the faith curists, and that he was still a member of the faith curist society.

His daughter, Miss Madeline Wilson, also withdrew from the church, and has devoted herself to the work of the faith cure. Dr. Wilson's resignation was a surprise to all who knew him. He was a man of high standing in the church, and his withdrawal from it was a matter of great importance. The faith curists, however, are a small body, and their influence is not great. Dr. Wilson's resignation, therefore, is not likely to have any great effect on the church.

When a reporter called at the boarding house No. 523 West Forty-second street, where Dr. Wilson is a guest at present, the reverend Episcopal faith curist was not inclined to talk about his change of heart. He would only say that he stood by his resignation at St. George's Church and his statement of "testimony" as furnished to the Christian Alliance. Dr. Wilson's experience statement is partly as follows: "I was always able to express faith, and especially spiritual verities. At the age of 25 I left college, very much broken down through overwork, and entered the ministry in a parish where for 17 years I labored with a weak body, frequently injured by accidents almost fatal; for years a prey to dyspepsia of the worst kind; to liver disease and all its attendant miseries, with nervous depression and fainting fits after the slightest unusual exertion; a burden to myself, a source of constant anxiety to my family and friends, a nuisance to the doctors and a kind of walking apothecary shop. I dragged through my work with what sickly weariness and infirmities only only know who have suffered like things. I came to New York in the fall of 1883 in great weakness of body and physically unfit for most ministerial work."

"A dear friend invited me to attend one of Dr. Wilson's meetings in the Tabernacle of Divine Healing. God's mercy gave me the spirit of a little child and the willingness to be counted a fool for Christ's sake, and I prayed him to take away from my mind all prejudice, so that if his doctrine of Divine Healing were indeed his truth I might receive it."

"Having once seen Jesus as never before and accepting him as my life for soul and body, the rest was easy. I was anointed for healing, consecration and service. From that hour of blessing, never to be forgotten, peace has reigned in my soul and health in my body, both working for him with a vigor and freshness never before known."

"I am a younger man in every faculty of my being than I was twenty years ago. More than twice the work ever attempted by me is now done with ease and pleasure, never before."

"The body that hardly for years knew what one day's freedom from pain was, now rejoices in robust health. I have neither tooth nor touched medicine for three years. To be able to do all the good I am able to do is a great blessing."

An Episcopal clergyman, who is very close to Bishop Potter, said yesterday: "Yes, I have learned that the Rev. Henry Wilson has been cured of his dyspepsia by the faith cure. I understand that he has joined the faith curists."

"The question of Dr. Wilson's status in the Episcopal Church is a grave one, and will be fully considered before charges are preferred against him. His license to preach could probably be revoked upon the same grounds that resulted in his dismissal from the ministry in Canada."

The Gospel Tabernacle was crowded with pale-faced girls and sickly men yesterday, who hurried to the inner sanctuary, where they were rubbed with holy oil by Dr. Wilson, and the power and prayer invoked for the removal of their bodily ailments. Thousands of sick people are alleged to have been cured, and the work of divine healing is becoming of enormous extent.

TRAIN ROBBERS AT WORK.

But They Fail to Secure Any Booty—Two Gangs of Operators Felled.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—A train from Chicago on the Milwaukee and St. Paul road was held up by robbers yesterday near Western Union Junction. They caught the engineer to stop the train by pointing a revolver at his head. They then demanded of the press messenger that he open the safe of the train, which he refused to do. The conductor was taken prisoner. The robbers then broke in a window of the car and threw in some kind of an explosive, which forced out and ended the car. They then opened the express messenger with a revolver, and tried to make him open the safe. This he refused to do, and the safes were thrown out of the car. In the meantime the rear brakeman rushed back to the junction for help and an engine. The engine and posse went to the scene and the robbers fled. The train went on to Milwaukee, and the fast mail train, which leaves Chicago at 3 a.m., picked up the safes and carried them to Milwaukee.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 13.—A Birmingham, Ala., dispatch tells of an unsuccessful attempt to capture a passenger train from Cincinnati at the Queen and Crescent bridge at Collinsville, Ala. Fifteen well-dressed men captured the station and laid in wait for the train due at 10 o'clock. An officer, however, appeared and drove the gang away. Three or four returned as the train came in and attempted to board it. Trainmen and citizens fired on them and they fled. One who was wounded was captured.

Police Magistrate Chadwick, of Ingersoll, had a narrow escape the other evening from being seriously injured while going upstairs to his office, which is situated in the second story of Richardson's block. When he arrived on the landing at the top of the stairs he took two or three steps forward, and as the hallway was dark he plunged head first down a back stairway leading out into the rear of the store. Fortunately he got off with a few bruises and a severe shaking up.

The congregation of St. John's Church, Tillsonburg, will soon be provided with a commodious parish room, which, when completed, will greatly add to the appearance of the church. It will include a main building, with a vestry, in which there will be full accommodation for the surplus choir of the church. It will also be used for parish meetings and social gatherings in connection with the church. The cost of the improvements, when completed, will be in the neighborhood of $400. This also includes the new spire or belfry. Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, will deliver an address at the Woodstock College on Tuesday evening, Nov. 17. Everybody is invited.

An export entry was made at the customs house, Woodstock, on Tuesday, for 7,750 barrels of apples going to England. The municipal machinery in Woodstock has been clogged by a pro-drafts recognition by the ward councilors. In the meantime payment of all accounts has been suspended. The mayor and reeves strenuously opposed the over-draft, and the finance committee cautioned delay in passing the accounts until they were properly certified to. The ward councilors refused to do this, as their action might incur personal liability. If the accounts were ordered to be paid by the council, they were willing to certify to their correctness. This was not done, with the result that the

A BRUTAL DOCTOR
Tears Open a Man's Wound Because He Got No Fee.
COMBERLAND, Md., Nov. 13.—Tuesday morning Frank Laffin was walking along the railroad tracks when he fell into a cattle guard, cutting a fearful gash in his leg. Friends carried him to the office of Dr. Craigen, the county physician. The doctor examined the wound, and, after dressing it, put several stitches in it, and then asked for his pay, which was $2. The men were surprised, as they thought, he being the county physician, there would be no charge. The doctor said if they did not pay him he would undo his work. They insisted they were penniless, and the doctor then cut the stitches, undoing his work. The mayor will call the attention of the State's attorney to the matter. Dr. Craigen is the physician in charge of the jail, almshouse and insane asylum, and is also a member of the United States Pension Board of Examining Physicians for this district.
