A prophet, it has been said, is not without honor save in his own country and among his own kindred. The Hon W H Seward was honored here as few men even of our own nation have been honored. Our citizens saw in him the representative of a great nation with rough men shudder and turn away; whom they desire to live on friendly and yet it is unblushingly trotted out terms. Moreover they saw in him a and publicly aired by a delicate and reclass of talents and a long and brilliant fined (?) The fruit of this infamous connection lived four years and was kindly cared for by Lady Byron, in whose arms the mother died ! It was Byron's consciousness that his wife had discovered this crime which drove him so near to madness, and inspired him with the intense hatred of her which be manifested afterwards. Now, all
