The following is a sample of just one of its favorable provisions. Suppose a man, aged 33 years at entry, should find himself unable to continue payments, his policy would stand good, without any action on his part, for nearly as much longer as it had already been in force, provided he had paid not less than three years. Should he die within three years after he has ceased payment, the unpaid premiums, with 6 per cent, interest would be deducted, but if death happens AFTER three years, under the extension, the face of the Policy will be naid in full.
