his intolerant and scurillous attack on Mr.

But though The Witness has been the pretended champion for years of equal rights to all and privileges to none, and has posed as the exponent of Protestant principles in regard to government and the relation of creeds to the state, it has allowed its Grit leanings and its party prejudices to see no great difference in the stand taken by Mr. Meredith and Sir Oliver Mowat in their appeal to the people of Ontario. A week or so ago The Witness undertook to review the situation in Optario, and its William The Municipal Light Plant.

One business at least is booming in Toronto. We refer to the bicycle trade. There monthly meeting in their hall last night, are two features connected with the business that ought to be remedied. The consumer should not be obliged to pay a duty of thirty per cent. on these machines. That is the first complaint. The second is that the machines sold in Canada are for the most part of foreign make. The Parlisment of Canada has in its hands a remedy that the machines sold in the part of the graves in the Society's plot in St. James Cemetery.

A resolution of sympathy with the children of Mr. and Mrs. William Hope, who have both died during the past month, was perfectly considered to make arrangements for the improvement of the appearance of the graves in the Society's plot in St. James Cemetery.

A prohibitive duty will both reduce the price the consumer is charged for bicycles and it will cause the machines to be made in Canada. The bicycle that is seld to-day weighs from twenty to thirty pounds and costs from $100 to $150. The cost of the raw-material is a small item in the aggregate expenses involved in the making of sypenses involved in the making of a machine. The principal item of expense in the construction of a machine is skilled labor. The Canadian market for bioycles is already big enough to maintain neveral large factories if these factories were assured of all the Canadian trade. There is no reason why we cannot make as good a bicycle in Toronto as they make in Coventry, and just about as cheap, too, if Coventry, and just about as cheap, too, if and equally as cheap. We do not know that we have ever seen or principle than in this case of The Witness. It beats the previous desertion of Equal Rights by some of its clerical leaders and advocates four years ago.

Have the desertion in the affirmative. Such supply is properly a municipal service, and if it can be had in this way at less cost, the argument for the change is conclusive. From the report of the City Engineer, taken in connection with other advocates four years ago. We are not afraid to say that there is not known facts, the change seems to promis We are not afraid to say that there is not a spark of intolerance in the constitution of The World. We respect the rights of all. We believe that the formation of a Canadian nationality is only possible by the exercise of toleration and conciliation. Catholics are, and ought to be, just as good as Protestants and possessed of just as many rights. But Catholics are not entitled to special privileges. Sir Oliver Mowat has been conceding such privileges right along, and in return therefor he and The Globe and The Montreal Witness are demanding for him a solid Catholic vote and his continuation in office. The building is not intended for the use of young ladies who live in Toronto, but for those who reside sutside the city and come here to acquire the higher education that is obtainable in this university centre. There is no doubt hatsuch a building as is contemplated by the Women's Residence Association is very much needed for the young women attending University College.
