(9) When keeping fowls in yards there is nothing more essential to learn than when not to feed. To have courage to withhold is an important requisite in management. Fed too often, they become idle and profitless.

(10) Poultry in yards would give better returns than if on a range if properly managed, but to give a small flock the proper attention would cost much labor. This is not counted when the flock is kept for pleasure, but, on the farm, the case is different.

(11) It is found that, when charcoal is added to the food of fattening turkeys, they gain more rapidly. When crowded, a portion of the food is liable to ferment in the crop before it passes into the gizzard. Charcoal absorbs gases and relieves the acidity, and to this property of the charcoal the benefits are due. - Australian Agriculturist.

A quaint old gentleman, of an active, inquiring disposition, had a man that worked in his garden who was quite the reverse. "Jones," said he, "did you ever see a snail?" "Certainly," said Jones. "Then," said the old man, "you must have met him; for you could never have overtaken him."

That Tired Feeling"

Is just as common and just as reasonable in horses as it is in When their blood is impoverished their appetite and energy leave them-their work feels twice as hard.

Village Parson (entering country editor's office)-"You promised to publish that sermon I sent you on Mondaybut I do not find it in the latest issue of your paper."

Editor-"I sent it up. It surely went in. What was the name of it?"

Parson-"'Feed my Lambs." Editor-(after searching through the paper)-"Ah-er-um-here it is. You see, we've got a new foreman; and he put it under the head of 'Agricultural News' as 'Hints on the Care of Sheep." -Ex.

'B call the attention of our many readers to the commendable method employed by the Co-Operative Kultting Company of this City, of employing people at their homes on the co-operative plan, whereby the interests of the company and their employees at once become mutual. This method has been successfully employed in the manufacture of various kinds of goods in many parts of Europe, and we cannot see why the same co-operative method should not be equally successful in this country. Therefore we wish to congratulate the promoters of this company in the introduction of this method to the people of this country, thus enabling them to secure profitable employment at home. By this co-operative plan those wanting employment get a $20 machine and outlit free. The company for its part furnishes the knitters the necessary yarn, patterns, instructions FREE, and money to pay method employed by the Co-Operative Knitting Company of this them for their work, superintends the ibusiness and takes for lits part the profits derived from the products of the labor of the knitters. All the workers naturally have the welfare and interest of the company at heart and bend their energies to assure it of success, as their interests and that of the company are mutual. The workers cannot hope for the company to succeed without the proper effort and hearty co-operation on their part, as they are virtually a part of the company. Thus it will be seen that the company employing people at their homes, doing business on the co-operative plan, will necessarily succeed, whereas other companies doing business by the old method cannot hope to successfully compete with the co-operative plan. We feel it of importance to many of our readers that they should write for a membership and avail themselves of the opportunity of taking employment at home with this Co-operative Company.

Perth, Sept. 24th, 1897. Co-Operative Knitting Co.

Gentlemen,—To-day I forward my sample socks. I was never near a knitting machine before. Your instructions are nicely worded and plain and there is no difficulty in understanding the work. I thank you for engaging me as a worker, and will do the best I can to get other members, as I think it is a very great tenefit for families to east money at horse. The Opera tive plan of sending work out to homes is deserving of the attention of every family who can spare time and make money in their side moments. Trusting to receive my future supplies by return, I remain, yours respectfully,

R. E. McNaughton.

CENTERIEN. Penth, Oct. 18th, 1898.

Dear Sirs,—It has now been a little over a year since I engaged with you knitting your various kinds of goods, and I am pleased to say that your treatment has been satisfactory to me and the machine is all that anyone could wish. It has never gotten out of order and knits like a charm.

I am able to knit Bicycle Hose or a Pair of Socks in twenty to thirty minutes. I have found the machine and your dealings exactly as represented in your circular. Have received the last 18 pounds of yarn and will knit it up at once and return by express as usual. Yours truly.

And many others.
