Mr. P. J Bron, of 100 Markham St., who had been laid up with typhoid fover for soveral months, suffered a relapse as an indirect cause of that, through blood poisoning setting in one of his swellon limbs a couple of weeks ago, and came very nearly losing his life but is much improved now and is gainting in strength daily. His large circle of friends will be old at learn this.

ST. PETER'S.

There will be special vespers, with a sermon by Rev. Dr. Treacy of St. Michael's Cathedral, in this church on Sanday next. The proceeds are for the ael's Cathodral, in this ob day next. The proceeds benefit of the alter society.

RE-OPENING OF THE SEPARATE

On Tuesday next, the 4th of September, the Separate Schools will re open. In order that the best result may follow, it is of the hightest importance that parents soud their children regularly and punctually. And in addition, have them prepare well at home the lessons assigned them. They should be especially parouts sond their children regularly and purctually. And in addition, have them propare well at home the lessons assigned them. They should be especially particular about sending them the first day, as it is then now classes are formed and regulations made for the consuing term, which can not be satisfactorily done if all are not present.

Could parouts but realize the annoymous anea and inconveniance cased to the Teachers by neglect of this, it certainly would seldom happen. Send your children the first day and send them every day and always in good time, unless it is physically impossible for them to go at all. A rigid discipline is always the best. Children are too young to realize the benefits of education. Their parents or teachers or both must think for them and act accordingly.

Next Sunday, a sermon will be preached on Education —when the benefits and advantages of Catholic dincation will be pointed out and explained. Parents will be exhorted to see strictly to the aducation of their children. The implies a great deal. Regularity in at-study, are some of the oardinal factors, "Youth is the time for improvement; it has been well said. Also "as the twig is bent, so will the itee incline." I cochers, however, cannot do all. There should be a perfect understanding between the two, and in this way it might be said, a continuous supervision can be had over the children.

British American Business College.

British American Business College.

The receipt of the new and handsome prespectus of the B tish American Business College of Toronto is a reminder of the attention that is paid in the present day to educating young men and women in the principles and practice of business. This college, now in its dist year, stands out as, perhaps the best representative of a commercial College. The well-known principal, Mr. David Hoskum principal is a thing the most of the many years' standing, has always been possessed of high ideals of what should constitute a business calcusation. How those ideals have worked out in practice is very much in ovidence in the fact work may be a made of the decision of the college prospectus, that over 200 students of the British American College area sunually placed in situations with Toronto firms.

The college success is built on the thoroughness and practical nature of the teaching. The theory of business studies, such as bookkeeping, stenography, typouriting, permanship, is by no means overlooked, but it is remembered that practical knowledge, that will onable them to at ouce fit int: their positions from the principal principal principal for the most principal principal for the college in the first in the college of the college and the testimony that from leading firms in Toronto and elsewhere show the success of the effort in this direction.

American Basiness College and the testimony that from leading firms in Toronto and elsewhere show the success of the effort in this direction.

The college is very up-to-date in all its methods. A year age, recognizing the important relationship of good advertiating to business, the management established a department for the teaching of advertising writing, in charge of one of the best known experts in Toronto. In office management what is known as the loose-leaf method is very much in vogue just now, and, commencing this term, the British American will give special stientials to the use of the loose-leaf system of accounts. We have no doubt that Principal Hoskins will giadly send a copy of the new prospectus, from which we have gleaned those thoughts, to anyone who may drop line a poateard. The book contains a mass of ascidi, practical information for all who contemplate following a business career.

Religious Profession at St. Joseph's Convent

The morning of Our Lady's Assumption smiled upon a lgoodly throng of friunds, who crowded the beautifut Chapel of St, Joseph's Convent, to witness the Ceromony of religious profession; and the sunshine bursting through the second of selemi lovaliness. To the deep ribrating music of the organ the processior moved up the sales. Miss Hosley of Others came first gowned in white and attended by her dainty little train bearers, then cliewed the Sister train bearers, then cliewed the Sister train bearers, then cliewed the Sister train bearers, the clieved the Sister train bearers, the clieve the short burst train bearers, the clieve the short burst train bearers, the clieve the Sister train bearers, the story of the ceremony of reception is short burst preserve and at its close Miss Healy no longer existed, but a Sister of St. Joseph known as Sister Mary of St. Ann.

Joseph known as Sister Mary of St. Ann.

As a prelude to the profession of the rows, the Rov. M. Bohn, C.SS.R. dealivered a touching address to the Sisters wherein he dwelt upon the beauty of the feast of the Assumption and the appropriatoness of its selection as a day of roligious profession, since our Biessed Lady was the first to offer to the Most High the three vows of roligion. He dwelt at length upon the perfect manner in which her whole life was conformed to those vows and proved that the glory with which sho was crowned on that first feast of the Assumption was the roward or suffering and control of the co

Cobourg, 28th August, 1900.

Rev. Father Labelle returned to Aylmer from abroad last week. A magnificant full horsel service was colobrated in the church upon his arrival as a thanksgiving. The altar was brillantly lighted presenting a most beautiful come. Soveral priests assisted. The church was full of people. Crowds througed around the pupular father after service, men, women and children to welcome him back; and he had a smile and a hearty handshake for everyone. He said he was glad to be home. He had seen Paris, Rome and London, He had seen Paris, Rome and London, He had seen Paris, Rome and London, he had heard singing in St. Paul's, London, and in St. Peter's, Rome but it was no better than that of his own choir.

When asked about the Paris cribition, he said, as an artistic display, it was a great success, but as a paying financial transaction it was a lung financial transaction it was a lung financial transaction it was a word finance. The Canadian exhibits were excellently grand, but the contents were worthy of the highest praises. The farm products, fruit, grain, vegetablese, attracted the attention of all strangers, and made a fine advertisement for Canada.
