

AMERICAN GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

BROADWAY AT 156TH STREET
NEW YORK

May 17, 1920

My dear General:

I have just had the pleasure of having our mutual friend, James Shotwell, to lunch, and he tells me that you have just been appointed President of McGill University, for which I thank God and send my very hearty congratulations and good wishes.

I am just completing a book called "The New World: Problems and Boundaries," and when it is finished I shall send you a copy in the hope that the more than 100 maps will be of some interest to you.

Sincerely yours,

Irish Bowman

Sir Arthur W. Currie,
McGill University,
Montreal, Canada.