Club's expert oarsman, who has jumped into the lime-light in the past two or three weeks, will be invited to meet again some of the opponents that he defeated at the Cana-dian Henley and at the big regatta in the eastern states. If Dibble, Lepper and Finley of the Dons and Butler, the Argo-naut representative, of this year's Hen-ley, could be brought together in a single-shell championship race, rowing enthusiasts would have an opportunity of seeing the best rowing event we have had for some years. The waterfront at the Exhibition Grounds would enable many thousands of people to see a race such as this, while such a rate on the bay could only be seen from craft of some kind.
