

in rescuing two other boys from drowning, only a short time after his conversion and baptism, may serve to impress others with the importance of not hindering, but encouraging and helping the little children both to trust and to follow Jesus.

“ Paisley, Feb. 15, 1901.

“ Dear Mr. Porter :—I cannot thank you enough for coming to Paisley, and for your meetings here, if only for my boy Jimmie.

“ What hope and faith he had, and what a comfort I have that he put his trust in Jesus as his Saviour.

“ I think I see him the night he came home from meeting and wanted to be baptized. I talked with him for a while and told him he had better go and see the pastor. He went to see him, and then went to the church to see if they would receive him. He often told me what you said to him.

“ I got your book, ‘ Converse with The King,’ for him on Christmas, and he was so pleased with it. How often he looked at your photo in it. He intended to write to you. I asked him the day
