Campbell
Is Captain

Note and Comment

As was previously expected, Peter Campbell follows the footsteps of Jack Maynard and will act as Varsity captain in his junior year. Maynard will be there in 1918 to assist Campbell to land the championship again. Just as Peter helped Jack the season before last, Maynard, the stalwart centre half, was thought to have a chance for the honor, but he will be content to boot out his final year in the rank and file.

There was a precedent for giving the title to Maynard a second time. Eddy Barr leading the team in 1905 and '06. The brothers Biggs were captains in 1902 and 1904, while the record for keeping the glory in the family is held by the Senkiers, Edmund, Harry and Ivan being Rugby captains at Varsity in successive years, '07, '08 and '09 or thereabouts. That was in the days of the old-fashioned scrumming, when there was no such thing as a 34,000 game.

Official figures give the paid attendance at the Varsity-Argonaut final game as 12,070, the general estimate was 15,000, and many had it 18,000, with some as high as 20,000. The excess in estimation was about as usual. No greater or more frequent mistake is ever made than in giving the attendance at such like events. There is a fairly accurate method that might be adopted with accuracy, viz., make your guess and then cut the number in two.

McMaster kept up the best traditions of that university by winning the Intercollegiate soccer championship the season just closed yesterday without a loss, defeating Vics 2-1, Dents 3-2, Vets 8-0 and Knox 1-0, scoring 14 goals to their opponents' 2.

A year ago there was good ice at this time in the local rinks, with the curlers and hockey players getting in a splendid preliminary canter. Now you can play football and laugh at the dealer who sells coal. So there was unnecessary worry concerning anticipated Rugby ties that might have put back the Varsity-Argo game until to-morrow and there would have been no need of loads of loam or the steam roller.

75th Anniversary Of Caer Howell Bowling Club

The 75th anniversary of the Caer-Howell Bowling Club, the oldest club in America, was celebrated last night in the Merchants' Hotel. Some 60 members were present, with the president for many years, Mr. C. P. Mead, in the chair. The occasion happened to be also Mr. Mead's birthday. The guest list was a short one, including the usual toasts to the King and country and Dominion and Ontario Lawn Bowling Associations.

Among those present were: J. E. Coad, president; E. C. Davies and J. Thompson, hon. secretaries; F. E. Coad, past secretary; E. M. Carroll and Geo. Wright, life members.

The various prizes won by the different members during the past season were presented and handsome ones they were, too. Speeches were made by officials in proposing the toasts and in reply by the various winners of prizes and by Messrs. Coad, E. C. Davies and Geo. Wright, life members.

Members of the club seized the opportunity to present Messrs. Wright and Carroll with valuable souvenirs in recognition of their allowing the club the use of the old Caer-Howell grounds.

Barrow Not After Lynch's Job.—NEWARK, N.J., Dec. 7.—Radical changes in the Eastern League are looked for when that organization meets in New York on Monday, according to a statement issued to-night by President Edward G. Barrow. One of the moves will be for a change in the name, which the organization has had for twenty years.

"There is nothing in the rumor that I am after Lynch's job," says Barrow, referring to the National League president. "Tom Lynch is a fine fellow and is deserving of re-election for a longer term. There will be no objection to my re-election for a five year term. I am satisfied with my present salary, $7000, and would refuse an increase."

Mr. Barrow replied vigorously to Charles T. Chapin, the Rochester Club owner, who gave out a statement declaring that Barrow did not know the baseball game regarding post-season games. Chapin insisting that inter-league meant games within the same league.

"The report that the Eastern League overlooked the National Association rule 25 is false," said Barrow. "I consulted matter, and it looks as if Chapin does not know the meaning of the word inter-league. The National Commission would not bother with the matter because it was not an inter-league affair."

"A desire to make the Eastern League a huge success is my sole object in life just now."

STANLEY CUP GAMES WITH SIX-MAN RULE

Contradictory Stories on the Subject—Tatumse Will Play Games—Toronto Doubtful.

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 7.—There has been a lot of differing reports given out as to what the trustees of the Stanley Cup will do in regard to the six-man rule, in as far as it concerns Stanley Cup games. The last report had it that they would insist on the six-man team in all the cup games and would force the western or other league teams to conform to that rule.

Mr. Foran, one of the trustees, denies that they have given out any information whatever as regards their decision in the case.

"We are not going to cross bridges before we come to them," said Mr. Foran. "When the challenges come in then we will decide and not before."

Mr. Foran had heard nothing about the N. H. A. refusing to have the Stanley Cup any longer as representing the championship of the world.

D'Arcy McGee, president of the Ottawa club, also had heard nothing of it.

Mr. McGee stated the other day that the Stanley Cup would occupy the same position as before and he re-affirms this statement. There will be no change in the rules governing Stanley Cup competitions, with the exception of the six-man team and that will be decided upon with the arrival of the first challenge.

The circumstances are decidedly unfortunate for the Montreal, but the amateur clubs will be pretty well looked after at the Excelsior rink and the Richmond rink will be large as would be liked still the crowds that ordinarily attend matches will be well looked after at the Excelsior rink.

Both rinks are in readiness for any cold spell that might happen along, but the fair and mild signs that the weather men is handing out make things look rather blue for immediate ice.

Parties are said to have secured Jerry McGee's rink for the season, and for their team this year. If they have they are lucky.

There will be no less than 13 junior O.H.A. teams in the city this winter, which means four more than the town juniors are also holding up their end.

Clubs are again reminded that all entries for O.H.A. teams must be in the hands of the secretary by Tuesday night. "It is surprising," Secretary Wilson remarked the other day, "how clubs put off and others forget until the last day and then wonder why they cannot get in any more."

Clinton Street Methodist hockey team, met last evening and elected officers as follows: Hon. president, Rev. J. W. Wilkinson; hon. vice-president, J. E. Short; president, C. A. Vine; vice-president, Jack Turner, 781 West Queen (phone 1234); captain of seniors, Frank Wilkinson; captain juniors, Harold Wilkinson. Several teams have already arranged to play on Clinton rink, which has been enlarged and improved this season. There are still hours open for those desirous of securing ice.

Jarvis Street Collegiate Hockey Club was organized yesterday. The following officers were elected: Hon. president, Dr. Hardy; president, P. F. Munro; secretary, treasurer, P. S. Mills; captain, E. J. Dupp. The club has been organized in the Eastern in the new rating. Representatives of the three leagues will meet with the National Commission and ratify the peace pact before it is accepted by the Eastern League.

"Among the things that will come before the meeting for consideration will be the proposed plan to re-elect President Edward Barrow for a term of five years. International in its scope the Eastern League meeting will bring together magnates of two countries—United States and Canada.

"The magnates will also be called upon to settle the case of Jack Ryan, who claims that he has a three-year contract with the Skaters, which has two years to run, and he has appealed to the Eastern League for a decision in the matter."

"It is also planned to decide upon some change in the opening games in the league. One plan is to have New York and Jersey City open with each other on alternate dates, and to have the same plan put in force in Rochester and Buffalo. The Canadian teams Toronto and Montreal would open in Baltimore and Providence."

Allen, Fleming
Croak and Tuckwell
Were the Winners

Billy Allen of Ottawa showed his class again last night when he put it all over Kid Alberts of New York before the Olympic Club at the Agnes-street rink. Allen was away too clever for the New Yorker, and by clever ducking and foot work he made him punch the empty air most of the time. Allen scored a clean knock down in the first round with a right hook to the jaw and had a wide margin in every round except the eighth, when Alberts landed a couple of right punches to the head that shook him up a little.

In the semi-final round Frankie Fleming and Bill Tuckwell hooked up at 120 lbs. for eight rounds. Fleming was much the clever and administered a good beating to Tuckwell, who was unable to stop him. Tuckwell was taken a lot of punishment. Tuckwell was taken a lot of punishment. Tuckwell was taken a lot of punishment.

Croak of Buffalo, who met Eddie Daniels, late of England, for 8 rounds in the second preliminary, lived up to his reputation as a corner. He is clever and is there with a punch in either hand. He landed a right hand on the jaw twice in the second, once in the third and again in the sixth. Daniels caught the punches and came back with a right all but out in the second, but kept his head and weathered thru. Croak had him in the second round looking for a clever work prevented a knockout and except for a sprained elbow would have finished the fight.

Fred Daly proved to be a false alarm in the 125 lb. bout with Tuckwell. Well at 125 lbs. he was not to have gone six rounds, but a right to the head sent the second round nearly all the fight out of him, and a minute later a straight left to the jaw finished the job.
