RED CROSS CONSERVATION.

Hamilton has a Red Cross conservation service which is doing remarkable work. An old church is used as a storehouse for waste material, and it is sold at considerable profit for the funds of the Red Cross. Everything "waste" is turned into money—British and Colonial Press Photograph.

cent paper, I enjoyed it very much, and am putting it in my scrap-book. I always save the soldiers' letters; they make a very interesting scrap-book. Just a word about my pet. I still play with kittens, and love 'em just as much as I ever did. As you told me to keep a snow clock, I have lived to be a hundred years old. I will take your advice and do so. Lots of love to everybody. From MRS. J. J. J.

As "Ura Kidd" sees it. Oh, "Everybody's Friend" I pray, turn out to be a "Madge" or "Kaiser Bill," or the darling "Madge." Or anybody's spouse. My dear friend, I'd like to see you in verse of rhyme. As Cynthia, dear, hasn't the time for your fool question No. 36? But, sir, I always try to please. And am of the opinion that you will answer your queries, but don't get me peevish. For I do not wish to vex! You ask how the girls will act with the boys. Now the war is over and done. Will they marry the slacker? Or treat him like a Hun? Now, listen to me: The heroes they'll marry. And say, "You have done your part. Marry, marry, marry." To my work I must now depart.

Just cook the grub, and scrub the floors. But don't work too hard, my pet; I'll think of you often as I collect the fares— Now, kiss your "conductress!" The slacker, alas! they will tear their hair. And weep in the deepest despair; They'll be doomed all their lives to go without wives. And their own living to earn. You see, my friend, if you live you'll learn. The men brought the girls a snap. Just washing and scrubbing, and cooking and tubbing. And giving the kiddies a nap! But the girls, to be kind, will give them a rest. And leave them at home till the night. While the slacker and his wife are tight. And make the hubby's life a delight. And make the hubby's life a delight. For some maid will propose to you soon. Say, "This is so sudden," and take a good look at the fellow. And go off on a fine honeymoon. URA KIDD Advertiser Patterns. A Happy Thought. Dear Miss Grey—No doubt you have forgotten me, but as so many of the ladies say, I simply could not resist the temptation of coming again. It is over a year since I wrote you first and only letter to the Page. You gave me a very nice invitation to call again, so I thought you really would not mind if I came once more. I just wanted to tell you that the war is over! I have a very dear brother who has been fighting "over there" for a long time. I thought to think the boys will soon be home. But the memory of the fallen heroes is a sad reminder of the cost of peace. I read "The Fatty's" letter in a recent issue.
