Massey Hall—Thursday, Saturday, Mendelssohn—Choir and Pittsburgh Orchestra.

After a series of artistic and financial successes in the States in Paul Kester's dramatization of Charles May's novel, "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," Bertha Gailand will make her first appearance in this city at the Princess Theatre on Monday evening in this, her latest and greatest production. The story of Dorothy Vernon is known to readers of romance. Haddon Hall, the forest reveals itself when she befriends the sweetheart of the hero, the deeply in love with him himself, but when after saving both of their lives and adding to unite them, they pass her unheeded, all the jealous rage of her Indian soul is kindled.

The character played by Sam Bernard in "The Girl From Kay's," which Charles Frohman and George Edwards will present at the Princess for a half week beginning next Thursday evening, is that of a "Max" or as he is known to the latitudes, as Piggy Hoggenheimer. Piggy is immensely rich, and very vulgar in his manners. He has acquired his fortune suddenly. He is anxious to be admitted into fashionable society, and he affects an air of being bored, simply because the members of the set in which he hopes to move appear to be bored.

"Piggy's" favorite speech is "I am very rich." He imagines that his money that massive, ivy-grown pile, rich in history and legend, is familiar to the countless tourists who have wandered through beautiful Derbyshire. The dramatist has caught the spirit of the writer of the story, and has surrounded his characters with the poet's realistic reproductions of the old manor house as it is to-day, but with the added pomp and splendor of court life and costumes so long since gone forever, are by the most prominent scenic artists and costumers.

"Sky Farm," which is announced for production at the Grand next week, is the most noted big rural production of the season. The piece is of the "Old Homestead" description, but the staging illustrates American life in the country with more fidelity than "Old Homestead" does, and at the same time refrains from exaggerating the comedy of the story. The piece filled the theatre in Boston for nearly four consecutive months last winter, and after a brief intermediate season of a few one night stands was located for the rest of the season in New York, where it ran for over 100 nights. The action of "Sky Farm" principally treats of the tribulations and ultimate joy of several pairs of lovers, and the comedy element prevails to no small degree. It has a most interesting story and is capably told by characters that are clean cut, many of them very picturesque. The author of "Sky Farm" is Edward E. Kilder, who wrote "Peaceful Valley," "A Poor Relation" and the several plays in which the late Sol Smith Russell starred so successfully in past years.

A lovable character in "Queen of the Highway," which comes to the Majestic next week, is Rainbow, the Indian girl, played by Alberta Lee. The impetuous nature of this little maid, of

From the manner in which the subscribers' lists for the concert of the National Chorus at Massey Hall, on the 25th inst., have been filled, a large audience at this notable musical event is assured. Dr. Albert Ham, the conductor of the National Chorus, decided this season to give only one concert, and the program, therefore, is full of good things. Considerable interest is naturally attached to Dr. Ham's cantata, "John Gilpin," as it will be his last appearance in this city. Indeed, in any of the British colonies. The music is said to be extremely humorous, and of great orchestral effect. Victor Herbert's Orchestra will assist the National Chorus, and included in the orchestral numbers are:

(a) Scherzo: (b) Allegretto, Seventh Symphony... Victor Herbert Suite: (a) La Source, (b) Serenade, (c) Andante, (d) Delibes Violoncello Solo—Serenade (Pierne).

The plan open for subscribers at Massey Hall on Thursday and Friday, and for the general public on Saturday, the 25th inst.

Yankee will appear in a farewell recital at Massey Hall on March 18. It is not probable that the citizens of Toronto ever will have another violinist of this calibre. He has announced his purpose to give up his career as a soloist, when the present tour is over and to devote himself to orchestral conducting.

Eugen d'Albert, the great master pianist, and his wife, Madame Pinck d'Albert, during the winter and spring, when not traveling, make Berlin their headquarters. In the summer they transport their home to the romantic waters of the Lake Maggiore, where Eugen d'Albert devotes most of his time to turn his composing and to the indulgence of his thoroughly wholesome passion for such matter of fact sports as croquet and lawn tennis. By way of a change from time to time he forsakes music for the study of medicine. The recreative study of medicine, with Padewski, leads the virtuoso of the time, on Tuesday evening next at Massey Hall, will be an event of great musical interest.

The annual benefit of the Theatrical Mechanical Benevolent Association is to be held in the Grand Opera House on the afternoon of Friday, March 3, under the patronage of the Governor-General of Canada. An excellent program is promised for this occasion, as it is the intention of the association committee to have this performance as a fund-raising effort for the association. The program will consist of the best features from the various attractions touring the local theatres on that date. Handsome souvenirs of this performance will be distributed to the patrons of this annual benefit.

There is something irresistible to the average theatregoer in a chorus of pretty young women who can sing and dance and who can wear pretty costumes as to the manner born. They brighten any show and they set off the work and ability and also the talents of the principals. Just as the setting of a rare jewel display is "the best advertisement" for the jeweler, so the offering at the Majestic shortly, the management this season has paid particular attention to the chorus, and it includes among its number some of the most beautiful women of the American stage.

"McFadden's Row of Flats" was written by E. W. Townsend and Glen MacDonough, which is guaranteed to be the best and most entertaining. In this big company this season are such well known artists as the celebrated Space Brothers, (the original yellow kids), Billy Barry, Jr., Joe Folkestone, Kent, and the most famous House of Burnside and "Bardell v. Pickwick."

Edward Terry, the English comedian, comes to the Princess Theatre for an engagement this week after a successful tour of the United States. He will present a repertoire consisting of his most famous pieces, "House of Burnside" and "Bardell v. Pickwick."

Mystery Partially Cleared. London, Feb. 17.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Major Harry Pakenham on his honeymoon to Folkestone, Kent, has been partially cleared up by the discovery of his body on the seashore this morning.

Major Pakenham was a son of Gen. Ralph Pakenham, who was killed at the battle of Waterloo. He was a member of the late Lady Annesley, and was staying at Folkestone. Three days after the marriage he went out for a stroll, telling his wife that he would not be long. The next day his overcoat was found in the harbor, and a note in a pocket said he was sick and saw no prospect of getting better.

Major Pakenham contracted enteric fever during the South African war. Story of Poland's helpless condition, by a former resident, in next Sunday's World.

The Route to the Sunny Southland is via the Pennsylvania Railroad. Double daily train service. Leave Exchange-street station, Buffalo, 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. Thru sleepers and parlor cars to Washington, connecting for all tourists in the Carolinas and Florida.

Beatrice Little, Miss Margaret Wright, Miss Marion Harcourt and Miss Bertha Maybell.

The last concert of the Mendelssohn Choir series in connection with the Pittsburgh Orchestra, takes place this evening, and the program, which has been arranged in excess of brilliancy and comprehensiveness any of the series. Two soloists will appear. Miss Beatrice Little, the great English contralto, will sing the solo part in Brahms' "Alto Rhapsody," as well as a group of songs by Dr. Sigar. Mr. Emil Parr, the eminent conductor of the orchestra, will contribute, as piano soloist, Beethoven's "Emperor Concerto." This afternoon at 2.15 there will be an orchestral matinee, at which will be performed Tchaikovsky's great work, "The Nutcracker," and several Wagner numbers. To provide for the number of music students who are desirous of securing this exceptionally instructive program, the society, in its desire to develop its usefulness from an educational standpoint, has set aside 500 rush seats at the nominal figure of 50c.

When your child is ill you dislike to make it take bad tasting medicine. Hence it is well to know that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is very pleasant. But it is a medicine, a strong medicine.

Time and time again we have published the formula of this cough medicine in the principal Medical Journals of this country and Europe, and have mailed it to nearly every physician in the United States.

So it follows that when your doctor orders it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, or consumption, he knows precisely what he is giving.

Physicians recommend their families to keep it on hand.
