The churches at Milford, Round Hill, and Annapolis Royal united in presenting to their pastor, Rev. L. F. Wallace, a fur coat at Christmas. Mrs. Wallace was also remembered with a purse containing a substantial amount. All will be glad to know that Mrs. Wallace's The weck of prayer as observed by the East Florenceville church did not follow the usual stereotyped form. A neat card of invitation was prepared by the pastor, Rev. E. C. Jenkins, con-taining a series of timely topics close-ly related to the subject assigned for the various services. It was a profit-Rev. J. Harry Puddington and wife were kindly remembered by the friends of the Pugwash church during the Christmas season. He also received a set of driving harness from the congregation at Wallace River.

A good number of our ministers are spending such time as they can spare from their work in attending the great evangelistic campaign in Boston. Thus during the last week we have learned of the attendance of Rev. Geo. C. Durkee of Tusket; Rev. Ernest Stephens, of Pubnico; Rev. L. H. Crandall of Bear River, and Rev. W. B. Benzanson. The latter was accompanied by Mrs. Bezanson and five members of the congregation were privileged to attend

The Bulletin for January 7, of the Tabernacle church of Utica, N.Y., Rev. Perry J. Stackhouse, pastor, contains some items of interest. The information is given that since the first of July

THE REASON FOR THIS SALE

Honest now, doesn't it jar you to read the reasons in newspaper advertisements for having a sale?

We will cut out all the bluff -we are having this sale of suits and overcoats, simply because they are odd lots and some have been here too long. Here are a number of overcoats reduced in price. Come in and see how you like 'em at $10 and $15.

These raglans at $10 would be fine for automobiling.

Public Notice!

After closing the regular sale on Monday night, find we still had nearly $6,000 worth of merchandise to sell, consisting chiefly of Men's and Boys' Clothing and Ladies' and Men's Boots. Owing to my time being so limited, it is impossible to continue the sale indefinitely, and I have therefore handed over the entire balance of the stock to the Maritime Salvage Co. with definite instructions to close it out in the next three days for whatever it will bring. There are absolutely no restrictions of any kind.

Anything left after the three days' selling will be sold en bloc to dealers. A glance at the prices will convince you at once of the genuine and absolute C. B. PIDGEON.
