

LUX
BLANKETS are luxuriously clean, soft and fleecy when washed with LUX. Every housewife knows that blankets are very liable to shrink in the wash and become hard and thick. LUX is the ideal preparation for washing blankets, all woolen things, fine laces, etc., because it cannot shrink them.

LUX is the economical cleanser—it dissolves readily in hot water—makes a foamy, cream-like lather which soaks rather than forces the dirt out of clothes.

Sold at 10 cents
Made in Canada by Lever
Brothers
Limited,
Toronto.

READ THIS

Sufferers from Muscular Rheumatism, Stiff Muscles, Sprains or Bruises, by first bathing affected parts with hot water, then rubbing thoroughly with

Johnson's Liniment

WILL GET PROMPT RELIEF.
This reliable remedy has been in use over 100 years. Takes internally on sugar or in warm water. It can be used in cases of coughs, colds, sore throats, bronchitis, etc. and 50 cents at dealers.
L. B. JOHNSON & CO., Inc., Boston, Mass.
PARSONS' PILLS relieve Constipation and Headache

A 22-pound baby girl was born to Mrs. Mary Sylvander, aged thirty-nine, of East St. Louis, Ill. The infant is 28½ inches in height and perfectly formed. Mrs. Sylvander weighs 240 pounds and has given birth to four other children, all weighing more than fifteen pounds when born.

There can be no real happiness in the heart where self is enthroned.

The Young Adams Company after a most successful engagement at the Opera House will say farewell tonight. The next professional engagement will be the return of Mack's Musical Revue on April 19 for an indefinite stay with two changes of bill weekly and presenting sketches with comedy and dramatic sketches under other fixtures interpreted. Miss Ulla Albertson, the star of the company and the other members include Nat (O'Brien) Farnum, Pearl Evans, prima donna, Rose Reading, the "ginger" girl, Anna Mac Miller, Anna Sands, Elmore Shepard, Lillian Johnson, and a host of others. The company is the musical director of the company.

Mrs. Bernhardt, now the world's most distinguished monodrama, remains the Chicago Tribune, is offered $8,000 weekly to act when she returns, in the London music hall.

"At 20 an actress wants fame," Helen Evely observes, "at 30 she wants wealth and at 40 she wants peace."

It is definitely settled that Maud Adams will act next season in a highly extensive repertoire of plays by Burroughs and his hitherto assembled. Old and new pieces will stand in it.

Clara Morris celebrated recently, at her quiet old home on the Grand at Whitestown, Queen, the sixty-sixth anniversary of her birth. Miss Morris who is Mrs. Frederick C. Harriott in private life, has been confined to her bed for three years. She has the most faithful companions in her mother, an active woman of ninety-three, and Ethel Eliebrecht, her nurse. Miss Morris spends much of her life in preparing articles for publication.

The Messrs. Shubert have re-engaged Walter Jones for the coming season. He is to appear in a series of dramatics and is having his greatest desire realized. Ever since he made his first success on the stage at the request of the author, who saw the actor's performance in "The Melting Pot" in London. Emil Nyitrai, who adapted "The Typhoon," will dramatize the book and the play will be produced early next season.

Joseph Brooks has taken over a contract Henry W. Savage had with Taylor Holmes, and will star him next season in a farce-comedy, entitled "Mr. Myer's Mystery." The play is by Lillian Trimble Bradley and is founded on "The Mystery of No. 47 Hyacinth Road," novel by the English writer, Stover Clouston.

Known Here

St. John play-goers should be interested in stock productions at His Majesty's Theatre in New York of "Alone in Wonderland," dramatized by Alice Gentenber, from Lewis Carroll's book of the same name, and its sequel, "Through the Looking Glass." It is said to be the first real dramatic version of the tales, although many pieces founded upon them have made their appearance here and abroad for many seasons past. The scenery and costumes are by William Penhalow Henderson, and follow the original illustrations of Sir John Tenniel.

The scenes are seven in number, representing, consecutively, Alice's Home, the Room in the Looking Glass, the Hall with Doors, the Seashore, the March Hare's Garden, the Garden of Flowers and the Court of Hearts.

Sylvia Jason who played in St. John in "The Alaskan" is in the cast of a new musical comedy "Little Mary Mack" to open next week in Philadelphia.

A posthumous work of Sydney Grundy, called "Mrs. Thompson" is being staged at the Lyric Theatre. It is based upon W. B. Maxwells novel of the same name. In the play Mrs. Langtry is a shrewd business woman of 46, who is wooed and won by one of her salesmen of 30. He undertakes to swindle her out of the capital invested in her prosperous business, sells out at a great sacrifice to a supposed competitor and prepares to flee with the proceeds and a shopgirl assistant. When he has sufficiently entangled himself, Mrs. Thompson reveals herself as the buyer of her own business in which she has made a small investment with a view to riding herself of an undesirable husband.

The Princess Theatre in New York is to try the experiment of a musical play in a little house in a little stage, with no spectacle, no numerous and bustling chorus girls and no enacting ensembles. The piece is to depend upon the entertainment within itself, the talents of the players and the light and polite intimacy of the whole. Such reviews have gone well in European capitals.

Competition in cut rate theatre ticket in New York is so strong that one management has been distributing the exchange slips for seats in the various branches of the public library. The authorities put a stop to the practice when their attention was called to what seemed to be a boom in attendance at the various branches.

Coming Back

The Young Adams Company after a most successful engagement at the Opera House will say farewell tonight. The next professional engagement will be the return of Mack's Musical Revue on April 19 for an indefinite stay with two changes of bill weekly and presenting sketches with comedy and dramatic sketches under other fixtures interpreted. Miss Ulla Albertson, the star of the company and the other members include Nat (O'Brien) Farnum, Pearl Evans, prima donna, Rose Reading, the "ginger" girl, Anna Mac Miller, Anna Sands, Elmore Shepard, Lillian Johnson, and a host of others. The company is the musical director of the company.

Mrs. Bernhardt, now the world's most distinguished monodrama, remains the Chicago Tribune, is offered $8,000 weekly to act when she returns, in the London music hall.

"At 20 an actress wants fame," Helen Evely observes, "at 30 she wants wealth and at 40 she wants peace."

It is definitely settled that Maud Adams will act next season in a highly extensive repertoire of plays by Burroughs and his hitherto assembled. Old and new pieces will stand in it.

Clara Morris celebrated recently, at her quiet old home on the Grand at Whitestown, Queen, the sixty-sixth anniversary of her birth. Miss Morris who is Mrs. Frederick C. Harriott in private life, has been confined to her bed for three years. She has the most faithful companions in her mother, an active woman of ninety-three, and Ethel Eliebrecht, her nurse. Miss Morris spends much of her life in preparing articles for publication.

The Messrs. Shubert have re-engaged Walter Jones for the coming season. He is to appear in a series of dramatics and is having his greatest desire realized. Ever since he made his first success on the stage at the request of the author, who saw the actor's performance in "The Melting Pot" in London. Emil Nyitrai, who adapted "The Typhoon," will dramatize the book and the play will be produced early next season.

Joseph Brooks has taken over a contract Henry W. Savage had with Taylor Holmes, and will star him next season in a farce-comedy, entitled "Mr. Myer's Mystery." The play is by Lillian Trimble Bradley and is founded on "The Mystery of No. 47 Hyacinth Road," novel by the English writer, Stover Clouston.

Known Here

St. John play-goers should be interested in stock productions at His Majesty's Theatre in New York of "Alone in Wonderland," dramatized by Alice Gentenber, from Lewis Carroll's book of the same name, and its sequel, "Through the Looking Glass." It is said to be the first real dramatic version of the tales, although many pieces founded upon them have made their appearance here and abroad for many seasons past. The scenery and costumes are by William Penhalow Henderson, and follow the original illustrations of Sir John Tenniel.

The scenes are seven in number, representing, consecutively, Alice's Home, the Room in the Looking Glass, the Hall with Doors, the Seashore, the March Hare's Garden, the Garden of Flowers and the Court of Hearts.

Sylvia Jason who played in St. John in "The Alaskan" is in the cast of a new musical comedy "Little Mary Mack" to open next week in Philadelphia.

A posthumous work of Sydney Grundy, called "Mrs. Thompson" is being staged at the Lyric Theatre. It is based upon W. B. Maxwells novel of the same name. In the play Mrs. Langtry is a shrewd business woman of 46, who is wooed and won by one of her salesmen of 30. He undertakes to swindle her out of the capital invested in her prosperous business, sells out at a great sacrifice to a supposed competitor and prepares to flee with the proceeds and a shopgirl assistant. When he has sufficiently entangled himself, Mrs. Thompson reveals herself as the buyer of her own business in which she has made a small investment with a view to riding herself of an undesirable husband.

The Princess Theatre in New York is to try the experiment of a musical play in a little house in a little stage, with no spectacle, no numerous and bustling chorus girls and no enacting ensembles. The piece is to depend upon the entertainment within itself, the talents of the players and the light and polite intimacy of the whole. Such reviews have gone well in European capitals.

PEOPLE OF STAGE KNOWN IN ST. JOHN

Margaret Anglin in New Play "The Desert Island" in New York

NEWS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Productions Pending: W. S. Harkins and Blossom Baird in Montreal; Sylvia Jason in New Musical Comedy

A new play, with Margaret Anglin in the principal role, is to be given at the Lyceum Theatre, New York. The piece is a comedy, said to be smart, by Paul Kester, and is entitled "The Desert Island."

In it Miss Anglin acts the part of a demure choir singer from the south who comes to New York in order to advance herself professionally. She encounters many obstacles and pitfalls, but triumphs through the use of her wit.

Her engagement at the Lyceum will begin on April 12. For one week previously "The Desert Island" will be presented in Baltimore.

At the Strand Theatre in London, Fred Terry and Julia Neilson have received Paul Kester's "Sweet Nell of Old Drury." A London reviewer says: "Neither Mr. Terry nor Miss Neilson showed any signs of being bored by parts which they must have played many hundreds of times since the play was first produced nearly fifteen years ago, and will certainly have to play many hundreds of times more before the public permits them to drop the piece out of their repertory."

Carl Eckstrom, well known in St. John was in the company whose season was so abruptly closed in Boston by Mayor Curley last week. They were presenting a problem play "The Natural Law" and it was deemed too immodest for the Hub.

Local Amateurs

Amateur productions for patriotic purposes will hold the boards of the Opera House for four nights next week "Our Jim," being the offering of the Loyal Order of Moose on Monday and Tuesday next, and "Mrs. Doe" being presented under the auspices of De Monts Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, on Thursday and Friday. For both success seems to be assured. The casts are taking pains with the preparations and care is being given to the matter of staging.

Theatre managers in southern cities complain that the "itney" automobile is in the nature of a new "opposition." They say that hundreds of persons who have looked to the theatre for an evening's entertainment now save money by riding for three hours for B. B. B.

Mrs. Fankhurst went on as a "turn" in the London Pavilion week before last and did not make good. She lasted fourteen minutes, and the "punch" in her monologue was when she said she would like to renew her activities at a destructive militant after the war.

Montgomery and Stone stars of "Chin-Chin" have just celebrated their twentieth anniversary as stage partners. The first appearance of these remarkable fun-makers who enjoy the distinction of never having appeared in a failure, was as a vaudeville team in New Orleans, March 15, 1895. Their joint salary was $40 a week.

Walker Whiteside has obtained the dramatic rights to W. D. Howells' story, "The Ragged Messenger" from Bobbitt Publishing Company, New York. Books were opened with Mr. Whiteside at the request of the author, who saw the actor's performance in "The Melting Pot" in London. Emil Nyitrai, who adapted "The Typhoon," will dramatize the book and the play will be produced early next season.

Joseph Brooks has taken over a contract Henry W. Savage had with Taylor Holmes, and will star him next season in a farce-comedy, entitled "Mr. Myer's Mystery." The play is by Lillian Trimble Bradley and is founded on "The Mystery of No. 47 Hyacinth Road," novel by the English writer, Stover Clouston.

Known Here

St. John play-goers should be interested in stock productions at His Majesty's Theatre in New York of "Alone in Wonderland," dramatized by Alice Gentenber, from Lewis Carroll's book of the same name, and its sequel, "Through the Looking Glass." It is said to be the first real dramatic version of the tales, although many pieces founded upon them have made their appearance here and abroad for many seasons past. The scenery and costumes are by William Penhalow Henderson, and follow the original illustrations of Sir John Tenniel.

The scenes are seven in number, representing, consecutively, Alice's Home, the Room in the Looking Glass, the Hall with Doors, the Seashore, the March Hare's Garden, the Garden of Flowers and the Court of Hearts.

Sylvia Jason who played in St. John in "The Alaskan" is in the cast of a new musical comedy "Little Mary Mack" to open next week in Philadelphia.

A posthumous work of Sydney Grundy, called "Mrs. Thompson" is being staged at the Lyric Theatre. It is based upon W. B. Maxwells novel of the same name. In the play Mrs. Langtry is a shrewd business woman of 46, who is wooed and won by one of her salesmen of 30. He undertakes to swindle her out of the capital invested in her prosperous business, sells out at a great sacrifice to a supposed competitor and prepares to flee with the proceeds and a shopgirl assistant. When he has sufficiently entangled himself, Mrs. Thompson reveals herself as the buyer of her own business in which she has made a small investment with a view to riding herself of an undesirable husband.

The Princess Theatre in New York is to try the experiment of a musical play in a little house in a little stage, with no spectacle, no numerous and bustling chorus girls and no enacting ensembles. The piece is to depend upon the entertainment within itself, the talents of the players and the light and polite intimacy of the whole. Such reviews have gone well in European capitals.

Competition in cut rate theatre ticket in New York is so strong that one management has been distributing the exchange slips for seats in the various branches of the public library. The authorities put a stop to the practice when their attention was called to what seemed to be a boom in attendance at the various branches.

Coming Back

The Young Adams Company after a most successful engagement at the Opera House will say farewell tonight. The next professional engagement will be the return of Mack's Musical Revue on April 19 for an indefinite stay with two changes of bill weekly and presenting sketches with comedy and dramatic sketches under other fixtures interpreted. Miss Ulla Albertson, the star of the company and the other members include Nat (O'Brien) Farnum, Pearl Evans, prima donna, Rose Reading, the "ginger" girl, Anna Mac Miller, Anna Sands, Elmore Shepard, Lillian Johnson, and a host of others. The company is the musical director of the company.

Mrs. Bernhardt, now the world's most distinguished monodrama, remains the Chicago Tribune, is offered $8,000 weekly to act when she returns, in the London music hall.

"At 20 an actress wants fame," Helen Evely observes, "at 30 she wants wealth and at 40 she wants peace."

It is definitely settled that Maud Adams will act next season in a highly extensive repertoire of plays by Burroughs and his hitherto assembled. Old and new pieces will stand in it.

Clara Morris celebrated recently, at her quiet old home on the Grand at Whitestown, Queen, the sixty-sixth anniversary of her birth. Miss Morris who is Mrs. Frederick C. Harriott in private life, has been confined to her bed for three years. She has the most faithful companions in her mother, an active woman of ninety-three, and Ethel Eliebrecht, her nurse. Miss Morris spends much of her life in preparing articles for publication.

The Messrs. Shubert have re-engaged Walter Jones for the coming season. He is to appear in a series of dramatics and is having his greatest desire realized. Ever since he made his first success on the stage at the request of the author, who saw the actor's performance in "The Melting Pot" in London. Emil Nyitrai, who adapted "The Typhoon," will dramatize the book and the play will be produced early next season.

Joseph Brooks has taken over a contract Henry W. Savage had with Taylor Holmes, and will star him next season in a farce-comedy, entitled "Mr. Myer's Mystery." The play is by Lillian Trimble Bradley and is founded on "The Mystery of No. 47 Hyacinth Road," novel by the English writer, Stover Clouston.

Known Here

St. John play-goers should be interested in stock productions at His Majesty's Theatre in New York of "Alone in Wonderland," dramatized by Alice Gentenber, from Lewis Carroll's book of the same name, and its sequel, "Through the Looking Glass." It is said to be the first real dramatic version of the tales, although many pieces founded upon them have made their appearance here and abroad for many seasons past. The scenery and costumes are by William Penhalow Henderson, and follow the original illustrations of Sir John Tenniel.

The scenes are seven in number, representing, consecutively, Alice's Home, the Room in the Looking Glass, the Hall with Doors, the Seashore, the March Hare's Garden, the Garden of Flowers and the Court of Hearts.

Sylvia Jason who played in St. John in "The Alaskan" is in the cast of a new musical comedy "Little Mary Mack" to open next week in Philadelphia.

A posthumous work of Sydney Grundy, called "Mrs. Thompson" is being staged at the Lyric Theatre. It is based upon W. B. Maxwells novel of the same name. In the play Mrs. Langtry is a shrewd business woman of 46, who is wooed and won by one of her salesmen of 30. He undertakes to swindle her out of the capital invested in her prosperous business, sells out at a great sacrifice to a supposed competitor and prepares to flee with the proceeds and a shopgirl assistant. When he has sufficiently entangled himself, Mrs. Thompson reveals herself as the buyer of her own business in which she has made a small investment with a view to riding herself of an undesirable husband.

The Princess Theatre in New York is to try the experiment of a musical play in a little house in a little stage, with no spectacle, no numerous and bustling chorus girls and no enacting ensembles. The piece is to depend upon the entertainment within itself, the talents of the players and the light and polite intimacy of the whole. Such reviews have gone well in European capitals.

Competition in cut rate theatre ticket in New York is so strong that one management has been distributing the exchange slips for seats in the various branches of the public library. The authorities put a stop to the practice when their attention was called to what seemed to be a boom in attendance at the various branches.

Coming Back

The Young Adams Company after a most successful engagement at the Opera House will say farewell tonight. The next professional engagement will be the return of Mack's Musical Revue on April 19 for an indefinite stay with two changes of bill weekly and presenting sketches with comedy and dramatic sketches under other fixtures interpreted. Miss Ulla Albertson, the star of the company and the other members include Nat (O'Brien) Farnum, Pearl Evans, prima donna, Rose Reading, the "ginger" girl, Anna Mac Miller, Anna Sands, Elmore Shepard, Lillian Johnson, and a host of others. The company is the musical director of the company.

Mrs. Bernhardt, now the world's most distinguished monodrama, remains the Chicago Tribune, is offered $8,000 weekly to act when she returns, in the London music hall.

"At 20 an actress wants fame," Helen Evely observes, "at 30 she wants wealth and at 40 she wants peace."

It is definitely settled that Maud Adams will act next season in a highly extensive repertoire of plays by Burroughs and his hitherto assembled. Old and new pieces will stand in it.

Clara Morris celebrated recently, at her quiet old home on the Grand at Whitestown, Queen, the sixty-sixth anniversary of her birth. Miss Morris who is Mrs. Frederick C. Harriott in private life, has been confined to her bed for three years. She has the most faithful companions in her mother, an active woman of ninety-three, and Ethel Eliebrecht, her nurse. Miss Morris spends much of her life in preparing articles for publication.

The Messrs. Shubert have re-engaged Walter Jones for the coming season. He is to appear in a series of dramatics and is having his greatest desire realized. Ever since he made his first success on the stage at the request of the author, who saw the actor's performance in "The Melting Pot" in London. Emil Nyitrai, who adapted "The Typhoon," will dramatize the book and the play will be produced early next season.

Just Out—Three New Boxes

On Easter Morning Telson's Chocolates

AT ALL GOOD DRUGGISTS AND CONFECTIONERS

NEWS OF "MOVIES," SCREEN AND PLAYERS

Joseph Kilgour, Well Known Here, in Vitaphone Rank

GRACE CUNARD'S SISTER ON STAGE

Mary Pickford's Popularity Shown in Wonderful Vote; Sensational Adventures of Picture Players; Gossip of the Studios

Clear Your Skin

Eczema, pockmarks, ring worm, pimples, scales and crusts are due to myriad deeply buried germs in the skin. These germs must be destroyed and eliminated.

The D. D. D. Prescription, a mild compound in liquid form of oil of wintergreen, thymol and other healing elements, will give relief in all cases. Unlike salves, it penetrates to the deeply buried germs, kills and washes them out.

Ask about D. D. D. Soap. E. C. Brown, druggist, St. John, N. B. D. D. D. is made in Canada.

COULD NOT SLEEP, COULD NOT EAT

Woman So Weak and Nervous Could Not Stand Her Children Near Her—Vinol Changed Everything for Her

Plant City, Fla.—"I wish I could tell everybody about Vinol. For nine years I was in bad health. I got so I could not sleep, and I could not stand to have my children come near me. I could not even sew or do any heavy housework. I was simply tired all the time. I tried so many medicines I could not recall them all, but nothing did me any good. One day a friend asked me to try Vinol and said it was the best tonic she ever saw. I did so, and soon got the first good night's sleep I had had for a long time. Now I sleep well, my appetite is good, my nervousness is all gone and I am so strong and well I do all my housework and work in my flower garden without feeling tired or nervous. Vinol has made me a well and happy woman."

—Mrs. C. H. MILLER, Plant City, Fla.

Vinol cures the curative, healing principles of fresh cod livers (without oil) and tonic iron.

We ask every weak, run-down, nervous person in this vicinity to try Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, on our guarantee to return the money if it fails to benefit.

The Ross Drug Co., Ltd., St. John, N. B.

HAD INDIGESTION FOR OVER 10 YEARS.

ALMOST DESPAIRED OF EVER GETTING WELL.

Indigestion is one of the worst forms of stomach trouble. The stomach becomes upset and you have a raw, debilitating feeling in it. After a meal you feel that you must get rid of that nasty, bilious, burning sensation. It is not necessary for you to be troubled with indigestion if you will only try that old and well-known remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, which is a combination of nature's best known roots, herbs and barks for the cure of all stomach and blood troubles.

Mrs. Mary MacKay, Hunter's Mountain, N.S., writes: "I was troubled with indigestion for more than ten years. I tried several doctors' medicines claiming the power to cure, but all without success. Having heard of the many cures effected by Burdock Blood Bitters, I decided to give it a trial. After taking two bottles I was completely cured. My appetite which was very poor is now good, and I can eat most everything without any disagreeable feelings."

I can strongly recommend B.B.B. to anyone suffering from indigestion."

B.B.B. is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Good-looking Jack Kerrigan plays the role of a Mexican street in "The

Guardian of the Flocks

a two-reel Victor western movie play. This is one of those rare occasions when this actor has sacrificed his natural attractiveness and enacted a genuine character role.

He is looking forward to the criticism of his friends, the movie fans, and hopes they will appreciate his effort to prove his claim of versatility.

"The Mysterious Contraption" is the mysterious title of a new Gold Seal production in which Marie Walcamp is featured. Contraption is a contrivance intended to overcome the force of gravity and the film is a story woven around death while in a Curtis biplane. A few days later, Stiles was hurled to his death causing much sorrow to all in Universal City.

Billy Quirk, of the Vitaphone Players, who recently evaded the New York law by painting muscals on his two French bulldogs, is authority for the statement that on last Tuesday one of his dogs had a litter of pups, every one of which was born with muscals. Ouch!

Anne Schaefer, of the Western Vitaphone company, located at Santa Monica, is collecting cancelled postage stamps, and wishes to thank all the fans who have sent some to her. Miss Schaefer tries to make personal acknowledgments of every contribution, and is glad to explain the worthy purpose to which these apparently worthless bits of paper are put.

A marriage, with the contracting ones standing on a steel girder on the twelfth story of a skyscraper in course of erection, and a fight in a cistern a hundred and fifty feet below the surface of a densely populated section of the city are the thrillers in "The Man Who Couldn't Beat God," a Broadway Star Feature with Maurice Costello and Estelle Marx in the leads, now nearing completion.

That was not looked for, but was nevertheless welcomed, except into the making of the Flying A drama, "A Touch of Love." Vivian Rich, on horse back, was being pursued by Harry Von Meter. The scenario called for her to fall from the galloping horse to the ground, but it did not ask her to fall under the feet of Von Meter's horse and narrowly escape being trod upon. But the unexpected is what happened, so the picture gained a unique thrill.

The location of the kidneys, close to the small of the back, renders the detection of kidney trouble a simple matter. The note of warning comes from the back. The kidneys become overtaxed and on last Tuesday one of his dogs had a litter of pups, every one of which was born with muscals. Ouch!

Anne Schaefer, of the Western Vitaphone company, located at Santa Monica, is collecting cancelled postage stamps, and wishes to thank all the fans who have sent some to her. Miss Schaefer tries to make personal acknowledgments of every contribution, and is glad to explain the worthy purpose to which these apparently worthless bits of paper are put.

A marriage, with the contracting ones standing on a steel girder on the twelfth story of a skyscraper in course of erection, and a fight in a cistern a hundred and fifty feet below the surface of a densely populated section of the city are the thrillers in "The Man Who Couldn't Beat God," a Broadway Star Feature with Maurice Costello and Estelle Marx in the leads, now nearing completion.

That was not looked for, but was nevertheless welcomed, except into the making of the Flying A drama, "A Touch of Love." Vivian Rich, on horse back, was being pursued by Harry Von Meter. The scenario called for her to fall from the galloping horse to the ground, but it did not ask her to fall under the feet of Von Meter's horse and narrowly escape being trod upon. But the unexpected is what happened, so the picture gained a unique thrill.

The location of the kidneys, close to the small of the back, renders the detection of kidney trouble a simple matter. The note of warning comes from the back. The kidneys become overtaxed and on last Tuesday one of his dogs had a litter of pups, every one of which was born with muscals. Ouch!

Anne Schaefer, of the Western Vitaphone company, located at Santa Monica, is collecting cancelled postage stamps, and wishes to thank all the fans who have sent some to her. Miss Schaefer tries to make personal acknowledgments of every contribution, and is glad to explain the worthy purpose to which these apparently worthless bits of paper are put.

A marriage, with the contracting ones standing on a steel girder on the twelfth story of a skyscraper in course of erection, and a fight in a cistern a hundred and fifty feet below the surface of a densely populated section of the city are the thrillers in "The Man Who Couldn't Beat God," a Broadway Star Feature with Maurice Costello and Estelle Marx in the leads, now nearing completion.

That was not looked for, but was nevertheless welcomed, except into the making of the Flying A drama, "A Touch of Love." Vivian Rich, on horse back, was being pursued by Harry Von Meter. The scenario called for her to fall from the galloping horse to the ground, but it did not ask her to fall under the feet of Von Meter's horse and narrowly escape being trod upon. But the unexpected is what happened, so the picture gained a unique thrill.

The location of the kidneys, close to the small of the back, renders the detection of kidney trouble a simple matter. The note of warning comes from the back. The kidneys become overtaxed and on last Tuesday one of his dogs had a litter of pups, every one of which was born with muscals. Ouch!

Anne Schaefer, of the Western Vitaphone company, located at Santa Monica, is collecting cancelled postage stamps, and wishes to thank all the fans who have sent some to her. Miss Schaefer tries to make personal acknowledgments of every contribution, and is glad to explain the worthy purpose to which these apparently worthless bits of paper are put.

A marriage, with the contracting ones standing on a steel girder on the twelfth story of a skyscraper in course of erection, and a fight in a cistern a hundred and fifty feet below the surface of a densely populated section of the city are the thrillers in "The Man Who Couldn't Beat God," a Broadway Star Feature with Maurice Costello and Estelle Marx in the leads, now nearing completion.

That was not looked for, but