While engaged in hanging a picture a Pittfield man noticed that one of his eyes was not "seeing well." He applied several tests and, obtaining no relief, reported to his wife. She advised him to consult an oculist immediately, and upon examination the oculist pointed out that one of the lenses of his glasses had dropped out and with its restoration all was again.

You Don't Have to Pay the Long Price for WASSON'S Remedies

WALK IN COMFORT

No need for you to discard those shoes that hurt. Buy a box of WASSON'S FOOTSORE POWDER For 20 cents.

Dust it freely into your shoes and you will find quick relief. Footsore Powder is the best foot powder obtainable. It is a combination of powerful antiseptics with fine talcum, and is delicately perfumed. Its regular use will stop profuse sweating and kill the odor of perspiration.

For swollen, aching feet use our FOOT BATH POWDER, 10c. pkg. It costs nothing to use WASSON'S Remedies. Money back if not satisfactory.

THE FUNDS

Mayor Frank yesterday afternoon received the sum of $1,000 from the municipality of the county of Restigouche for the Belgian relief fund. He characterized it as "a very fine gift."

The following additional donations are hereby acknowledged by the Retail Merchants Association for the big picnic and Red Cross field day to be held at Crystal Beach on July 22, 1915: T. McAvilly & Sons, set ivory carvers; F. A. Johnson, ladies' umbrellas; Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., box Pure Gold products; P. S. Thomas, one pair ladies' silk gloves; H. G. Sansom, one 5-pound box chocolates; W. A. Porter, one 5-pound box chocolates.

A number of wholesalers have been interviewed and state that they will close their stores on Thursday afternoon to attend the picnic.

A Quick Diagnosis

A youthful physician had been summoned as a witness in a case which depended on technical evidence and opposing counsel in cross-examination asked several sarcastic questions about the knowledge and skill of so young a doctor.

"Are you," he asked, "entirely familiar with the symptoms of concussion of the brain?"

"Yes."

"Then I should like to ask your opinion of a hypothetical case. Were my learned friend, Mr. Banks, and myself to bang our heads together, should we get concussion of the brain?"

"Mr. Banks might."

Testators are able to bring forward the unanswerable argument for their cause that all British naval victories have been won on water.

THE AUGUST PICTORIAL

Pictorial Review for August contains everything in literature and articles that will stimulate even the most jaded reader. The attractive cover design is followed by a complete novelette, a real old-fashioned love story, "The Monk from Manhattan," by Margaret Belle Houston, with illustrations by Lester Ralph. Then comes the concluding installment of the serial, "One of Fane's Little Days," by Eleanor Hallowell Abbott with illustrations by P. J. Monahan. Under the heading of short stories appear: "The Story of a Hungry Heart," by Lily Josephine Lewer, illustrations by Robert Amick; "Treadable Impulse," by William Hamilton Osborne, illustrations by Walter Tittle; "On Her Own Ground," by Helen Van Cauwen, illustrations by Alfred E. Orr; "The Eyes of the Past," by Owen Johnson, illustrations by Herman Pfeiffer; "Resonance of Obedience," by William Arthur Brown; "All at Sea," by Isabel Ostrander, illustrations by John Newton Howitt; "His Artistic Temperament," by Arthur Powell.

Special articles include the prize-winning letters in the contest for the best definition of the word "Home." Here are published seven letters from well-known American writers whose definition of the word "home" should be read by every man and woman who is interested in the word's definition. There is no more significant word in the entire English language than "home" and these women analyzed and defined the true meaning of this word in a more thorough way than it has ever been done before. Under the same heading appears Lewis Edwin Trevis' article on "The High Cost of Dying."

The cookery department contains two timely articles, "Cold Comforts for Very Hot Days" by Harriet Hubbard Curtis and "Use a Plank in Cooking" by Lily H. Wallace. Under the heading of embroidery and fancy work and fashions of the month appear numerous practical articles of which the following few were picked at random: "New Luncheon Lids," "Embroideries for Personal Wear," "Popular Designs for Silk and Linen Dresses," "Smart Suits and Coats for Travel, Dress and Outing," "Fascinating and Picturesque are the Midsummer Styles," "Fashionable Versions of the Separate Skirt and Waist," "Correct Sports and Outing Styles for Young Girls," and "Juvenile Fashions of Unusual Charm."

The newest of London's 600 railway stations, is staffed entirely by women. The domination of man is not altogether avoided, for there is a station-master. A typist, a dressmaker, a clerk, and a waitress are among the staff.

RESULTS OF SAVING.

Once Well Started, Your Pride Will Not Allow You to Stop.

A friend of mine said to me the other day: "Do you know what income you'd have if in 1894 you'd begun to save $5 a week, put that amount regularly in a savings bank which pays 4 per cent and compounds the interest twice a year?"

"No," I said, "do you?"

"Yes, I do," replied my friend. "You'd have a steady income from your savings of $5 a week, and you'd have a capital of $7,800."

"Well," I argued, "I couldn't have begun to save $5 a week in 1894—I was still in school and not earning anything."

"When could you have begun to save that much?" he persisted.

"Oh, about five years later than 1894," I said.

"Well, you're far from being a gray-beard; and yet if you'd begun to save $5 a week as soon as you were able, by the year 1915, while you are still young and vigorous, your savings would be handing over to you the sum of $5 a week as long as you lived, even if you remained content to keep them in the bank, which

A White Rug made Black—with Mosquitoes

The following is an extract from a letter recently received from the wife of an army officer in India: "Our home was simply swarming with millions of mosquitoes last hot weather, and after burning a handful, or tin, of the powder on an open stove and shutting up the entire room, thousands literally fell down on the floors and tables. In the drawing room alone we had a white felt rug which became black in a few hours, the insects by hundreds laying dead on it."

The powder above referred to is Keating's Powder, and the experience, although somewhat remarkable, is not unique, for it is a fact neither flies or mosquitoes can exist when exposed to the fumes of Keating's Powder. Where open stoves are not available it is quite easy to clear a room by simply using a candle and an ordinary shade holder, placing on the round part of the shade a piece of flat tin, pouring the powder on top of it, and leaving it to smoulder.
