

GIVES UP WORK AT TOMB OF KING TUT

Carter Peaved at Egyptian
Attitude—Wonderful
Sight Disclosed.

Luxor, Feb. 12.—Owing to what he characterized as the "discourtesy" of the Egyptian Public Works Department, Howard Carter, head of the excavation work, closed Tutankhamen tomb today and abandoned operations.

It is understood the crisis was precipitated by the refusal of the Egyptian Government to permit the wives of the excavators to visit the tomb today.

Secrets of Solid Gold.

By general consent of those present the mummy-form case which indubitably encloses the King's mortal remains, immutably surpasses in splendor and beauty even the previous magnificent treasures the excavators in this tomb have brought to light.

The mummy case is perfectly intact. It is described as one of the most wonderful things of its kind that ever has been found. The Pharaoh is represented in high relief, covered with sheets of solid gold, more than twice life size, his serene and beautiful face exquisitely incised, with gleaming eyes, all in high relief, covered with sheets of solid gold. The face and sceptre which the King grasps in his crossed hands are of gilded wood more than twice life long. From the waist down the broad wings of protective goddesses stretch across the knees to shield the Pharaoh from danger.

The Lid Is Lifted.

When the lid was raised the mummy case was found to be covered with three thicknesses of linen, browned with age. This linen when rolled up disclosed to the bewildered eyes of the excavators, as one of those present told the correspondent, "a gleaming golden man." The mummy case stands in a coffin on what seems to be a wooden shelf on which doubtless priests dragged it to the valley of the Kings.

The King was shown wearing the "headdress" or folded headress seen on the Sphinx and in the centre of which the gleaming eyes of argentine, strangely and eerily life-like, a slender, finely curved nose, an exquisite carved sensitive mouth, and a chin adorned with the traditional beard.

Beneath the crossed arms down the front of the case runs the traditional prayer for the King, together with his two new familiar cartouches, one with the name of Tutankhamen and the other with his official title Raskheperuech.

Taylor Has Not Seen Its Equal In 75 Years

"I never thought I would give a testimonial for a medicine, but I am going to make an exception in the case of Tanlac, for I have never come across its equal in all the seventy-five years of my life," is the precise statement of James W. (Jim) Taylor, 26 Rock St., St. John, N. B., one of the best known and respected men of this city.

"Twenty years ago my kidneys had me just about knocked out. Pains in my back were so severe I could not bend over or the other or get up from my chair. Between my kidneys and shattered nerves I got very little sleep and as I had gradually grown worse for four years I had become discouraged and blue.

"Five bottles of Tanlac put me on my feet in such good shape that I feel forty years younger than I really am. I never have an ache or a pain and feel fine."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

SUGAR PRICES

Adv. advance of 25 cents a hundred pounds in the United States sugar market was reported this morning, but so far this jump has had no effect on the Canadian prices. Five increases totaling 50 cents a hundred have been made in Canadian prices already this month, the last one being a 10-cent rise last Saturday afternoon, bringing the wholesale rate in St. John to $10.05 a hundred pounds. Two other advances of 10 cents each and one of 20 cents had already gone into effect in February.

Believe Skeleton That of Abbot

London, Feb. 12.—While digging for the laying of drains in connection with a new school hospital at Battle Abbey, the excavators have found a well-preserved skeleton at a depth of eight feet. The remains were found in the church of St. Martin, founded by William the Conqueror, and are thought to be those of a former abbot.

Brent Gibson, a colored man, was found dead in his residence in Chapel Street early this afternoon. He is said to have been alive and apparently well a few hours before his body was found. The police were notified and summoned Constable Kennedy.

FIVE ROOMS AT
$45 GIVE PROFIT

Metropolitan Life Charges
That in N. Y. for Apartment Houses.

New York, Feb. 11.—The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has just spent $7,500,000 to demonstrate that the high rents asked in apartment houses are purely artificial.

The company has erected in Brooklyn, N. Y., a series of apartment houses containing 2,128 apartments, which are rented, heated, for nine dollars a month, with the bath-room thrown in free. Thus, for $45 a month a five room apartment, containing kitchen, dining room, living room, two bedrooms and a bathroom, can be obtained.

Refrigerator System

The apartment houses are situated in an excellent residential section. They are fitted with every modern convenience. Hot water is available every hour in the day or night, and a refrigerator is supplied free to every apartment. Gas stoves and set tubs are included with the kitchen. Every room is an outside room with plenty of light and air. The finish and conveniences cannot be matched except in $150 a month apartments in other sections.

Build to Make Money

The apartment houses are not philanthropic enterprises. They are built to make money for the insurance company. Yet the company finds that $9 a month a room gives them ample profit.

These houses were built at a time when building materials and wages were at the highest.

TAKES FIT IN STREET.

About 7.30 o'clock last evening a young man fell in a fit in Charlotte street near the entrance to the market. The ambulance was called and he was conveyed to his home. Later reports were to the effect that he had recovered.

Alkali in Shampoo
Bad For the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Do not use any shampoo or anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, which is pure and greaseless, and is better than anything else you can use. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. It leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

When You Say Hello, You Tell The Other Fellow to "Go Chase a Wolf"

Cleveland, Feb. 12.—Telephone company executives have been seeking for a long time to have subscribers stop using the word "Hello" in responding to telephone calls. For reasons of courtesy, time-saving and efficiency, they have been striving to have the recipients of telephone calls merely announce his or her name or firm and then listen to the caller.

Possibly they will receive greater co-operation from subscribers by reason of the fact that entomologists have just announced that "Hello" really means "Oh, go chase a wolf."

According to these entomologists the derivation of the word Hello is from the cry "Au loup!" (to the wolf), used by French and French-speaking Norman-English hunters when they sighted a wolf.

The French pronounced it "A loo." The English, using the aspirate "H," made it "Ha loo." The cry has been used by hunters up to date when a fox is sighted, and by Americans, generally, as a personal salutation.

So we get "Hello" which really means "Oh, go chase a wolf," which, it must be admitted, is scarce a polite form of salutation either over the phone or personally.

RED CROSS WORK

At a meeting of the Local Red Cross this morning a donation of $10 from an unknown donor, through The Times, for a dependent soldier, was reported, and it was decided to leave this money in the hands of the president to expend.

Miss Ethel Jarvis reported that 91 Misses had been reported from January 1 to February 13, and 66 of these had been assisted by the society. It was announced that Reginald Wright had accepted the office of treasurer.

Mrs. A. Morrissey, Mrs. C. F. Sanford and Mrs. J. D. Maher were appointed visitors for the month. There was a discussion on dues, and the opinion was expressed that an effort should be made to collect these from the members.

The president, Mrs. A. Morrissey, was in the chair, and others present were Mrs. H. Lawrence, Mrs. J. H. Doody, Mrs. J. L. McAvity, Mrs. C. F. Sanford, Mrs. A. Morrissey, Mrs. R. Stetson, Miss Stetson, Mrs. F. S. White, Miss E. H. Jarvis and Miss Alice Walker.

Toronto, Feb. 12.—The Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association here yesterday decided to petition the Federal Government to impose a luxury tax of ten per cent. in addition to present tariff levies on vegetables imported into this country. Asks Vote For Water
Power Development

Quebec, Feb. 12.—The Quebec government has introduced measures for the expenditure of additional sums for water power development. Irish Population

CHIEF JUSTICE
REFERS TO LATE
JUDGE CHANDLER

Reference to the death of Hon. William B. Chandler, judge of the King's Bench Division of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick was made yesterday in the Supreme Court Chamber by the Chief Justice Sir J. Douglas Hazen at the Court in Fredericton. He said "It is with the deepest regret—a regret which is shared by all the judges of the Supreme Court of this province—that I refer to the lamented death of the Hon. William B. Chandler, an associate judge of this court, who passed away, after a brief illness, at St. John, on the 28th day of January last. He had been a judge of the Supreme Court for more than seven years, during which period he discharged the duties of his high office with ability, fidelity and learning. He commanded in the unusual degree the esteem and affection of his colleagues, the respect of the members of the Bar, and the confidence of the public, and by his death the judiciary is deprived of the services of one who was an ornament to his profession, and a learned, fair and upright judge, who brought to the discharge of his duties great qualities of heart and mind.

"What I have just said is concurred in by my colleagues, and the registrar is directed to enter this slight appreciation upon the records of the court." Reference in Alumni Bulletin.

In the Alumni Bulletin of the University of New Brunswick, reference also is made to the death of the judge who was himself an alumnus of the university. The Alumni Bulletin refers to the eminence he reached in his profession.

The Late Mrs. Honora Hurley.
At an early hour yesterday Mrs. Honora Hurley, widow of Michael Hurley, died at her residence, 9 Vauclay street. She was a highly respected resident of the North End, where she lived since she came from England nearly 70 years ago. She was a daughter of the late Michael and Mary Hurley, and was born in Bally Deloh, County Cork, Ireland, but moved to England. She is survived by one son, Isaac Hurley, of Alliston, Ontario, daughter, Mrs. Thomas Lunney of Greenhead. She was one of a family of eleven children. She was bighearted, cheerful and her kindly disposition and pleasing manner won for her a wide circle of friends, who will regret to learn of her death. Her funeral will take place Thursday morning at 8.45 from her late residence to St. Peter's church.
