TWELVE PAGES—ONE CENT

Two Men Taken In Police Investigation of Murder Of Little Sadie McAuley

ONE PROVES ALIBI AND IS RELEASED; OTHER HELD FOR PRESENT

Detectives Follow Up Many Rumors and Eliminate Certain Suspected Clues—Scene of Crime Visited by Coroner—Inquest on Friday.

The murderer of little Sadie McAuley is still at large, but hopes are entertained that before many hours he will be apprehended.

This morning Sergeant Power mapped out his campaign, which he will conduct by a process of elimination. He has scores of rumors to run down, and by following these expects to find a clue which will assist him to land the culprit in the meshes of the law.

Two young men have already been apprehended, but in one instance the suspect was able to prove an alibi, while the statement of the other is not taken on face value, but he does not answer the description and he will be detained until there is no question of his innocence.

This morning Coroner Kenney and his jury, William Craft, Daniel Jackson, George S. Springer, DeWitt Cairns, Arthur Green, William V. Hatfield and Arthur P. Bailey, went to view the scene of the crime and subsequent murders. They then adjourned to meet in the court house, Germain street, Friday evening at 8 o'clock, when an inquest will be held.

Dr. H. L. Abramson performed an autopsy on the body last evening and it is said that it is likely to disclose indications of a peculiar form of insanity in the murderer.

Following Up Rumors. All morning the detectives were busily engaged running down the various rumors. They motored to Douglas Avenue, where they interviewed a number of men working on the new pavement.

From there the detectives went to homes situated near Murray's mill, Marble Cove. They learned of a young man going to one of the houses a few days ago and getting some food.

Drawing Boundary Lines Between Poland and Germany

MEANWHILE ALLIED SUPREME COUNCIL SETS ASIDE SILESIAN QUESTION

Situation Now Seems Clearer—Greco-Turkish Matter and German Disarmament Under Discussion—Pope's Appeal May be Considered Also.

Paris, Aug. 10.—The Allied supreme council put the Silesian question, now apparently near a definite settlement, temporarily aside today while awaiting the report of the experts engaged in drawing the new boundary line between Poland and Germany in this area, agreed upon in principle between France and Great Britain yesterday.

The experts informed the council that they expected to be ready to present their conclusions, embodying the complete frontier line, by seven o'clock this evening. Thereupon the council decided that it meanwhile would discuss the Greco-Turkish situation and German disarmament questions.

In taking up the former subject the council decided unanimously to adopt an attitude of strict neutrality in the Greco-Turkish war, without interfering with trading by private firms with either of the belligerent countries.

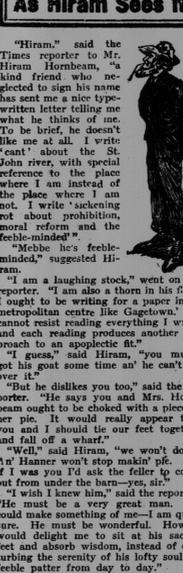

Paris, Aug. 10.—Tension over the Upper Silesian question, which was marked when the supreme council began its sessions here on Monday, appeared to be materially decreased when the council met today.

It was not expected that the experts engaged in drawing the new boundary line in Upper Silesia would be able to report at this morning's meeting, and there was a probability that the council would discuss the situation which has developed in Asia Minor as a result of the Greek offensive against the Turkish Nationalists.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram" said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "a kind friend who neglected to sign his name, has sent me a nice type-written letter telling me what he thinks of me. To be brief, he doesn't like me at all. I write 'cant' about the St. John river, with special reference to the place where I am instead of the place where I am not. I write 'sackening' instead of 'sackening'."
