An apparatus for obtaining water from the depths of the ocean has been invented in Germany. An open vessel of suitable form and size is lowered by means of a rope, and when the desired depth has been reached an electric current is transmitted through a wire that accompanies the lower rope, and this current, inducing activity in an electro-magnet attached to the apparatus, releases powerful springs, which act upon a siphon, thus including the water at any degree of depth. Some useful experiments in the determination of the carbonic acid in the sea water have been made through the agency of this apparatus.

IMPORTANT PURCHASE.—The International Iron & Steel Co. lessees of the Acadian Iron Mine, Louisiana, recently purchased the property, and have just sold it to Sir Hugh Allan, for $2,500,000. It will be rememered that the previous owners were the Acadian Charcoal Iron Co., which had bought from Charles D. Archibald & Co. This company leased it in 1865 for seven years, to the International I. & S. Co., with the option of a purchase at a certain sum within that period. The sum just obtained is only about one-half the cost of the property.

SAINT ANDREWS, AUG. 21, 1872.

Declaration Day.—On Tuesday, the Sheriff opened his Court for the declaration of the successful candidate elected to serve this County in the Dominion Parliament for the next five years.

Several persons from St. Stephen and St. George were present, but the number in the Court House was comparatively small to that on the Nomination day.

After the opening of the books from the several polling places, and the state of the Poll announced, the Sheriff expressed his thanks to the different officers for the satisfactory way in which they had performed their duties, and also to the electors, whom he said had not forfeited their claim to the character they had hitherto borne of being a law-abiding and peace-loving people.

He then gave the state of the Poll at its close: McAdam, 1551; Gillman, 1329; majority for McAdam 222; and declared Hon. John McAdam elected.

Mr. McAdam then returned his thanks to the people for the handsome support he had received, and electing him to serve them in the Dominion Parliament. That he was in duty bound to serve all parts of the County alike. He will acknowledge that he was not heretofore in his views one sectional in his feelings. He hoped they would make known their wishes to him, either personally or by letter, and that he would strive to advance the interests of the County to the best of his ability.

He was a man of deeds, not words, and used his influence to promote the prosperity of the whole County, after again thanking the electors, he sat down and closed.

Mr. GILLMAN appeared in good humor, notwithstanding his defeat, and took things philosophically. He said that he did not feel bad at all at the result of the election, but he felt assured that from the free and open expression he was the people's choice. He believed it the duty of the County to conduct an election correctly, and that it should not elect a man because he had more money at his command than another. He had ran six or seven elections, and had done so honorably; during his canvass he met several who would have voted for him if he could give them $5. He warned the electors against receiving money for their votes, it was a dangerous practice, as well as demoralizing. He would not refer to differences during the election. He explained his remarks on Nomination day, with reference to the new hotel, and commended the enterprise of the persons who projected that undertaking. He was not anti-progressive, but was opposed to extravagance in any shape, whether for railways or other public works; he would aid them as far as the public money permitted. He was deeply interested in the welfare and progress of the County.

Speaking of St. Andrews he said there was no place in the County which had made a greater effort to establish manufactures, and otherwise promote the interests of the town; the young men of the town had united together and purchased vessels to bring trade to the place. He also said if there was one spot in this County he had a warm feeling for it was St. Andrews; there had attended School, he knew the people and they had always treated him in the most friendly manner. The boys of St. Andrews had made their mark wherever they went.

If the people thought they required his services five years hence, he would be happy to serve them. He knew what the temptations in Parliament were, and had always conducted himself honorably. He suggested that in future delegates from all the Parishes should meet in St. Andrews, and there determine upon the best man to serve them in local or general Parliament. Such a course would ensure success, and the people would have the man or men they wanted as representatives.

After again thanking those men who had voted for him, he retired amid cheers.

A more peacefully contested election never was held in this County. Each side worked energetically for their man; a good many clever hits were made, but good feeling prevailed and people have settled down to their business.

The Writ for the Election of a member for the Local Legislature will be issued this week, and it is probable the Election will be held the latter end of September. There are only two candidates, Mr. W. S. Robinson and Mr. John C. Brown.

We have already given a notice of these aspirants for legislative honors, and will endeavor to give a report of their speeches at Nomination.

The Annual Festival of the Sabbath School and congregation of Greenock Church, St. Andrews, took place at Colonel Mowatt's grove on Tuesday, the 6th inst. The day proved very favorable, and a large party of parents, friends, teachers and S. Scholars, assembled for enjoyment. The young entered at once on their games, and with swings, round games, ball, &c., soon made grove and grounds ring merrily. Teachers and others were in the meantime using all diligence in preparing refreshments, and as soon as all was ready the young were called together, the first verse of the Old Hundred and the Doxology were sung, and blessing asked by the Rev. Dr. Brooke, of Fredericton, on Church and Sabbath School, and all their labors and enjoyments. Amplest justice was speedily done by all present to the good things before them, and of these there was, as always at these Festivals, enough and to spare, with an abundant distribution and welcome to all. A Cabinet Organ meanwhile had arrived and music was added to the pleasures of the party.

After a long and hearty enjoyment of the games by the young, a number of the Teachers, Sabbath scholars and friends, sang with the Organ several of the sweet hymns of the Sabbath School; when all returned to their homes in all manner of conveyances, to remember and tell with pleasure of one of the very happiest of Festival enjoyments.—Com.

From all quarters we hear of the return of Government supporters—in fact there appears to be too much a number of the Opposition elected to check any extravagance that might be indulged in—or to defeat any measure which would operate injuriously to the public interests. While rejoicing in the success of the Government, we nevertheless would prefer to see a healthy opposition. It is probable the Government majority will be larger than was anticipated.

The decision of Judge Keogh, with reference to malpractices at the Galway election, appears to have been sustained by the law officers of the Crown both in England and Ireland. The following extract confirms the statement:—

"A bishop, nineteen priests and three laymen are to be proceeded against for malpractices during the Galway election. The Government, through the Attorney General for Ireland, has announced this as their decision, the English and Irish law officers of the Crown having arrived at the conclusion that there is sufficient evidence to support a prosecution in twenty-three cases. No less than thirty-six persons were reported by Mr. Justice Keogh as having been guilty of exerting undue influence, or otherwise violating the electoral law. Amongst the number were the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Tuam, the Bishops of Clonfert and Galway, and twenty-two other clergymen. There now seems, however, to be no evidence to support the charge against Dr. McHale, Archbishop of Tuam, and the Bishop of Galway. It is also intended to prosecute Captain Nolan, who was elected, but subsequently unseated on petition, and his brother. The English press expresses doubt that convictions will ensue in any case."

A LETTER TRAVELS SEVENTEEN YEARS IN PURSUIT OF ITS OWNER.—We have been shown a letter by Mr. James McCracken, of this city, says the Ottawa "Free Press," which was mailed in the Post Office in Three Rivers, in Canada, on February 23d, 1855, and addressed by its writer Mr. James McCracken, to his son John, who had previously gone to settle in Melbourne, Australia. Ever since the year 1855 then, that is to say for seventeen years, that letter has been travelling in pursuit of its owner, and it was in that pursuit that it was received in due course through the Post Office here, by Mr. James McCracken, on Saturday last. The envelope, although faded and travel stained, was well preserved, and the Three Rivers and Australian post marks were quite legible. It was marked: "Returned to Three Rivers Post Office, from the Dead Letter Office, Australia."

A RAILWAY BRIDGE 1135 FEET LONG BUILT IN FOUR DAYS.—The Linden bridge over the Susquehanna river near Williamsport, Pa., was recently burned on a Thursday evening; workmen and materials were assembled next day, and on the following Thursday the cars were running over the new bridge, 1135 feet in length. The original bridge was of the Howe truss pattern, roofed and lined inside and out. Cost, $110,000.

SUICIDE.—The Rev. Allan McNab, a Church of England clergyman, committed suicide while in a state of mental aberration, by walking into the St. Lawrence river near the Victoria bridge, Montreal, last week. Overlook and the excessive heat are supposed to be the cause of the melancholy affair.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING ON THE ANNOPOLE TRAM.—A sad accident, which will probably result fatally, occurred yesterday afternoon about a quarter past five o'clock on the train from Annapolis to Halifax, when it was a quarter of a mile west of Wolfville. In the smoking car four gentlemen were sitting opposite each other, conversing on general matters. One of them was a man, named George Bates, a native of Bridgewater, Mass., who had been visiting Digby, and was coming to the city, and another was David McCulloch, a ship carpenter, belonging to Pictou, who had been for a long time in California and was returning home. The conversation turned on life in California and Mr. Bates, who is something of a sportsman, enquired about the game shooting of the country. In course of the conversation Mr. McCulloch drew from his pocket a pistol of peculiar character and remark that he had shot at animals with it while he was travelling in California. Mr. Bates took the pistol to examine it and after a few moments returned it. While Mr. McCulloch had the weapon in his hand it was by some accident discharged and the ball from it entered the right breast of Mr. Bates. The train arrived at Wolfville a few minutes after the accident and the wounded man was removed from the car and placed under the care of surgeons. Justice Bars, of Wolfville, having heard of the affair, took the depositions of Mr. Bates and the two gentlemen who witnessed the sad affair—all of them testifying that the shooting was accidental. Mr. McCulloch surrendered himself to the Magistrate to await further proceedings. The surgeons were unable to extract the ball and gave him the encouragement to hope that Mr. Bates would recover.—(Halifax Chronicle)

NEW BRUNSWICK is earning a reputation for producing fast horses. At the Buffalo, N. Y., races last week, in which some of the best horses in the United States competed "Crown Prince," owned by T. B. Barker, Esq. of St. John, won the race for 240 horses and a purse of $4000; he won in three heats making 2:26 1/2, 2:26 1/2, and 2:25. "Crown Prince," it will be remembered, first appeared on the Fredericton track two years ago, and also trotted at the Moosepath track, St. John, last year.

It is probable that there will be a large demand for sheep and cattle of all kinds this fall from the United States. We would venture to advise our farmers not to be tempted by large prices offered, to a reckless disposal of sheep and stock, but to be sure and reserve sufficient for their own use and for reproduction in the following year.—(Carleton Sentinel)

The Daily News says "Mr. Elder has gone to Albert County, it is rumored with the intention of offering for the representation of that constituency in the Dominion Parliament, should he be permitted to do so without opposition."

[This does not seem at all probable, Mr. Elder may have business of another nature in Albert.]

The Annual Pic-Nic of the congregation of "All Saints' Church" was held on Wednesday last, at Chamcook Mountain, and was as it deserved to be, largely patronized. The arrangements with reference to the Trains were admirable, every disposition was evinced to accommodate the numerous passengers; cars was taken of the children, and time was given to embark and disembark, reflecting much credit upon the Railway employees. While the tables were being laid, large numbers of strangers ascended the rugged steps of the Mountain, and were amply repaid by the extensive and magnificent view from its summit. The day was fine and clear, and the scenery we need hardly say was beautiful in the extreme.

Persons who have visited places of note not only on this continent but in Europe, declared "they never enjoyed a more extensive or beautiful view"—they were delighted and charmed with the "magnificent scenery." After returning to the grove at the foot of the Mountain, they were regaled at well filled tables, where luscious raspberries and cream, tea and coffee, cake of all kinds, and cooling beverages, were dealt out by fair hands. The St. Andrews Band meanwhile discoursed sweet music. The trains returned at 6 o'clock, without a single accident; and the excursionists well pleased with their days enjoyment.

During the present month our fellow townsmen will be called upon to pay their school tax. All will be willing to admit the great importance of the subject of education, and how deeply it affects the prosperity of the town. Perhaps when handed short a bill those parents who have sent their children to school irregularly, may see the necessity of their attending regularly in future.
