MR. O'CONNELL'S VOTE OBJECTED TO.
—When Mr. O'Connell was giving his vote in favour of Mr. Mullins, we understand an objection was sent up against him to the Assessor's room.
Some curiosity was excited as to the nature of it and much laughter followed when it was found to be—"That Daniel

O'Connell was disqualified from voting, by having been, within the past year, by himself and members of his family, in the reception of alms!!!" We understand the learned assessor gravely decided the that the objection did not lie against an Irish vote there being no poor law in this country—so that Mr. O'Connell's vote was allowed, and he may set this down as an advantage to balance his grievances as an alien.—Kerry Post.

Belfast Election.—Informations were yesterday (Wednesday), sworn before the bench of magistrates against William Perrie, Esq., for having sworn at, the recent election to his being still in possession and actual occupation of his house in Donegall-street, and having voted from it when it was alleged that he had surrendered the possession and removed from the house in May last. A warrant was accordingly issued, and Mr.
Perrie was admitted to bail to take his trial at the next assizes. The necessary security was given by Mr. Henry Murney and Mr. A. Montgomery.—

THE STAR

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1837.

We copy the following from a Liverpool paper, received by the LARK, at Carbonear yesterday, and have much pleasure in laying the same before the public.

"The present time is very stirring and of great importance to the political world. Lord Melbourne will resign as soon as the elections are settled, he is disgusted with the support of such men as O'Connell, and he appears perfectly aware, that it is to him and his influence that O'Connell and his party are indebted for carrying through of such absurd measures, as the Poor Law Bill, &c. &c. &c.
Hume has been turned out of Middlesex, but Dan has found him a berth in Ireland. When such joints as Hume, Ewart and Roebuck are cut off O'Connell's tail, what must Melbourne think, and what may we not expect. The Priests have been making every exertion to support rad's in Ireland,—and are not particular how far they go—but the conservatives here have made a noble stand, and have done their duty. O'Connell and Hutton are nominally returned for Dublin by a majority of 89 spurious votes. A petition will be put in, when they will, no doubt, be both turned out, with others who have been similarly elected."
