JAPAN MOURNS DEATH OF ITO

POLICY IN KOREA WILL BE CHANGED

Trial of Assassin of Statesman to Be Held at Seoul.

Tokyo, Oct. 27.—The elder statesmen and ministers of state who were interviewed to-day admitted that the assassination of Prince Ito makes inevitable a change in the policies of Japan in Korea...

"While they will not admit that its methods were wrong or too cruel, they say that the Koreans never have understood the real motive of Japan. Count Okuma, who is known as the most eloquent man of Japan, is the most silent to-day. He is overcome by the death of the prince and when pressed for a statement replied: 'I cannot speak of it. Do not ask me.'"

The extraordinary meeting of the elder statesmen and the cabinet ministers remained in session at the foreign office nearly all of Tuesday night. The effect of the assassination upon the foreign policy of the nation was discussed in great detail and it was announced positively to-day that Japan's general diplomatic course in the future will not be affected.

The newspapers here declare to-day that the anti-Japanese journalists, who have been active from time to time in Korea, are responsible for the assassination, as they inspired the Koreans to commit acts of violence against the Japanese officials in Korea.

The battleship Iwate was dispatched to-day with the imperial chamberlain and a large delegation of high officials for Darjeeling, where the body of the prince will be taken on board to be brought to Yokohama. The Iwate will reach Darjeeling next Sunday.

Tokyo is gloomy to-day and consternation prevails throughout the country. The emperor and empress are mournful and the sorrow at the assassination of the prince affects all classes of the people.

A long standing quarrel over property owned by the mother of the McMahon caused the tragedy. McMahon confessed that he killed Van Royen in a field and later went to the farm house and shot his sisters.

Although McMahon took the sole responsibility for the terrible crime, the police arrested his brother, Patrick McMahon, and a farm hand named Patrick Lamb, who are held as witnesses.

McMahon's confession followed two hours of sweating by Prosecutor Taggart and Sheriff Brecker. He finally collapsed under the ordeal and told his story.

"Yes, I killed my two sisters and brother-in-law, and I was crazy when I did it," he shouted.

"I took me three months to plan the crime. Day by day the picture of their dead bodies before me grew, and at last, two weeks ago, I saw it all. My plan was perfect. I bought a revolver in Kansas City, Mo. I did not hurry away. I was not unduly excited. It was the culmination of my only thought for months.

"I searched the house and found some rings and other valuables. I took all of them and my revolver and hid them in a cornshock.

"Later it dawned on me that I had committed a crime. I tried to keep it a secret. But hour by hour something told me that I must tell all. Now I will sleep in peace."

The confessed murderer had been severely examined by the police many times since then, but he skilfully extricated himself from the few compromising positions into which he stepped.

He was taken at one time to the scene of the murders and forced at midnight, under the glare of a searchlight, to rehearse his story. He did so unflinchingly, swearing he knew nothing of the crime. Later he offered $500 for the arrest of the murderer.

BISHOP'S SON ACCUSED OF ABANDONING WIFE

Mrs. Dumoulin Says Husband Was Too Attentive to Female Parishioners.

San Francisco, Oct. 27.—Rev. Ceall Marack, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, said to-day that he had tried in vain to reconcile Rev. Walter Dumoulin and Mrs. Dumoulin, who are bringing separate suits for divorce, the husband having started action in Seattle and the wife having fled suit yesterday in this city.

The prominence of the rector, who is the son of Bishop John Philip Dumoulin, of the Episcopal diocese of Niagara, Ont., and brother of the dean of Trinity cathedral of Cleveland, Ohio, has attracted much attention to the case.

The wife was Miss Jennie Gay, of this city, and was a member of the choir of St. Paul's church of which Rev. Mr. Dumoulin was curate, when they were married on September 19th, 1908. They lived successively in the Hawaiian Islands, Spearfish, S.D.; Holton, Mich.; Fort Morgan, Col., and in this city.

"There seemed to be such a misunderstanding that the couple could not be brought together," declares Rev. Marack, "although I conferred with them separately and spoke to them together."

Among the allegations made by Mrs. Dumoulin against her husband is the statement that he asked her to pose for a photograph of the sort "against which all her feminine delicacy rebelled." She said he told her that he had seen a picture of one of his attractive parishioners of the peculiar sort for which he wanted her to pose. She charges abandonment and non-support in addition to the assertion that her husband paid too much attention to attractive female parishioners, alleging that he arose as early as 4 o'clock to take walks with young women.

She charges that he frequently uttered the following "I don't see why I married you. Usually when a man has no money he marries a girl who can support the family."

TWO COUNTERFEITERS ARE IN CUSTODY

Men Confess Guilt and Surrender Plant to Portland Police.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 27.—Frank and George Watson, claiming to be cousins, are under arrest here to-day after confessing that they are the counterfeiters who have been passing bogus coins of small denominations throughout the city for several days. Late yesterday Sergeant Parker arrested two men on suspicion. After reaching police headquarters the men confessed their guilt and accompanied the police to their rendezvous, several miles in the country, where a complete counterfeiters' outfit was found, together with a large amount of spurious coin.

George Watson is a native of Oregon and his cousin Frank came to this country from Ireland some years ago and has spent most of that time in the United States army. Both claim that this is their first criminal experience.
