Capt. Cox Returns from the International Conference to Secure More Data.

No Settlement Yet Made, but Canadian Interests Are Being Carefully Conserved.

Captain J. G. Cox returned last evening from Quebec, where he went to represent the Victoria sealing men at the International Conference, well pleased with his visit. As to what the outcome of the conference will be, though most sanguine that having the sealers will not be left in sight of no matter what decision is arrived at, Capt. Cox cannot say, for not a single point has been yet settled in connection with any of the matters discussed by the commissioners. As to the settlement of the sealing question, the proposition that seems to be viewed with favor is that of buying out the sealers, though in this the commissioners recognize that such a step as would not compensate the sealers for the loss of their industry. There were many of those engaged in the industry who, although they had not any capital interest in the ship owners, would lose their occupation, and as many have spent years in following the seals and are dependent on the business for their living, they would have a claim for compensation should sealing be abolished. From the statements given out, although as yet no decision has been reached, it seems that such a course finds favor, but the Canadian commissioners, who, the captain says, are zealously guarding the interests of Canada from an Imperialist standpoint, will demand the reimbursement of the British Colonians for the loss of their industry. He thought the United States commissioners would probably agree to a settlement on the basis of compensation.

Capt. Cox desires to correct the misleading statements in which he is said to have gone East to sell the industry. He, as well as others interested in sealing, he said, had no wish to cease the prosecution of the industry, but the government deemed it wise to make the concession of the industry he wanted to present to see that the interests of the sealing men were not lost sight of. The other questions were the commissioners were, as in the case of the sealing question, fully discussed, but nothing had been settled and no proposition for settlement submitted. In the Alaskan boundary question, notwithstanding the Sound papers to the contrary, nothing had been done. It was a difficult subject to deal with before anything was done there was a mountainous pile of data and correspondence, dating back to the Russian possession of Alaska before the sale to the United States, to be considered. This would be a somewhat difficult question to dispose of, owing to the conflicting rights.

The Point Roberts trap trouble was discussed, among other fishery matters, and, according to Capt. Cox, the impression prevailed that it would be satisfactorily settled.

Capt. Cox is home to secure more data in regard to the sealing industry for submission at the next session of the conference, which begins at Washington on November 1st.

A TRAGIC SUICIDE.

A Worn-Out Miner Climbs on to a Sizable Burial Platform and Shoots Himself.

David Mills, of Fairview, has just returned from a several months' visit to Glenora. He says that a short time ago the second day of his visit, as a result of the rigors of the trail that the victim passed through. He did not know the name of the man, but it was reported that he came from the States. He died under very peculiar circumstances. The Indians do not have any physicians, and the only doctor on board platforms mounted on poles. The man, his clothes torn and his body emaciated, came in from the trail to Telegraph Hill, and he died in a few hours. He went up to the Indian cemetery and actually climbed on to the top of one of these sets of poles, putting an end to himself by blowing out his brains with a revolver.

Mr. Mills holds that while there have been many exaggerations, the stories of trouble on the trail have many of them been true. He knew one man who came through and had only one square meal in five days and further on was another four days without much to eat. Another had so little to eat that, having left his sonborn to a fellow trader and the latter having boiled onions with it and thus spoiled it for future use, he had very little for himself.

THE V. V. & E. RAILWAY.

A corp of surveyors under Mr. Ross are making a thorough survey of the route between Penitence and Boundary Creek, for the V. V. & E. railway. The surveyors are now working back to Camp McKinney and expect to have their work completed before winter. It is the intention of the company to ask for the provincial subsidy of $4,000 a mile. The company will claim that a survey is part of the work of construction and that the present work under the terms of the subsidy act should which bona fide construction should be commenced on or before Aug. 5th last. A similar case came up in Ontario when the Grand Trunk Railway Company demanded a subsidy, holding that surveys were part of the work of construction. The courts decided in favor of the railway company.

The V. V. & E. Company intend asking the Dominion parliament for a subsidy at the coming session. It is probable that the company will be successful.

Steamer Tacoma Arrives With a Budget of the Latest News of the Orient.

What the Press of China and Japan Has to Say of the Coup d'Etat at Peking.

A Sensational Story from Tientsin—Strained Relations at Manila—Other Happenings.

The Northern Pacific liner Tacoma tied up at the outer wharf last evening after completing another smart passage from Hongkong and Japanese ports. She sailed from Hongkong on September 17th, and after a pleasant run of three days up the Chinese coast called at Shanghai, where she stayed for some time, and then proceeded to Peking. A call was made at Moji for coal on the 23rd and on the 25th Kobe was reached. Here the Sabbath observant crew rested for a day, the work of loading and unloading not being commenced until Monday morning. She left for Yokohama on the 27th and reached there next day. A final start across the Pacific was made on the 29th and fine weather was experienced until the morning of the 31st, when a heavy gale encountered a strong southeast gale, which blew her overboard. The 12th and continued fine until port was reached. She had nine days and nine hours and 12 minutes of fair weather. Of these 47 Japanese, 13 of them women, and 46 Chinese were landed here.

Tacoma brought an interesting budget of news from the troubled East. The press of China and Japan is filled with reference to the great coup d'etat which has just taken place at Peking, in which the Chinese Emperor was deposed and afterwards, as far as could be learned from the reports of the press, the Emperor was assassinated. There are many stories to the effect that he still lives, though he has been reported to have been taken to the Empress Dowager. The first news of the upheaval was learned on September 21st, when an imperial edict was issued, directing the regent, the Prince of the regency of the Emperor Dowager. Then came the report of the illness of the Emperor, then the story of his death by assassination, and lastly the Emperor's arrest for the arrest of his former advisor, Kang Yu-Wei, head of the Reform party, who was accused of murdering the Emperor. It was reported that he was in jeopardy by the murdered Emperor, and that he was taken on board a British warship for protection. Chang Yin Hang, a fellow leader of the Reform party, was also arrested and taken to Shanghai, where he was taken on board a British warship for protection. Chang Yin Hang, a fellow leader of the Reform party, was also arrested and taken to Shanghai, where he was taken on board a British warship for protection.

Another paper commenting on the reported assassination says that while the Emperor was deposed, it is scarcely credible that he has, as stated, been murdered. No emperor of China was ever assassinated, and the dignity and sanctity of his person makes such a thing almost impossible, except in the case of a child emperor. Of course the order was ridiculed. The American at once prepared for the three months' detention, which the insurgents thinking better of it and going away themselves.

THREE DOCTORS IN CONSULTATION.

From Benjamin Franklin. "When you are sick, what you like best is to be chosen for a medicine in the first place; what experience tells you is best to be chosen in the second place; what reason (i.e., Theory) says is best to be chosen in the last place. But if you can get Dr. Inclinatio, Dr. Reason, and Dr. Experience, send a letter to the consultation together, they will give you the best advice that can be taken."

MR. WADE'S POSITION.

F. C. Wade has been succeeded as a member of the Yukon council and legal adviser to the commissioner by W. H. P. Clement, a well known barrister of Toronto, who is the author of several standard law books. A telegram to the Winnipeg Free Press says: As a result of Mr. Wade's trip of the ice to Dawson last year, he is suffering from a serious affection of the knee. When he arrived at Ottawa a short time ago the minister of the interior urged him to return to Dawson and take the new position to which he had been appointed. He did not give Mr. Sifton a definite answer for a day or two. On consulting his physician he was ordered not to return to Yukon for several months. Mr. Wade still retains his position as crown prosecutor and will return to Dawson in the spring to resume his duties, but it was necessary to fill the place vacated by him as legal adviser and member of the council.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

The argument on plaintiff's motion for a receiver in Nestlé vs. Birtcher, was heard before Mr. Justice Irving, who refused the motion. J. Peters, Q. C., and A. S. Potts for plaintiffs, and H. D. Helmcken, Q. C., and Duff for defendants.

The motion to strike out the North Nanaimo and Comox election petition, which was set for hearing today, was this morning further adjourned. It is also a like motion by Mr. A. G. McPhillips, M. P. P. for Victoria, in regard to the petition against his election by W. P. Gregg.

A cross erected to the memory of Captain, first English poet, was unveiled at Whitty by the Post Laureate.

Raised . . .

From a Bed of Sickness . . .

SINCOE, Jan. 18th, 1897.

Messrs. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Gentlemen: For over five months I was confined to my bed, not being able to move. The best medical skill was called in, but to no avail. I was in a state of great weakness, and my health was so low that I could not get up. I was in a state of great weakness, and my health was so low that I could not get up. Yours truly, could select no more effective method of making her miserable than to take his own life in her presence or in her apartment.

For a similar reason the assassinations of the Emperor would not be desirable by his enemies or his successors. In the first place the whole people would be shocked, and in the second place the most important coolies, are in perpetual and irremediable bondage to the King Shuy, the spirits of the dead, who retain their interest and activity in the affairs of the living and exercise an overpowering influence over the minds, the acts and the fortunes of men.

This is the secret of ancestral worship. It is the theory that the greater a man exercises in life the more power will have over the destinies of mankind after death. Therefore shrines are erected to great men, and their names are used in the names of the living and exercise an overpowering influence over the minds, the acts and the fortunes of men.

The Emperor is the "son of heaven; the king of kings." While he is living he is sacred, and no one except those authorized may touch him without suffering the penalty of death. People are not permitted to look upon the Emperor, and he is never allowed to address him on his hands and knees. When he passes along the streets of Peking crowds of matting are hung in front of all the houses and shops. Although there is no doubt a great deal of peeping, those who are guilty are severely punished.

It is found out. When he dies the Emperor ascends among the gods, where he retains the interest and activity in the affairs of the living and exercise an overpowering influence over the minds, the acts and the fortunes of men.

In reply General Otis said he knew nothing about any booty, adding: "If in the lungs the tubercles produce at first irritation and cough, tuberculous matter in the lungs rots the blood vessels, giving rise to bleeding of the lungs, and mixing with the circulation, causing night sweats and hectic fever. As the existence of the tubercular matter in the system may be directly referred to the poorly diseased condition of the blood, the first aim should be to enrich and purify this life-giving fluid, and with this in view, and considering that a cure for consumption and all pulmonary complaints has been discovered by that distinguished chemist and scientist, Dr. T. A. Slocum, the Slocum Chemical Company, of Toronto, will send free three sample bottles of medicine (The Dr. Slocum Cure), to any reader of this paper who is suffering from consumption, throat, or lung troubles. am assured that the imperial message only saved extreme action by two days' matters having so far advanced along a line of firm policy as that. Well, we hope for the best, but one cannot regret it if a grand opportunity to give Russia a set back for twenty years is lost through naivety on the part of one who has until lately exhibited a strength and firmness of character which have justified the loyalty with which she has been exalted. Russia is in a jam with exhausted treasury—or at least a tax on the one hand, and a famine to face on the other, and the cry of peccavi on her part is comprehensible enough, but it won't wash. From all I hear Neuchawing is only waiting the hoisting of the Russian flag. It is literally and purely in Russian hands, and we shall have a quiet appropriation there soon. The natives are showing a little spirit, and giving all the trouble they can, but I am inclined to think that that is part of the game. If Russia can only stir up something like a rebellion in that quarter, the reason for her taking Neuchawing is established. The latest news is that three foreigners connected with the railway have been killed there. They are probably Russians, and quite as probably were under painful necessity to get themselves killed so that Russia can go in for a pennyworth of "compensation" in a Germany in Shanghai.
