The Facts of the Caso

ham. Tuesday, the 24th January, at 10.30 a. m. standard time, of which public intination was made and this Sederunt was closed with the benelines. There has been a great develop-International S. S. Co. ment of railway building, and of cotton and sugar manufacturing, for instance

What should have followed from this, a large increase in our commerce, and espe ctally in our export of manufactures, has expected that with a great increase in rail way facilities our natural products would reach the sea more largely, and larger im porting would result. But this has not been the case, nor has there been the expected growth of population, nor the checking of the outflow of our people tothe neighboring country. This will be apparent when we take a few figures of comparison with the country beside un Take the grand total of our imports and

While Canadian commerce has thus declined, it may be interesting to note the Dout one and a quarton property of the two countries in the countries of the two countries in the countries of the two countries in the same two years.
