THE MARKETS.

Weekly Sun.

COUNTRY MARKET.

Butter and eggs have declined price. There is too much old bu in sight, and the market for all ki except the gilt edge article is de-pressed. It is said some grocers are retailing eggs as low as 15c per dczen and 20c is the top figure for benery stock. Potatoes have a lower range. Poor apples are about cleaned up, and those offering are higher in price. Squash is higher owing to scarcity Chickens and fowl are higher, Calf skins are marked up a little. There is a better quality of veal cffering now. Lamb is in better demand. While prices generally have had a low range there has been a fairly good business done lately in the arket.

There is no change in quotations. A few small dry cod and some Grand Manan finnen haddies were landed Manan finnen haddles were landed Monday. The gaspereaux catch fell off during the recent cold weather. Some cod are being taken off Digby, and cod and halibut off Yarmouth, but fishing in the bay is practically at a standstill just now. Bait is available at Dark Harbor pond. As re-gards prices here, while no change is noted it is a question if fresh arrivals of cured fish would realize former prices ex-vessel. The markets all round continue dull. Prices of several sorts of dry and pickled fish have declined in Halifax during the last

now coming down from the head of the bay, and large quantities have been arriving by rail for shipment to the British market. Brokers say there is nothing new to relate in regard to contracts or prices. The Bangor Com-mercial says the cut of logs is short on the Kennebec and Penobscot, and prices of logs have advanced. It further says: "Some very tempting offers were declined by several Bangor operators, because the output on the Penobscot is so short this winter that the Bangor mills cannot be fully stocked this year, and it is expected that spruce will command $12 per thousand in a few weeks. Saw mill men on the Kennebec are declining orders for Long Island Sound and New York, the places which Bangor lumbermen most desire to ship to, at an advance of $1.50 to $2 over last spring's prices," This is good news as far as it goes, John market has not yet 29th-Sch Viola, Forsyth, for ulating influence, though U S ports are increasing n advances B. ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

The citizens were surprised on Saturday to learn that early in the morning James Bond, who at one time was, connected with James Harris & Co., had attempted suicide. Mr. Bond Co., had attempted suicide. Mr. Bond has been in poor health for some time and his mind had become affected. It appears he got out of bed about seven o'clock in the morning and went to the bath room. Mrs. Bond got up a few minutes later and going to the room, found her husband had inflicted an ugly wound in his throat with a pair of scissors. She took the scis-sors from him and got him back 'o his room, and Drs. H. G. and G. A. Addy were summoned. The wound was found not to be a very serious one, and was soon closed up with a few stitches. Owing to Mr. Bond's mental condition and on the advice of the physicians, he was placed in a private ward in the asylum. Last night his condition was unchanged.
