dt is said that, when the interpellation in the Dreyfus case was coming up in the chamber of deputies, this letter was secretly communicated to the court martial and was the chief evidence upon which Dreyfus was convicted.

It is now evident that Henry forged the letter with the express object of paralyzing Col. Picquart's efforts to of expose Maj. Count Esterhazy and to set a rehearing of the Dreyfus case. The letter was written in bad French, a fact which first led it to be regarded. as spurious. It is said that, if the cabinet decides upon revision of the Drexfus case, M. Cavaignac, minister f war, will resign.

the Dufferin. The accident was recorded, and from the hotel where he stayed in this city the name of F. T. Allen was procured. After the body was recovered by Sterling Barker, Coroner Berryman was sent for, but upon his learning of the nature of the accident, he deemed an inquest unnecessary. Mrs. Allen, or Weld, was so pros-trated by the sad accident that she forgot to tell the coroner that she and her husband were travelling under another name, but when Mr. B. S. Griffing, their attorney, arrived from New York, he saw the necessity of opening up the secret in order that burial permits and undertaker's cer-tificatos should bear the dead man's proper name.

When the fact that it was another than F. T. Allen who was drowned was made known to Dr. Berryman, he, as made known to Dr. Berryman, he, as a justice of the peace, was obliged to take both Mrs. Weld's and Mr. Grif-fing's affidavits of the man's identity. This was done at the Dufferin hotel, before the remains of the unfortun-ate man were removed from this city. Mrs. Loretia B. Weld swore that she was the wife of Franklin Weld, and that the body at Chamberlain's un-dertaking rooms as Francis T.
