Y.W.C.T.U. OF RIVERSIDE

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union gave an excellent programme in the hall on Friday evening, Miss Hazel Barbour, president of the "River Ready" T's, in the chair. This organization is composed almost altogether of the girls from Mrs. Carnwall and Mrs. Bray's Sunday school classes. The hall was decorated with white ribbons. The following was the programme:

Chorus, "Happy New Year," recitation, "The Old Year," Miss Hallie Sherwood; recitation, "Help Somebody," Miss Margaret Powles; reading, 103 Psalm responsively; Lord's Prayer; chorus, "When the Call of Duty," a short talk on aims of the work, Mrs. Hetherington, provincial president; patriotic department, Miss Alberta Richardson; chorus, "For Our Valiant Soldiers, Lord, To Thee We Pray," recitation, "England Guards the Sea," Miss Zella Copey; duet, "Far Out on the Desolate Billow," Misses Hallie and Marjorie Smith; recitation, "Soldier on Crutches," Miss Emma Smith; recitation, "Tell Father I'll Meet Him," Miss Beattie Bartlett; reading, "Flower Mission," Miss Vivian Hoar; chorus, "All Round the World," temperance exercises, Mrs. Bray's Sunday school class, led by Miss Zella Copey, president of the Sunbeam "T's"; recitation, "The Bird With a Broken Wing," Miss Hazel Barbour; duet, "When Called To the Colors," Misses Beattie Bartlett and Emma Smith; recitation, "Satan's Want Advertisement," Miss Hallie Smith; recitation, "The Two Glasses," Miss Daisy Stiles; chorus, "Wind the Tilted Round the Nation," chorus, "Give Peace Again," God Save the King.

FACE NOTHING BUT RUNNING SORESFROM
ECZEMA.

No rest day or night for those afflicted with this terrible skin disease, eczema, or, as it is often called, salt rheum. With its unbearable burning, itching, torturing day and night, relief is gladly welcomed.

There is no remedy like Burdock Blood Bitters for giving relief to such sufferers; no other remedy has done, or can do so much for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture. Apply it externally and it takes out the stinging, itching and burning and promotes a healthy healing.

Take it internally and it gets at the source of the disease in the blood, and completely and permanently drives it out of the system.

Miss Mary V. Chambers, Anagnone Ridge, N. B., writes: "I used Burdock Blood Bitters for eczema. I had it when an infant, but it left me. Two years ago it came back. I used doctors' medicine, but it did good only while I used it. At last my face was nothing but a running sore. I saw in the paper what B.B.B. did for people. I took it, and today I am free from that terrible disease."

Washing Won't Rid
Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arsenic; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single alien and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arsenic at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

YOU ARE RESPECTFULLY INVITED TO EAT A LITTLE LESS.

For blizzards such as we have been treated to lately nothing could be more appropriate than this enveloping scarf which Marjorie wears with such success. She can let her fancy for brilliant colors run riot, too, for these neck wrappings come in all sorts of warm rich tones. Note also the tan like hat, so much in vogue at present.

AN INFREQUENT PERFORM-ANCE.

I cleaned the drawer in my desk at home. Today it makes a more pleasing show. But the paper found in the base of it was dated October, five years ago.

—Toronto Daily News.

COULD YOU HAVE DONE
IT YESTERDAY?

The maiden's face was fixed in an expression of deep anxiety, her eyes staring with a look of apprehension, she gazed now forward, now intently downward, each step she took calculated and meditated, every nerve strained, every faculty she possessed dominated by the one purpose—to avoid slipping on the icy streets and breaking the dozen eggs she was carrying home—eggs at eighty-five cents a dozen, too.

COASTING

Home boasted of her seven hills, but few natives of St. John have ever stopped to consider just how many hills we possess. Surely with the great number some of the hills could be made safe for children to coast upon. The number of accidents that occur nearly every winter are many of them preventable. If certain streets which could be easily spared during the coasting season were set apart for this joy of childhood.

When there is so much sorrow in the world and the playtime so short it certainly seems as if all that we can do to give the children the benefit of outdoor sports, would be too little.

TO A RED CROSS DOG

Brave dog, you share the fighting risk On fields of France, afar, Yet never for your sake is flown A shining silver star.

And find where wounded lie, Then heedless of the shell and shot You bring their succor nigh.

Were I your master, I should want To give you valor hall, And fly a comet on a flag A star that has a tale.

—M. Wilson.

A RULE OF LIFE

I bid you to live in peace and patience without fear or hatred, and to succor the oppressed, and love the lovely, and to be the friends of men, so that when ye are dead at last, men may say of you—they brought Heaven down to earth for a little while.

—William Morris.

WAR MENUS

How to save wheat, beef and bacon for the men at the front. Issued from the office of the food controller for Canada.

Menu For Thursday.

Breakfast—Oatmeal porridge, sausages, toast, tea or coffee.
Dinner—Rabbit in casserole, boiled onion, mashed potatoes, banana short-cake.

Supper—Creamed celery on toast, peanut bread, apple sauce, tea.

The recipes for rabbit in casserole and peanut bread, mentioned above, are as follows:

Rabbit in casserole—One rabbit, 1½ cup drippings or other fat, one cup hot water, two cups meat stock or thickened gravy, one tablespoon lemon juice, bit of bay leaf.

Dress the rabbit and separate into pieces at the joints. Season with pepper and salt. Cook in the fat until a golden brown. Put in a covered baker with a cup of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven about 1½ hours, then add the stock or gravy, lemon juice and bay leaf. Continue cooking in the oven about three hours.

Peanut bread—One cup lukewarm liquid, one teaspoon salt, three cups flour (more if desired), one to two tablespoons syrup, ¼ to ½ cup yeast softened in ¼ cup lukewarm water, one cup ground peanut meats.

Scald the liquid, cool to lukewarm, add the salt, the softened yeast, and let rise until very light. Then add the remainder of the flour and the peanut meats. Knead, cover and let rise until double in bulk. Shape into a loaf, cover and let rise again until double in bulk. Bake.

(Wheat and meat saving recipes by a domestic science expert on the staff of the food controller's office).

ST. DAVID'S RED CROSS

In spite of difficulties and discouragement by the loss of their own church, the work of the St. David's Red Cross Circle goes on with undiminished enthusiasm.

Meetings are held weekly, on Wednesday afternoons, yesterday's meeting having a large attendance. The circle is held in the parlors of the St. John's Presbyterian church. Lately there have been many workers from the supply from the Red Cross Depot donated, but it is hoped that the local headquarters will be able to give out many quantities as soon as the answer to their appeal for funds is made.

No loss has been held since the circle had to move their place of meeting. The large attendance and the willingness of the workers is very encouraging. Mrs. Morrison is convener of the St. David's Red Cross Circle.

GROWN UP TO SHORT DRESSES.

His (meeting wife down town)—"What makes you so late?"
"Wife—I stopped to shorten one of daughter's dresses for the party she's going to tonight. I can hardly realize that she's quite grown up now."

Girls! Try This on Your Hands!
Make a Lemon Beauty Cream

Juice of lemons clears, softens and whitens the skin. Prepare a wonderful complexion lotion for a few cents!

"It seems that every girl and woman who is making lemon lotion," says a well known druggist, and the reason is because at the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream they can prepare a full quart of a creamy lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in. Then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman has known for years that lemon juice is used to

QUEEN SQUARE
THEATRE OPENS
TO LARGE CROWDS

The New Five Cent House Proved Attractive—Thousands of Patrons Are Well Pleased—Promises to be Popular Resort.

Yesterday afternoon marked the opening of the Queen Square Theatre on Charlotte street, and the attendance at the different shows, both afternoon and evening, augurs well for the support the "nickel" is to receive from the theatre goers.

Robert Armstrong, the genial proprietor, was the recipient of many congratulations by the patrons. Fully 1,200 people were in attendance yesterday. Five complete shows were produced and at the last show the number of people in the house made up a fairly large audience.

Recently remodelled and thoroughly renovated the Queen's Rink makes a splendid playhouse. The decorative scheme used in the interior is plain yet attractive. Probably the greatest accomplishment in the fixing up of the rink for a play house is the splendid heating system. Comfort seems to have been the watchword with the contractors, and it will be found in all sections of the house.

Mr. Armstrong told The Standard last night that it was his intention to provide the best film possible for the patrons, and to charge but five cents and no more. The photographic apparatus is one of the most modern in use.

A noteworthy feature in connection with the welfare of the patrons is the attention paid to the location of the exits in case of emergency. There are in all six exits in addition to the main door, and they all enter upon wide hallways which open up on Charlotte street.

The programme last evening was featured with a Mutual film, "Please Help Emily," and was in five parts in addition several other splendid pictures were screened.

THE TRANSPORTATION
DIFFICULTY FELT BY FILM AND THEATRE MEN

Train Delay Often Causes Disappointment—Close Booking in This Territory—Patrons Follow Serials Closely.

Transportation difficulties are worrying many people nowadays, but there is one business which has suffered very much and that is the theatre managers of motion picture houses and the film exchange men.

Owing to the recent storms and cold weather many of the trains have been greatly delayed. In this territory the films are very closely booked up, a and on the Stage—Favorites and What They Say and Do.

serial running one or two days in one town, then contracted for in the next place for the following day. A delay is fatal in such cases, and those devoted followers of the stalwart hero or the leathery defying maiden who does so many stunts and always escapes have to go disappointed. Comedies are put in to fill up the vacant place of the serial, but the patrons refuse to be cheered or consoled by the trifling antics of even their favorite when they came prepared to find out what happened next.

It comes very hard sometimes when a big special picture has been booked and heavily advertised—the train is late, perhaps from some other town and connections cannot be made. Then the wires are hot from manager to exchange—it is really no one's fault and apologies are in order to patrons who do not seem able to realize that it is no one's fault and there is trouble all round.

In normal times there is very little if any lack of connection, but things are different today and it often means the exchange man must go himself to the early or late trains and do all he can to be sure of the delivery of his film.

So when a picture is not shown as advertised the audience must remember there is a war on. Precious freight of foodstuffs or other things of necessity to the Empire must take precedence of films, though they also have their place of value in supplying that amusement which is almost an essential in these times of stress.

STAR

"The Book Agent"
George Walsh looks as if he had taken to heart the advice of the song so popular just at present and packed all his troubles in his old kit bag. He certainly obeys the injunction of the chorus and smiles, smiles, smiles. He not only smiles all through this production "The Book Agent" where he is called "Smiling Kelly," but he makes the audience smile with him. He has several good fights in which he shows that he is not to be laughed at alone. He has a very delightful manner of making straight, for wherever he wishes to go and bumping over all the obstacles in the way.

The story tells of his adventures and his love affairs. There are many amusing situations, especially where Kelly runs into an objectionable person, has a fight with him, knocks him out, and then offers to sell his victim a book on the "manly art of self-defence."

There is a girl's boarding school episode which in other hands might have been what these girls' boarding school episodes often are, but with George Walsh and Doris Pawn it is just plain funny.

The picture made a decided hit.
