The Dominion police force has been now doubled since the outbreak of the war, owing to the necessity of the careful guarding of the parliament buildings at Ottawa, and the requirements of the frontier service. There are now 382 men on the Dominion police force, as compared with 119 in July last.
The cost of the service to the country is about $25,000 per month.

YUNET CHARGES
WITHOUT PRECEDENT

Petrograd, Feb. 10.—Details of a dramatic and desperately contested fight in the Ispahan Mountains in which the bayonet charges are described as most ferocious and without precedent in history, reached Petrograd today.
According to these reports repeated attacks on the part of German troops were repeatedly repulsed by the Russians, and the German dead lay in great numbers in front of the Russian positions. The Russians are described as enormous, and under the fighting was waged with the utmost ferocity by Germans and Russians alike.
The scene of the fighting was at Ball-ah, which is thirty miles south of Sam-ara in Galicia. German troops were present in very considerable numbers. It is very semi-officially by the Russian press that the Hungarian forces in the Carpathians have been augmented by 50,000 Germans, and that German officers are now definitely directing the Carpathian movement.
The German plan, insofar as it can be served here, now seems to be to advance gradually their aggressive on the Carpathians, and in the Vistula region, and to offer their troops to points where there is greater opportunity of placing Russian defensive. The fighting in the Carpathians would appear to be a part of this procedure.

COND LINE FOUGHT
ER FALLEN FIRST.

concentrating their forces the night of Feb. 7 the Germans, after the following night, began what doubtless rapidly developed into one of the fiercest attacks in the history of the Carpathian campaign. With their first line almost totally annihilated, the Germans pushed forward their second line, under the cover of heavy artillery, and were successful in gaining a strategic elevation. But in this position they were almost immediately driven back by a Russian bayonet charge. Attack and counter-attack followed each other in rapid succession, towards evening the Germans, in numbers, seemed to be in permanent possession of the heights.
When a general counter-attack by the Russians resulted in two hours of hard hand-to-hand fighting, which left the war-torn hillsides strewn with dead, a most stubborn resistance the German regiments finally were definitely driven out. A Russian officer claims personally to have counted upwards of 1,000 men dead before the Russian position on this hill. He described this encounter as typical of the battles which were occurring daily in the Carpathian mountains.

Retail Merchants Organize.

London, N. B., Feb. 9.—(Special) Business men have made a move to be the betterment of the local merchandise conditions in deciding to form a branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada. Last night a special meeting was held at the court house, and Mr. McDonald, organizer of the Retail Merchants of Canada addressed the meeting with a telling appeal for the branch of the association.
After Mr. McDonald had explained the object of the association, and what it had done for the benefit of the merchants in the past, all the merchants signed the association and decided to act in hand the other retailers of the dominion.
B. Smith, of Hibernia, was elected president, and himself a wholesaler, congratulated the merchants of the town on the move they had made, and said that wholesalers would interfere in the business of the retailer and looked upon the association as the basis of their success.
The meeting was adjourned until next Friday at 8 o'clock in order to enable the merchants of the town before the officers.

The Hidden Worth.

(Edgar A. Guest, in Detroit Free Press.)
To know a fellow well:
You've got to learn what's deep within.
His words to really tell.
The outside doesn't mean a thing.
It's nothing but the case, A sort of airproof covering That keeps the heart in place.

Don't ever judge him as he looks.
It is a foolish plan,
You wouldn't do it with your books, Nor should you with your eyes.
For underneath the roughest skin And back of all you see, The chilling frost, or idle grin, The warmest heart may be.

You've got to dig beneath his vest To know a fellow's worth.
Man isn't always at his best,
In public scenes of mirth.
And what a fellow seems to be Where all his deeds are known, May not be what he is, when he Is standing all alone.

I know some men that others pass Indifferently by Because their rough outside, alas, Do not attract the eye.
And yet full many a silent deed Of kindness has come From them, who strangers only read As brothers cold and grim.

To know a fellow well.
You've got to know what's deep within The most indifferent shell.
Of kindness he comes And know him at his best Unless you've had a chance to scan What's underneath his vest.

The Spring Campaign.

(Montreal Star).

When spring comes we look for a general advance, with numbers new troops on our side at every point to the field. The Russians will then gather in fresh force to free Poland finally and forever from the devastating invader—the French will hurl their huge reserves upon the German lines still scouring and destroying their fair country—the British will have Kitchener's new army ready, with its share of Canadians, and we shall show what we can do when we begin to fight.

WILD TALK OF
WILLIAM BROTHERS
LANDING HIM IN JAIL

Tuesday, Feb. 9.

A threat that he was going to "spill more blood than all the buccaners that ever sailed the Atlantic," followed by a boast that he had two revolvers in his possession, caused the police last night to search for William Brothers, who was discovered with two 38 calibre revolvers, with all chambers filled, in his possession. Needless to say he spent the night in a cell at central police station.

County policeman John Saunders reported to central police station that a man had threatened to kill Mary Romberly, who lives out the Golden Grove Road, because she would not give him one of her belongings which she clomped.
He came to the city and last night in a restaurant in King square, a man overheard his bloodthirsty remark about Buccaners and reported him to the police.

Five minutes later Policeman Armstrong was on the scene of William Brothers in custody. He and Policeman Saunders took him to central station and he was placed in a cell. He protested that he had done nothing wrong, and that the revolvers were only for his protection. He is charged not only with carrying concealed weapons but also with threatening to kill Mary Romberly.

Brothers, it will be remembered, was arrested by the police about a year and a half ago for wandering about in the woods at Loch Lomond, and creating people with a revolver. He later spent some time in the provincial hospital.

A Grand Falls Drug Company.

Fredericton, Feb. 10.—Harry S. Wade, of Perth (N. B.); Frank A. Wade, and Dr. Lorenzo Chapman, of Grand Falls (N. B.), are applying for incorporation as Wade Brothers, Limited, with an authorized capitalization of $9,900, and head place of business at Grand Falls.

done by the senior officers of the bat-with a critical eye and at the close of the parade when the companies are re-holds little lectures of about half an work of the day. This revision fighting their battles over again, by the officers is considered by them to be the best course of instruction that they have yet been able to get. For the companies it is also the best possible drill, for they are put through conditions that resemble actual fighting as much as can be.
