Boers Pressing Pretoria.

British Officers Killed.

DeWET STOPPED; AND FIGHTING.

MORE MOUNTED MEN FOR SOUTH AFRICA

Botha With 1500 Men.

SECOND CANADIAN CONTINGENT TO SAIL FOR HALIFAX.

The Boers have achieved another success in South Africa. It is of no very great importance, but carries with it the sad loss of Col. Legge and two British Captains. The fight has been at Noutgedacht, only 22 miles from Pretoria, and the Boer Commandant in charge, has fully 2,800 men. Gen. Clements, who has lost the three officers mentioned above, other casualties are not known, is so hard pressed, that he has asked for reinforcements. Lord Kitchener has sent Gen. French with his mounted men, to assist Clements. London is very much excited over this fighting, especially from its close proximity to Pretoria, and because of the casualties to well known London Regiments in the battle.

From Reddersburg comes better news. It is said that General Knox has stopped General DeWet, and that the latter will have to fight. The report in London is that a battle still continues, and that DeWet, this king of guerilla leaders, has been brought to bay. If so, we do not fear the result; but if DeWet has not been stopped in his course, matters are serious in this part of the Orange State, and will be so, until this skilled leader is overthrown.
General Louis Botha is reported to be near Standerton with 1500 men. Mounted Infantry have been ordered to South Africa at once from Aldershot and Malta.
The Second Canadian Contingent will sail almost immediately from Cape Town for Halifax.

CIRCLING THE GLOBE.

Karl Creelman, who is bicycling around the world, heard from in India.

Mr. Geo. J. Barrett received to-day a postal card from his friend, Karl Creelman, of Truro, N. S., who is making a bicycle tour around the world and earning his expenses as he goes. The card was written at Benares, India, which is 500 miles from Calcutta, on Nov. 13th. Creelman was then in hospital, where he had been for two weeks suffering from malarial fever, but was convalescent and hoped to soon resume his journey. From India he intended going to South Africa, and asked that letters be addressed to him at Capetown.—Fredericton Gleaner, Dec. 11.

The missionary meeting in the Hall of First Presbyterian church, last night, was most interesting. The object was for missionary work in Corea. Rev. J. W. Falconer gave an illustrated "Talk" on the North West. The choir rendered good selections, and Miss Yorston added much to the evening's entertainment by some most acceptable readings. This young lady is invariably appreciated when she kindly consents to favor the public with her readings.

The Metropolitan Rink was opened last night with an immense crowd of skaters. The ice was good, and the band in great form. Other entertainments, both of public and private nature, suffered, as the general cry was, "ho for the Metropolitan," and young and old, male and female, the fellow with his "best girl," and the fellow without a girl, were there in full force. We only know of one self-sacrificing youth in the whole town, who remained away, because his idol was also absent through indisposition.

William Boulton, a wealthy, but wicked druggist in Nottingham, Eng., deserted his wife, and ran off, away to Victoria, B. C., with the wife of a friend. A few days ago, Mrs. Boulton appeared on the scene in Vancouver, and gave her husband such a tongue lashing on the street, that, to escape it, he threw up his hands, and fell over on the pavement, dead. The doctors say he died from fright—or to speak less technically, he was talked to death.
