

This handsome and imposing building, which stands in its own grounds 160 acres in extent, is situated just outside the town of Ramsgate. Replete as it is with every modern convenience, and with many rooms measuring over 60 feet in length, it is peculiarly

ST. LAWRENCE COLLEGE,
The latest addition to the family of splendid Canadian Hospitals at Ramsgate.

adapted to its present purpose. The swimming bath measures 75 feet long by 32 feet wide, and in addition there are up-to-date gymnasiums and cricket and football grounds. Of course in a modern hospital for the wounded these latter are recognised as almost as essential as the doctors and nurses themselves.