

Chairman Zoeteman praised by Peoples'

The mammoth parking lot behind HUB will be renamed "Beloved Former Comrade Chairman Len Zoeteman Automobile Park," Students' Council decided today.

In a special meeting to honor the outgoing president, councillors voted unanimously to change the name of the parking lot from "Zone X." A plan to make the Stadium Car Park "Zoeteman Park" was rejected, as councillors thought two parking lots with the same name would confuse them.

Every third stall will have dayglo pictures of Zoeteman, council decided, including some depicting him as a Taoist mystic and others of the former chairman emerging nude from gaily-colored lotus blossoms.

Many of the stalls will be paved with marble, inscribed in lapis lazuli with quotations from Keats, Byron, Shelley, Mailer, and Gibran, selected by a committee of English professors.

Controversy has already arisen, however, with some professors angrily resigning because Blake quotations will not be included.

Council hopes to achieve the transformation for a minimal cost of $3.3 million dollars.

Hot licks from radioland

CKSR staffers proudly announced Tuesday the acquisition of their latest in the pop rockies, "Hot Whispers and You." Displaying the album Local Action! That's the Way I Like CKSR director Gordon Turtle, with programming personnel, explained his station is interested in bringing music to the people in "what better way than through the lowest common denominator?" Turtle said his station plans to do away with the present musical selection and opt for a CHED-type Moffat programming. "Repetitive lyrics and a simple rhythm are the key," Turtle explained. "Don't you know what I mean, oh yeah, yeah, yeah, oh yeah?"
